Mission Statements

University Mission Statement

Emory University's mission is to create, preserve, teach, and apply knowledge in the service of humanity.

To fulfill this mission, the University supports the full range of scholarship, from undergraduate to advanced graduate and professional instruction, and from basic research to its application in public service. While being a comprehensive research university, Emory limits its academic scope to those fields in which, by virtue of its history and location, it can excel. Hence its academic programs focus on the arts and sciences, business, law, theology, and the health professions. These disciplines are unified by their devotion to liberal learning; by cooperative interdisciplinary programs; and by the common pursuit of intellectual distinction.

The Emory community is open to all who meet its high standards of intelligence, competence, and integrity. It welcomes a diversity of ethnic, cultural, socioeconomic, religious, national, and international backgrounds, believing that the intellectual and social energy that results from such diversity is a primary asset of the University.

In keeping with the demand that teaching, learning, research, and service be measured by high standards of integrity and excellence, and believing that each person and every level of scholarly activity should be valued on its own merits, the University aims to imbue scholarship at Emory with

- A commitment to humane teaching and mentorship and a respectful interaction among faculty, students, and staff;
- Open disciplinary boundaries that encourage integrative teaching, research, and scholarship;
- A commitment to use knowledge to improve human well-being; and
- A global perspective on the human condition.

The University, founded by the Methodist Episcopal Church, cherishes its historical affiliation with the United Methodist Church. While Emory's programs are today entirely nonsectarian (except for those at the Candler School of Theology), the University has derived from this heritage the conviction that education can be a strong moral force in both society and the lives of its individual members.

College Mission Statement

The scholarly mission of Emory College involves research and creativity, teaching, and service.
As an institution dedicated to intellectual discovery and creativity, Emory College is charged both with generating new knowledge and with inventing new ways of understanding what is already known. Faculty, administrators, and students cooperate to expand the boundaries of the known through

- research and experimentation,
- creation and performance,
- publishing the results of their efforts for the general advancement of learning and the betterment of the human prospect.

As a teaching institution, Emory College imparts to its students the kinds of knowledge that traditionally compose a broad liberal education:

- practical skills in critical thinking and persuasive writing, in mathematics and computation, in a foreign language;
- a basic familiarity with modes of inquiry proper to natural science and mathematics, to the social sciences, and to the arts and humanities; and
- a mature command of at least one discipline or field of concentration.

Through instruction that aims to be the symbiotic complement of research, Emory College prepares its graduates to live an active life of the mind, aware of their responsibilities to assume a part in the intellectual leadership of the nation.

As an institution responsive to the various communities of which it is a member, Emory College acknowledges a commitment to service in its local community, in the national and international academic community, and in the nation as whole.

Each aspect of this threefold mission must be carried forward in an atmosphere of intellectual and moral integrity, one of habitual regard for the ethical dimensions of research and creativity, teaching, and service.

College Statement on Diversity

Emory College of Arts and Sciences is committed to valuing difference and ensuring that the students, faculty, staff, and administrators are diverse in ethnicity, gender, religion, philosophy, sexual orientation, and physical ability. At the same time, we are unified in the goal of achieving academic excellence, preparing for life and work in a global society. We strive to offer multicultural and gender-balanced education in the curriculum, instruction, and services that address learning and physical disabilities and support for staff and faculty development.

University Environmental Mission Statement Precis

We, the Emory University community, affirm our commitment to protect and enhance the environment through our teaching, research, service, and administrative operations. We seek to foster a community that sustains ecological systems and educates for environmental awareness, local action, and global thinking. We seek to make environmentally sound practices a core value of the University.
Emory College of Arts and Sciences combines the personal concern of a small, liberal arts college with the rich diversity of a major, urban university.

The oldest and largest division of Emory University, Emory College of Arts and Sciences has provided instruction in the arts and sciences to talented, highly motivated students for more than 165 years. Today its faculty of some four hundred offers more than twelve hundred courses to nearly five thousand students drawn from every section of the United States and many foreign countries.

The College offers students off-campus opportunities to participate in a wide range of internship programs or to study abroad, including the Bobby Jones Scholars Program with St. Andrews University in Scotland.

Emory College of Art and Sciences resources are enriched by those of Emory University, a research university comprising

- Oxford College, a two-year college located in Oxford, Georgia;
- the Graduate School of Arts and Sciences;
- and the schools of business, law, medicine (including the allied health programs), nursing, public health, and theology.

Most members of the college faculty also teach in graduate or professional programs. Emory University is a community of scholars where undergraduates, graduate and professional students, faculty, and staff benefit from the presence of each other as well as from the presence on or near campus of the - United States Centers for Disease Control and Prevention,

- The Carter Center of Emory University and the Jimmy Carter Library and Museum,
- Yerkes National Primate Research Center, and
- the national headquarters of both the American Cancer Society and the American Academy of Religion.

Emory is expanding its international programs and opportunities to rise to the challenge of globalization. This effort underscores the University’s conviction that a liberal arts education in the twenty-first century must embrace global perspectives and enhance cross-cultural understanding. Emory is committed to training its students to pursue their professions and live their lives in a world that is fast becoming a global neighborhood. Emory College requires courses on foreign language and international and comparative issues; the other schools have strong international and global components in their curricula. A growing number of international scholars are teaching and conducting research at Emory; professors from Emory are pursuing scholarly research and service abroad, and their students gain from their experiences, insights, and broadened perspectives. The enrollment of international students is rising. Emory faculty and students are participating in The Carter Center action programs in developing countries. Mutually beneficial linkage agreements with foreign universities present challenging opportunities. Substantial new funding is stimulating exciting initiatives in global education.

Emory College offers a variety of study abroad opportunities through exchange agreements, Emory study abroad programs, and programs run by other institutions. While earning direct Emory credit in most academic disciplines, students can study in most parts of the world, including: Argentina, Australia, Austria, Bolivia, Botswana, Brazil, Chile, China, Costa Rica, Czech Republic, Egypt, France, Germany, Greece, India, Israel, Italy, Japan, Kenya, Korea, Namibia, Portugal, Russia, South Africa, South Pacific, Spain, Turkey and the United Kingdom. The Center for International Programs Abroad advises students about studying abroad and works with college faculty to develop and administer academic year, semester, and summer study abroad programs designed specifically for Emory undergraduates.

Among the centers for specialized research and study at Emory are the Graduate Institute of the Liberal Arts; The Carter Center of Emory University; the Emory Center for International Studies; the Center for Ethics in Public Policy and the Professions; the Center for Research in Faith and Moral Development; and the Michael C. Carlos Museum. Independent affiliates include the National Faculty of Humanities, Arts, and Sciences and the Georgia Humanities Council.

To qualify for baccalaureate degrees, students of Emory College must fulfill distribution requirements that ensure both basic competency in essential skills and a general knowledge of each of the major areas of human inquiry, and they must fulfill major requirements that ensure a command of the area of inquiry of most interest to them. Since these requirements permit flexibility and also reserve a substantial portion of each course of study for free electives, students work with faculty and student advisers to fashion programs that fit their individual interests. In this way Emory not only prepares students to face demanding tasks and complex problems but also introduces them to the full range of human achievement and aspiration in the hope of deepening their most searching questions and intensifying their resolve to attain their life goals.

To encourage full participation in its programs, Emory College encourages students to partake of an active residential life on campus. The college’s commitment to campus residence reflects its conviction that largeness of mind and spirit may be learned in dormitories and concert halls, on stages and playing fields, as well as in classrooms, laboratories, and libraries. Students are, therefore, encouraged to participate in cocurricular activities that range from lectures, colloquia, and symposia, to concerts, exhibits, and plays, to intercollegiate and intramural sports, to scores of social clubs, civic organizations, and religious groups.
Although the college faculty is deeply committed both to discovering knowledge through scholarship and research and to communicating it through teaching, it also values informal interaction with students through advising programs and cocurricular activities. Students who become members of the Emory community should expect, therefore, to meet challenges in a variety of contexts and to learn from other students as well as from the faculty and staff.

Members of the college also join members of other divisions of the University in bringing distinguished guests for comprehensive symposia or consultations on themes of common interest. The Carter Center of Emory University regularly sponsors major consultations. Topics have focused on the Near East, national health policy, arms control and international security, reinforcing democracy in the Americas, global health, the Middle East, and women in the Constitution.

Surrounded by a hilly residential section of Atlanta called Druid Hills, the Emory campus combines natural beauty with historic interest. Peavine Creek, a branch of Peachtree Creek, winds through the campus. Flowering shrubs—azaleas, dogwoods, and redbuds—abound; and towering trees—magnolias, maples, oaks, and pines—provide shade. Several buildings on the main quadrangle are listed in the National Register of Historic Places, and several markers on the campus commemorate historic events.

A few miles south and west of the campus, the center of Atlanta bustles with activities stimulated by government, business, and transportation as well as research, education, and culture. A contemporary city of energy and charm, Atlanta has increasingly gained national and international prominence. This was highlighted by its selection as the host of the 1996 Olympic Games. It is the home of some twenty colleges and universities, including Agnes Scott College, the Atlanta College of Art, Clark Atlanta University, the Georgia Institute of Technology, Georgia State University, Morris Brown College, Morehouse College, Oglethorpe University, and Spelman College. Several professional sports teams are based in the city. Opera and theater have been strong since the opening of DeGive’s Opera House in 1893. Today Atlanta’s Woodruff Arts Center includes the High Museum of Art and the Alliance Theatre as well as the Atlanta Symphony and Chorus.

Located more than one thousand feet above sea level, Atlanta offers four distinct seasons. A few hours north of the city, students hike on the Appalachian Trail, canoe and raft on the Chattooga, Chestatee, and Hiawassee rivers, or ski on Sugar Mountain. East and south, they swim and sun on the coasts of South Carolina, Georgia, and Florida. Through organizations such as Volunteer Emory, the college encourages students to explore the city of Atlanta and the region surrounding it and to contribute to the lives of other people—its hope being that the education and the lives of all of its students will be enriched both by their human and civic concerns and by their work and play.

Emory University is accredited by the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools Commission on Colleges to award associate, baccalaureate, master's, doctorate and professional degrees. Contact the Commission on Colleges at 1866 Southern Lane, Decatur, Georgia 30033-4097 or call 404.679.4500 for questions about the accreditation of Emory.
A Brief History of Emory University

Cor Prudentis Possidebit Scientiam: "The wise heart seeks knowledge." -Emory University motto, Proverbs 18:15

In 1836, when the Cherokee nation still clung to its ancestral lands in Georgia, and Atlanta itself had yet to be born, a small band of Methodists dedicated themselves to founding a new town and college. They called the town Oxford, linking their little frontier enterprise with the university attended by the founders of Methodism, John and Charles Wesley. The college they named Emory, after an American Methodist bishop who had inspired them by his broad vision for education that would enhance the character as well as the mind of men and women.

From its beginning, Emory has sought to preserve and carry forward the ideals of the nineteenth-century public spirit out of which Emory and other colleges had their beginnings. These ideals owed much to the peculiarly American blend of hope for a perfect future, democratic conviction about the importance of individuals, and progressive reform of educational curricula. That philosophy has shaped a university that aims to nurture moral imagination as well as critical intellect and aesthetic judgment.

On December 10, 1836, the Georgia legislature granted a charter to Emory College, named for the young Methodist bishop John Emory, from Maryland, who had died in a carriage accident the previous year. Not until two years after the chartering would the College open its doors, and on September 17, 1838, the College's first president, Ignatius Alphonso Few, and three other faculty members welcomed fifteen freshmen and sophomores. They hailed from as far away as Charleston, South Carolina, and they included a future Emory president, Osborn L. Smith, and a future member of the faculty, George W. W. Stone.

In retrospect, the mission of the nineteenth-century college appears to have been to rein in the spirit as much as to expand the mind. Certainly that was true at Emory. Students had to be in their rooms during study hours and could not go beyond the town limits more than a mile without the president's consent. Signing their names into the Matriculation Book, the earliest students bound themselves to obey the "Laws and Statutes of the College." Despite the watchful attention of their "guards," students often found ways to work up enough mischief for the faculty to put them on probation, even to expel them. Covington, an apparent seedbed of temptation, provided the allure of taverns and traveling shows.

Other social outlets proved more harmonious with the academic tenor of the campus. Two principal venues for student gatherings were Phi Gamma Hall and Few Hall, named for the two literary societies that brought students together for sharing meals, preparing their lessons, and talking about matters of the intellect. A keen competitiveness developed between the two societies, leading to a tradition of debate that permeated the campus, and laying the groundwork for Emory's national preeminence in debate-a tradition carried forward since 1955 in the Barkley Forum.

Athletics, too, has had an important place at Emory for well over a hundred years—although Emory has never played intercollegiate football and still proudly proclaims, under the emblem of a football on T-shirts, "Undefeated Since 1836." For many years, going back to the presidency of Warren Candler in the 1890s, Emory prohibited intercollegiate sports. His principal objection was the cost of intercollegiate athletics programs, the temptation to gambling, and the distraction from scholarship. Candler was not unalterably opposed to athletics, however. During his presidency he oversaw the creation of the nation's first model intramural program. In spirit the program made it possible for every student to participate in athletics, and this possibility became at Emory a guiding principle—"Athletics for All."

In time, the Board of Trustees modified its position on intercollegiate sports by reaffirming the ban on major sports—football, basketball, and baseball—but allowing the possibility of competition in others. Soon Emory was competing in soccer, swimming, tennis, track and field, and wrestling, and in 1985 Emory helped to found the University Athletic Association, a league of Division III members that stresses academics first. Emory's intercollegiate programs regularly rank among the top ten NCAA Division III programs in the country and graduate more academic all-Americans than any other university in Division I, II, or III.

For the first half-century of its life Emory struggled for existence, clinging to a tenuous financial lifeline. When war broke out between North and South in 1861, every student left to fight, and the College's trustees closed the College for the duration. When Emory reopened in January 1866, three faculty members (including President James Thomas) returned to a campus whose buildings had been used for military hospitals and whose libraries and equipment had been destroyed.

By the turn of the twentieth century, Emory's curriculum had evolved from a traditional liberal arts program dependent on rote memorization and drill, to become broad enough for students to earn degrees in science, to study law or theology, and even to pursue learning and expertise in technology and tool craft. President Isaac Stiles Hopkins, a polymath professor of everything from English to Latin and Math, had launched a department of technology that struck the fancy of state legislators, and soon enough they were luring him away from Emory to become the first president of what is now the Georgia Institute of Technology.

Still, the sleepy little town of Oxford offered little advantage to a college whose trustees might have their visions set on higher aspirations. By happenstance, the road from Oxford to Atlanta was paved by Vanderbilt University. In 1914, following a protracted struggle between the Vanderbilt University Board of Trust and the bishops of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, over control of the university, the church severed its long relationship with Vanderbilt and made plans to create a new university in the Southeast. Asa Candler, the founder of The Coca-Cola Company and brother to former Emory President Warren Candler, helped the church decide that the new university should be built in Atlanta. Writing to the Educational Commission of the church on June 17, 1914, Candler offered $1 million and a subsequent gift of seventy-two acres of land.

Emory College trustees agreed to move the college to Atlanta as the liberal arts core of the university. Those seventy-two acres, about six miles northeast of downtown Atlanta, lay in pasture and woods amid Druid Hills, a parklike residential area laid out by landscape architect Frederick Law Olmstead, the designer of New York City's Central Park. Within a year marble buildings were under construction out in the Druid Hills, and within four years-by September 1919-Emory College had joined the schools of theology, law, medicine, business, and graduate studies at the University's muddy new campus.

The course of Emory's history changed dramatically and forever when, in November 1979, Robert Woodruff, an Emory alumnus and former Coca-Cola chairman, and his brother, George, transferred to Emory $105 million in Coca-Cola stock (worth nearly one billion dollars in 2005). At the time the largest single gift to any institution of higher education in American history, the Woodruff gift made a profound impact on Emory's direction over the next two decades, boosting the University into the top ranks of American research universities. In the quarter-century since, Emory has built on its considerable strengths in the arts and humanities, the health sciences, and the professions, through strategic use of resources.

The small community of scholarship founded in Oxford has grown, but Emory's growth in research has in no way diminished the insistence on great teaching by the faculty. The 1997 report of the University Commission on Teaching reaffirmed Emory's historical emphasis on the high quality of teaching at all faculty levels and in all schools and recommended various means of support to ensure the perpetuation of this great tradition.

Since September 2003 the University has undertaken to refine its vision for its future and to develop a strategic plan for how to get there. The Vision Statement calls for Emory to be "a destination university internationally recognized as an inquiry-driven, ethically engaged, and diverse community, whose members work collaboratively for positive transformation in the world through courageous leadership in teaching, research, scholarship, health care, and social action."

This vision harmonizes with Emory's heritage, which has blended the pursuit of truth with a commitment of service to the wider community. As summed up by Emeritus Professor James Harvey Young in an earlier history of Emory, the University has sought, throughout its life, "to make the chief ends of teaching and learning not simply the advancement of scholarly knowledge and professional expertise but also the cultivation of humane wisdom and moral integrity." True to this commitment, Emory continues to shape an education for the twenty-first century that will enable the wise heart to seek knowledge for service to the world.

Requirements

Each year Emory College enrolls a first-year class of approximately 1,350 students. For admission, an applicant must be a secondary school graduate (unless applying under the Early Admission Program) with at least sixteen acceptable units of academic work; must be recommended by the high school as possessing good character and strong academic potential; and must present competitive scores on the examinations of the College Entrance Examination Board (CEEB/SAT) or American College Testing Program (ACT with writing). Emory strongly recommends a rigorous secondary school course of study that includes the following: 1. Four years of English, with much practice in writing. 2. Three or four years of mathematics, including at least two of algebra and one of geometry for all students, and an additional year for all students intending to concentrate in science or mathematics. 3. A minimum of two years of a foreign language, and preferably three or four. 4. Two or more years of history or social studies, including the history of a country or region other than the United States. 5. Two years of laboratory science, except students intending to concentrate in science or mathematics, for whom three or more years are recommended. 6. An introduction to music and art. Although the college regards the program above as highly desirable, it understands that some secondary schools provide limited opportunities, and it is more concerned with a student's overall achievement, strength of curriculum, and promise than with the specific accumulation of credits. Emory does not accept the G.E.D. for high school graduation credit.

Regular Decision Plan

Regular decision candidates should apply in the fall of their senior year, but no later than January 15. Standardized testing should be completed by January 15. Regular decision applicants may be admitted, waitlisted, or denied. For decision release date and deposit deadline, see the table of dates above.

Early Decision Plans

Students who have selected Emory as their first choice and who wish to receive an admission decision early in the year may choose one of two early decision options. A student may apply to only one college or university early decision. A candidate who is accepted by Emory is expected to enroll, provided the student is offered adequate financial aid for which he or she qualifies as determined by the Office of Financial Aid. Students must adhere to financial aid filing deadlines in order to be reviewed for financial aid eligibility. Students applying for a merit scholarship should carefully evaluate the early decision options. Final Emory Scholars selections are made after early-decision deposit deadlines. To be considered in the first round of early decision, candidates must apply and all standardized testing must be completed by November 1. To be considered in the second round of early decision, candidates must complete all standardized testing apply by January 1. Candidates in round one may be admitted, deferred to regular decision, or denied. Candidates in round two may be admitted, wait listed, or denied. For first- and second-round decision release dates and deposit deadlines, see the table of important admission dates. Both early decision rounds are binding. Early decision students who decide to enroll at Emory must withdraw all other college applications at the time of deposit.

Campus Visits
Group FOCUS sessions, which include a presentation and question/answer time with a professional staff member, are typically available Monday through Friday. FOCUS sessions are also available on select Saturdays during the academic year. Please see http://www.emory.edu/admission to schedule your visit at least two weeks in advance to ensure session availability. We encourage you to schedule your session prior to making travel arrangements. Campus tours are available in conjunction with FOCUS sessions. The office can also provide you with information about hotels in the Emory area. The summer schedule varies greatly; please call the Office of Admission or go online for details.

Joint Enrollment with Emory College

The Joint Enrollment program is an option for high school students in the Atlanta area who wish to take college courses at Emory while jointly enrolled in high school. These students must have completed the junior year in their secondary school and must follow the same admission procedures as candidates for regular admission. The deadline to apply is June 15 during the summer between your junior and senior years. All applicants must complete testing prior to June 15 and must submit scores from the Scholastic Assessment Test (SAT I) or the American College Test (ACT) with writing. Home-schooled students also must submit results from three SAT Subject Tests: Mathematics and two subjects of your choice. Joint Enrollment students are limited to one class per academic semester.

First-year Students with Advanced Standing

Currently enrolled high school students may receive college credit for courses taken jointly in an approved program of study at any fully accredited college or university. The college credit must not have counted towards meeting high school graduation requirements; the course must be a regular college course taught by a university, college, or junior college in which regular college students were also enrolled (not a course taught in the high school strictly for high school students). Students must earn a grade of C or better to receive advanced standing credit or exemption. An official transcript reflecting credit and grades must be received from the accredited college or university. (See also "Residence Requirements.") Entering students who have college credit they would like to have evaluated for transfer credit must complete and return the Request for Approval of Transfer Credit/Exemption form. This form is sent to all incoming first-year students in Emory College.

Home-schooled Students

In addition to submitting the results of the SAT I or ACT (with writing) examinations, home-schooled students are required to submit three SAT II subject tests. The required tests are math, and two of the student’s choice. A letter of recommendation from someone other than a family member is also required. Home-schooled students need to submit a concise but comprehensive explanation of their curriculum.

Early Admission Program

Early Admission is an application option for high school juniors. Academically exceptional students who wish to enter college after completing the eleventh grade may apply for the Early Admission plan. Candidates are expected to complete all requirements of regular admission by the stated deadlines, as well as meet the same standards of eligibility. Please note that the most successful Early Admission candidates are those who have completely exhausted their high school’s advanced curricular offerings.
International Applicants

International Applicant Policy

If you are an international applicant, please be advised that you must be able to verify the requisite funding for your educational expenses while at Emory. You may contact the Office of Admission to obtain the appropriate forms. In addition, please instruct your financial institution to forward documentation as to monies available (i.e., certified bank statements or letters of financial verification). The documentation is required by United States Department of Homeland Security regulations concerning student visas (F-1).

International applicants must submit evidence of sufficient ability to read, write, speak, and understand written and spoken English. Every student whose native language is not English is encouraged to take the Test of English as a Foreign Language (TOEFL) administered by the Educational Testing Service, P.O. Box 6151, Princeton, New Jersey 08541-6151 (www.toefl.org). Official results of this test should be sent with the application, or as soon as possible thereafter. A score of 600 (paper version), 250 (computer version), or 100 (Internet version) is recommended on the TOEFL. International students seeking admission to Emory University must present outstanding school records and must possess sufficient command of written and oral English to profit from university instruction conducted in English.

Emory University has a mandatory health insurance requirement for all University students (domestic and international). Under this requirement, students must either purchase the Emory Student Health Insurance Plan or show evidence of enrollment in a comparable United States domiciled health insurance plan. If the student has not waived out of the Emory plan by the deadline date, he or she will be automatically enrolled in the Emory plan and billed via the bursar.

For information regarding the health insurance plan for students offered by Aetna/The Chickering Group and endorsed by Emory University, help is available by calling 404.727.7560 or by visiting our website at www.emory.edu/UHS (click on “Fees/Insurance”). Our Emory/Aetna student health insurance plan has no preexisting condition limitations or exclusions.

Transfer Applicants

Emory welcomes transfer applications from students attending two-year and four-year accredited institutions. Students may be admitted as transfer students for their sophomore or junior year. Transfer students may be admitted at the beginning of either the fall or the spring semester, or in the summer term.

For details on how to apply, visit the Admission site.

Transfer application decisions are rendered on a rolling basis, and typically take two to three weeks after an application is complete. Please note that the admission committee reserves the right to request final semester grades, which can delay the decision process and subsequent notification.

Requirements

Applicants who have attended another college must have withdrawn voluntarily from the college last attended and must be eligible to return to that institution. Emory College does not accept students who already have an undergraduate degree. Official transcripts must be submitted from the student’s high school and from each of the colleges previously attended; transcripts sent by the applicant cannot be accepted without verification. Evaluation of college transcripts for credit transfer will occur only after acceptance. Applicants must also submit scores on the SAT, given by the College Entrance Examination Board, or on the ACT, administered by the American College Testing Program. Applicants must also submit a recommendation from a faculty member. High school transcript(s) and SAT/ACT/TOEFL scores can be waived only if a student has over 50 hours of college credit on a college campus or has been out of high school for more than five years. Request for these requirements to be waived need to be e-mailed to admission.processing@emory.edu.

Academic Credit

Up to sixty-four semester hours of work taken elsewhere may be credited toward a degree from Emory College, provided the course work is bona fide college-level work in academic subjects available to students in Emory College and provided that a grade of C or better is earned. Even though all courses taken elsewhere are considered in planning the student’s program, the student must spend a minimum of four semesters in residence in Emory College (see “Course Load and Residence Requirements”). Transfers students must take a Freshman Seminar if they have not completed a full year of course work at another college or university. Academic credit or Advanced Placement obtained prior to enrollment in Emory College must be transferred to Emory College by the end of the student’s first semester at Emory. Academic departments in Emory College reserve the right to determine the amount of transfer work, if any, that can be applied to major or minor requirements, and transfer applicants are therefore advised to consult with the department in which they plan to major or minor prior to enrollment at Emory.

Academic Credit from Professional Schools

Students transferring to Emory College from one of Emory’s undergraduate professional schools may receive up to sixteen semester hours of credit, provided the credits have not already been used to complete another degree program.

Application

Completed application forms should be submitted by November 1 for spring term, April 1 for summer term, and June 1 for fall term.

Transient Students

Emory welcomes applications from transient students as well—students who wish to enhance their studies at their home institutions by enrolling at Emory for one or two semesters. As a transient student, you are not admitted into an Emory College degree program but your credits here may count toward your degree program at your primary place of study. Though there are many reasons for transient status, often a transient student is here only for summer school. Please click here to apply for Transient status.

Residence Credit

With the approval of the dean, credits earned on visiting status may be applied toward a degree in Emory College should the student later be admitted as a transfer student. However, the time spent on visiting status may not be applied toward the four-semester residence requirement for a degree in Emory College.
Re-admission

We welcome applications from prior students.

After withdrawal or absence for one or more semesters, except summer, any student who was in good academic standing at the end of his or her last prior semester of enrollment is eligible for readmission.

Special conditions apply for students who were on academic probation when they left or who withdrew for health reasons (see Cancellation and Withdrawal).

To initiate readmission a student must submit a readmission form, which may be obtained from Emory College’s Office for Undergraduate Education, and, when completed, returned to the same office. Students will be permitted to pre-register for the semester for which they are readmitted, provided the request for readmission is received at least one month before pre-registration begins.

Readmission does not carry with it the awarding of transfer credit for work done at another college or university while a student is away from Emory. To receive credit for such work, the student must reapply to Emory as a transfer student (see above).

For readmission after withdrawal for medical reasons, the Office for Undergraduate Education may consult with officials of the University Health Service or the University Counseling Center.

Financial Aid

When Emory admits you as a student, it means we fundamentally believe not only in your accomplishments to date but also in your potential long after you leave here. That's why we are committed to meeting 100 percent of demonstrated financial need for all accepted students. No one should have to give up their goals and dreams because financial challenges stand in the way.

The fact that 60 percent of our undergraduates receive financial aid demonstrates our ongoing commitment to making an Emory education affordable to those students who have worked so hard to get here.

Emory is committed to awarding aid based on financial need determined by a thorough review of each family's circumstances. In addition to need-based aid, Emory offers some merit scholarships to both entering and continuing students.

More detailed information on the programs and requirements for financial aid is available on request from the Office of Financial Aid.

Need-based Financial Aid

Your education may be the most important investment you and your family ever make. It is an investment and a commitment that will pay off for the rest of your life. While the responsibility of paying for an Emory education lies with you and your family insomuch as you are able to pay, we want to help you acquire the education you deserve and we offer an array of programs toward that end.

Many Emory College students are able to meet the costs of an Emory education with various types of financial assistance, including grants, scholarships, loans, and employment, all of which are administered by the Emory University Office of Financial Aid.

Need-based financial aid is available to US citizens and permanent residents. To be considered for financial aid, a student must be admitted to Emory College and must complete the Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA) and the College Scholarship Service PROFILE form. Parents and students will also be asked to submit supporting documents (such as federal tax returns and W2 forms) to the College Board’s Institutional Documentation Service, IDOC. The FAFSA, PROFILE, and other documents are then analyzed to determine the financial strength of the family and the applicant's eligibility for assistance. To be given priority consideration for all types of financial aid, an applicant should submit the FAFSA and PROFILE to the processor by February prior to fall enrollment (see the financial aid site for exact deadlines). The PROFILE, FAFSA, and parent and student tax returns, all schedules, attachments, and W2s must be received in the Office of Financial Aid by a spring deadline prior to fall enrollment. Application and award information are available from the Office of Financial Aid, Boisfeuillet Jones Center, Emory University, Atlanta, Georgia 30322; telephone 404.727.6039 or on the web at www.emory.edu/FINANCIAL_AID/.

Final Semester Seniors - Underloading and Financial Aid
Seniors in their final semester may underload – enroll in less than 12 hours. To remain eligible for need-based aid, students must take 6 or more hours in the final semester. Student taking under 6 hours will have their awards cancelled, and receive $0 in need-based aid for the semester. Tuition charges are prorated based on hours enrolled, and grant aid will be reduced accordingly. Stafford/private loans are not adjusted and remain the same for 6-12+ hours enrolled. Adjustments are made to merit scholarships only if needed to keep the scholarship within the cost of tuition. To remain eligible for merit aid, students must enroll in 1 or more hours. Aid will be automatically adjusted after add/drop/swap to reflect the specific hours of enrollment.

Emory Advantage

Emory Advantage is Emory University's financial aid initiative to help students from families with annual total incomes of $100,000 or less who demonstrate a need for financial aid. The program reduces the amount of money borrowed to pay for an undergraduate Emory degree.

The Loan Replacement Grant (LRG) replaces loans for dependent undergraduate students whose families' total annual incomes are $50,000 or less. Grants replace Federal Subsidized Stafford Loans to cover expenses including tuition, room, and board. The eligible grant amount represents the student's self-help portion normally given in the form of a loan.

The Loan Cap Program (LCP) caps cumulative Federal Subsidized Stafford Loan debt at $15,000 for dependent undergraduate students whose families' annual total incomes are between $50,000 and $100,000. With the Loan Cap Program, students receive a standard financial aid award for freshman and sophomore years. This award could include federal or state aid, institutional loans or grants, or Work-Study. After a student has accrued a total of $15,000 in Federal Subsidized Stafford Loans while enrolled at Emory, grants will be provided to cover any remaining need-based funding incurred through degree completion.

To learn more, go to http://www.emory.edu/FINANCIAL_AID/emory_advantage/.
Grants | Financial Aid

A grant is gift assistance that does not have to be repaid.

Emory College offers several institutional grants that are based on financial need.

Eligibility is determined on an annual basis and students must complete the PROFILE and FAFSA forms by published deadlines each year. To be eligible, students must maintain satisfactory academic progress and demonstrate continuing financial need. In addition to institutional need-based grants, students may be eligible to receive federal grants such as the Pell Grant and the Supplemental Educational Opportunity Grant.

Georgia residents may also be eligible for Zell Miller Scholarships, HOPE scholarships and Tuition Equalization Grants. Residents of other states should contact their home-state student aid agencies about financial aid programs that can be used for attendance at Emory.

Employment | Financial Aid

A federal work-study award must be earned on an hourly basis and you get paid twice monthly.

Financial aid awards typically include federally supported student employment, which can take place on campus or off campus in the Atlanta area. Income earned in the federal work-study program is part of a student's financial aid award, although it is paid directly to the student in the form of wages.

Other student employment is available that is not based on need.

The Office of Financial Aid maintains a directory of job opportunities to assist students interested in obtaining part-time employment that is not based on need. You can view a list of available job opportunities online at www.emory.edu/FINANCIAL_AID/student_employment.

Loans | Financial Aid

Low-interest federal loans must be repaid after you are no longer enrolled at least half-time at a postsecondary institution. Financial aid awards usually include at least one type of student loan. Federal Direct Stafford Loans are the most common form of student loans. As students progress through school maximum annual loan amounts increase.

Scholarships for Prospective Students

Emory’s Office of Admission offers merit-based scholarships to incoming first-year students who are selected as part of the prestigious Emory Scholars Program.
Other scholarships are available through Martin Luther King Jr., debate and music programs. If you receive an Emory scholarship, it is renewable for four years of undergraduate study, provided you maintain high standards of personal and academic excellence. In addition to any scholarship, you may also be eligible to receive other financial aid based on additional demonstrated need. Your total aid from all sources may not exceed the cost of attendance.

All scholarships through the Emory Scholars Program are awarded solely on the basis of outstanding merit, without regard to financial need, race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, national origin, age, disability, or veteran’s status. Recipients of merit-based scholarships are not precluded from receiving other financial aid based on additional demonstrated need (see Need-based Financial Aid).

You may obtain additional information regarding merit-based scholarships and admission to Emory College at admission@emory.edu or by calling 800.727.6036 or 404.727.6036.

Atlanta Public Schools Scholarships

Emory awards Martin Luther King Jr. Scholarships and Benjamin E. Mays Scholarships each year to outstanding students from the Atlanta Public Schools.

Students who receive these scholarships demonstrate outstanding character through:

- contributions to their communities,
- intellectual and personal vigor,
- high academic achievement,
- leadership qualities and
- the potential to enrich the lives of their peers here at Emory.

If you are interested, seek nomination through your high school guidance/college counselor. As many as ten candidates may be nominated by each school. We mail nomination forms to the Atlanta Public Schools in early fall and the nomination form and your complete application for admission must be submitted by November 1. For more information, call the Office of Admission at 404.727.6036 or email admiss@emory.edu.

Martin Luther King Jr. Scholarships

The Martin Luther King, Jr. Scholarships—open to all ethnicities—are awarded each year to outstanding students from the Atlanta Public Schools whose qualities of mind and spirit promise outstanding contributions to society. Scholarships are for eight semesters of undergraduate study at Emory College of Arts and Sciences in the amount of:

- full tuition and fees,
- University room and board, and
- any additional need, as demonstrated by the College Scholarship Service PROFILE.

Interested students should seek nomination through their high school guidance/college counselor.

For more information, call the Office of Admission at 404.727.6036 or email admiss@emory.edu.
Benjamin E. Mays Scholarships

The Benjamin E. Mays Scholarships, honoring the distinguished educator and community leader who served for many years as president of Morehouse College in Atlanta, are awarded in conjunction with the selection process for the Martin Luther King Jr. Scholarship and provide a two-thirds tuition award.

Interested students should seek nomination through their high school guidance/college counselor.

For more information, call the Office of Admission at 404.727.6036 or email admis@emory.edu.

Alben W. Barkley Debate Scholars

Named after former United States vice president and Emory alumnus Alben W. Barkley, the Barkley Forum is Emory’s nationally recognized, award-winning debate team.

The Barkley Forum, in conjunction with the Emory Office of Admission, awards a merit scholarship to an incoming first-year student each year, renewable for four years of undergraduate study.

To be considered, you must demonstrate academic achievement and debate excellence. Submit your application directly to the Barkley Forum and Emory’s dean of admission. The information required on the application includes:

- your current cumulative GPA,
- standardized test scores and
- a record of debate accomplishments.

For more information, call the Barkley Forum at 404.727.6189 or email the Barkley Forum.

Courtesy Scholarships

One of the popular benefits available to Emory faculty and staff is the Courtesy Scholarship Program for employees and their children, spouses and same sex domestic partners. Depending on the employee's years of service, the program covers 50%-100% of tuition for their children's undergraduate education. Applications are available from the

Human Resources Office 1599 Clifton Road, NE Atlanta, GA 30322 (404) 727-7611

Dean's Music Scholarship

Each year, Emory’s Department of Music offers several half-tuition Dean’s Music Scholarships to incoming first-year students who show exceptional promise in their applied areas of music. If you wish to be considered for one of these scholarships, you must first meet all admission requirements for Emory College. You also should plan on majoring in music, as this scholarship is not applicable to those minoring in music.

All audition students are considered for the scholarship and you do not have to submit any additional paperwork. Should you receive a music scholarship, you will be notified in April. For more information about the awards or about the audition process, call the music department at 404.727.6445 or email music@emory.edu.

Emory Scholars Program

Each year Emory offers scholarships to a highly select group of incoming first-year students and invites them to join other outstanding Emory students in the Emory Scholars Program. Recipients of the various awards described here are chosen entirely on the basis of merit. They receive scholarships renewable for four years of undergraduate study, provided they maintain high standards of personal and academic excellence. Through the Emory Scholars Program, they participate in enriched intellectual, cultural, and social programs and academic and cultural opportunities at the University and in the city of Atlanta. The University is pledged to enhance the collegiate lives of these scholars in every possible way. Scholars also have summer opportunities to study abroad and to participate in a special service-learning and leadership program.

Candidates for Emory, Oxford, and Goizueta Scholars nominate themselves on their application, are required to submit an additional essay, and must complete their application by November 15. For more information, call the Office of Admission at 404.727.6036 or email admiss@emory.edu.

A number of named awards fund the scholarships awarded by the Emory Scholars Program, but are not applied for directly. These include:

- Alexander Means
- Augustus Longstreet
- Charles & Anne Duncan
- Chris A. Yannopoulos
- D. Abbott Turner
- David M. Potter
- Dumas Malone
- Edward D. Smith
- Ely R. Callaway
- Flora Glenn Candler
- Henry L. Bowden
- Ignatius Few
- Jocelyn Taylor
- Kemp Malone
- Pollard Turman
- Robert W. Woodruff

Goizueta Business Scholars
The Goizueta Scholars award will support four years of undergraduate study, including study-abroad options and will range from two-thirds of full tuition to full tuition and fees. As a Goizueta Scholar, you will have guaranteed admission to the business school and priority access to business classes. You will have the opportunity to enroll in special freshman and sophomore business scholar seminars, to participate in an extensive array of leadership and professional activities and to interact with some of the most admired business executives in the world. Additionally, scholars will advised personally by the dean of the BBA program and given access to a wide variety of ongoing Goizueta resources, including internships, mentoring and other career services.

In addition to having superior academic credentials, successful nominees will have a demonstrated interest in business, as evidenced by engagement in entrepreneurial activities; participation in internships; membership in business clubs and/or involvement in business-related conferences, competitions and similar offerings. Leadership and community service are also important components in the selection process and candidates who bring diverse perspectives and backgrounds are of special interest.

Candidates for Emory, Oxford, and Goizueta Scholars nominate themselves on their application, are required to submit an additional essay, and must complete their application by November 15.

For more information, call the Office of Admission at 404.727.6036 or email admiss@emory.edu.

United Methodist Ministerial Scholarship

Sons or daughters of active United Methodist ministers or missionaries may receive a scholarship in the amount of 45 percent of current tuition. Application forms are available from the Office of Financial Aid. This award may be adjusted when combined with other tuition awards.

Emory National Merit Scholars

National Merit finalists who select Emory as their first-choice college are awarded $1,000 to $2,000 annually by Emory College. An honorarium of $1,000 annually is awarded to those without demonstrated need. Students who receive a Corporate National Merit Scholarship will also receive $1,000 annually from Emory College. National Merit finalists who demonstrate need using the results of the FAFSA and PROFILE receive from $1,000 to $2,000 annually.

Veterans

We welcome men and women who have served in the U.S. Military to Emory. College is a big investment of time, of money, of effort and it's important that you are happy with your choice. We're happy you're considering Emory as your college choice.

Emory works with the Veteran's Administration to offer veterans financial aid through the Yellow Ribbon GI Education Enhancement Program.
Overview

The Yellow Ribbon GI Education Enhancement Program is a provision of the Post 9/11 Veterans Educational Assistance Act of 2008. Emory College of Arts and Sciences offers a Yellow Ribbon Award of $7000.00 per academic year to four students in the College of Arts and Sciences for as long as they are enrolled in Emory College of Arts and Sciences. Please see the Veterans Administration website at https://www.gibill.va.gov/GI_Bill_Info/CH33/Yellow_ribbon.htm for additional information on eligibility. Your Certificate of Eligibility (COE) from the Veteran’s Administration and the Veteran’s Data Enrollment Sheet at http://www.registrar.emory.edu/forms/VeteransEnrollmentDataInformation.pdf are the student’s application for this award.

Guidelines for Application

Emory College of Arts and Sciences (ECAS) will accept Yellow Ribbon (YR) applications by email attachment or by paper applications mailed or hand delivered to Emory College of Arts and Sciences, 300 White Hall, Atlanta, GA, 30322. YR applications should be sent to the attention of Priscilla Echols, Associate Dean, Office for Undergraduate Education or by e-mail to pechols@emory.edu. We will begin receiving applications from eligible students at 8:00am EST on June 1 each year. Please note that faxes will not be accepted.

- Email attachments will be opened, printed and date stamped, and filed in the YR folder.
- Paper applications will be date stamped and filed in the same folder.
- A daily log will be used to record the order in which applications are "received."

A YR application consists of a completed Veterans Enrollment Data Sheet which is available on the Registrar's website at this link: http://www.registrar.emory.edu/forms/VeteransEnrollmentDataInformation.pdf and a copy of the Certificate of Eligibility. Please note that only students applying for Yellow Ribbon benefits should turn in the Veterans Enrollment Data Sheet to ECAS. Students claiming VA benefits other than YR should return the form to the Registrar's office at the address printed at the top of the form.

For additional information, please refer to:

http://www.registrar.emory.edu/students/FAQs/FAQS_VA.html

Applications from eligible students will be accepted each year beginning June 1.

Scholarships for Current Students

- At the end of their first and second year of study at Emory, the best Emory College undergraduates can apply for Dean’s Achievement Scholarships.
- There are also certain honors that may be awarded.
- In addition to Financial Aid & Merit Scholarships for attending Emory College, there are... also prestigious merit awards that enable Emory students to study and/or work throughout the world.
Budgeting for College

Shown below are estimates of adequate budgets for the academic year 2013–2014. With the exception of tuition and fees, which are fixed charges, these estimates reflect average amounts that students spend for room, meals, books, and supplies. Personal expenses include those for laundry, clothing, and social activities.

Students should note that, other than tuition and fees, these figures represent estimates only. It is possible for students to spend considerably less or considerably more, depending on individual lifestyles and spending habits. However, these are the amounts used in calculating a student’s eligibility for financial assistance based on need, case by case basis.

Many students have expenses which are not covered by financial aid, including costs for food, books, travel, and incidental expenses that exceed the amounts listed above. Expenditures above these amounts are covered by the family, not by financial aid. Club and Greek fees, supplies for extracurricular classes, and car expenses are not included in the financial aid budget.

The tuition charge for the fall and spring semesters includes full-time instruction in a normal program of study, use of facilities and equipment, and medical and health services. When part-time enrollment is permitted (a course load of fewer than twelve hours), students are charged by the credit hour. The charge for part-time students does not include medical and health services.

Tuition and room charges for the summer term may be found in the summer school catalog.
Payment of Tuition and Fees

Bills for tuition, fees, and room charges are posted to the student’s OPUS account for review and printing several weeks before the first day of class, with instructions and a specified deadline for payment. For more information, see Student Financial Services.

Books

The Emory University Bookstore is located at 1390 Oxford Road and includes books, supplies, computers, peripherals, software, clothes and accessories.

Admissions Fees

A $75 nonrefundable processing fee must accompany each application for admission. This fee may be waived through the College Board fee waiver form or if the student’s guidance counselor/college adviser submits in writing a request stating that the fee would constitute an undue hardship on the applicant.

Admission Response and Deposit

To enroll at Emory College a nonrefundable deposit of $475 is due by the enrollment deadline date (January 15 for Early Decision 1, March 1 for Early Decision 2, and May 1 for Regular Decision). This fee includes an orientation fee, a housing reservation fee, and a credit towards the first semester tuition.
Degree Requirements

Degree Requirements

Both the bachelor of arts degree and the bachelor of science degree combine liberal studies with advanced studies. To earn the BA degree or the BS degree, a student must complete successfully a minimum of 32 academic courses totaling at least one hundred and twenty-four semester hours in approved academic courses plus two semester hours in physical education and a one semester hour personal health course.

No rigid program for either degree is prescribed by Emory College. Each student must design a program of study suited to individual interests and needs. To aid the student in this task and to ensure that no program is either too narrow or too diffuse, the college assigns advisers who work with students in planning their programs.

The undergraduate education in Emory College comprises three overlapping components:

1. general education requirements that provide a common core of substance and methodology;
2. more intensive and advanced study in a major field; and
3. free-ranging exploration by means of elective courses.

General Education Requirements

These courses provide for a common core of academic experience for Emory College students. Faculty and advanced student advisers work closely with students, especially in the first two years, in choosing the specific courses used to fulfill these requirements. The faculty's principal objective in establishing these requirements is to encourage students to familiarize themselves with the knowledge and the methodologies that characterize the arts and humanities, the social sciences, and the natural sciences and mathematics; to increase their ability to express ideas effectively in English and in another language; to extend their capacities for making informed judgments of value; to expand their knowledge and understanding of themselves, of their own and other cultures, and of the natural world; and to develop their awareness of the ways in which the various academic disciplines may complement one another in solving the world's problems.

For the most current list of courses satisfying the General Education Requirements, please see the GER website.

Major Requirements

Students must complete requirements for the major in a particular academic field. In order to complete a major, students must formally designate a program no earlier than the second semester of their freshman year and no later than the end of the sophomore year (see "Declaration of Plan [Major/Minor ] form" available from academic departments administrators in each department).
The departments and the dean reserve the right to judge the advisability of an applicant's admission to any particular concentration. Each student's major program must be arranged under the direction and with the approval of a faculty advisor in the major department with a view to obtaining reasonable mastery of a chosen field and with due provision for work outside that field. If they choose, students may be certified in two, but not more than two, areas of concentration. Minors are available in certain fields for students who wish to complete a minor in addition to a major. (A student may thus have two majors or one major and a minor.) Students must maintain at least a C (2.0) average in any major or minor they complete.

Programs of Study

Students may earn one, and only one, of the following undergraduate degrees from Emory University. In completing the following degrees, Emory College officially recognizes no more than two concentrations—either two majors or a major and minor. Such recognition does not appear on Emory diplomas but is shown on students' transcripts.

Bachelor of Arts or Bachelor of Science

Emory College offers a number of majors that can result in a BA or BS.

Minors

Minors are available in a number of fields.

Bachelor of Business Administration

The BBA requires that students complete 64 credit hours (four semesters) in Emory College prior to transferring to the Roberto C. Goizueta Business School of Emory University. These 64 credit hours do not include AP credit.

Bachelor of Science in Nursing

The BSN degree is awarded after students complete 64 credit hours (four semesters) in Emory College and two years in the Nell Hodgson Woodruff School of Nursing. These sixty-four credit hours do not include AP credit. Emory College issues a dual degree as a BA or BS in the college and a BSN in nursing. Some courses required prior to entering the nursing program are not available at Emory College. Interested students should consult with the nursing school and the Office for Undergraduate Education about requirements.

Students Continuing to Emory College of Arts and Sciences from Oxford College

Students who meet the requirements from Oxford College and receive an AA degree may continue to Emory College of Arts and Sciences to receive a Bachelor’s Degree.

Oxford College continuees must earn a total of 127 semester hours of credit (124 academic hours, a minimum of 2 PE credits and a third academic or PE credit) to graduate from Emory College; of these credits, a minimum of fifty-four semester hours must be earned in Emory College with a minimum of three semesters of residence in Emory College (twelve semester hours or more per semester); a semester of fewer than twelve hours can be combined with another semester of fewer than twelve hours to make up one semester of residence; however, a partial semester may not be combined with a semester of more than twelve hours to form two semesters of residence.

Combined Degree Programs

Students who enter the Combined Degree Program may earn the bachelor of arts or the bachelor of science degree from Emory College and a professional or advanced degree from another division of the University or from the Georgia Institute of Technology. These programs include:

Dual-Degree Programs in Engineering

Accelerated Master's Program

Students may earn the bachelor of arts and the master of arts degrees within four years in:

- English
- history
- philosophy
- political science
- sociology

Students may earn the bachelor of science and the master of science degrees within four years in:

- chemistry
- mathematics
- mathematics and computer science

A bachelor of arts in mathematics and a master of science in biostatistics can be earned through the College and the School of Public Health.

Additionally, students who initially enrolled at Agnes Scott College in Decatur, GA can participate in a combined degree program with Emory in the field of Computer Science.

General Education Requirements

The general education component of an Emory undergraduate education is organized to present an array of intellectual approaches and perspectives as ways of learning rather than a prescribed body of content. Its purposes are to develop students’ competencies in the skills and methods of writing, quantitative methods, a second language, and physical education; to acquaint students with methodologies that characterize the humanities, the social sciences, and the natural sciences as the three broad divisions of learning in the arts and sciences; to deepen students’ perspectives on national, regional, and global history and culture, and to give every student some exposure to an interactive seminar experience. These purposes are met by a student’s choosing from a range of individual courses within a clearly defined framework. The list of courses satisfying General Education Requirements is constantly under review.
For the latest version of the list, please see below.

First-Year Seminar Classes (FSEM) Courses - Area I

First-year Seminars, offered in a wide range of fields, are designed to engage students in various aspects of inquiry and research with close guidance of a faculty member. Requirements: One course. Must be completed in first two semesters. Any course that satisfies the First-Year Seminar Class requirement may not satisfy another general education requirement.

Continuing Writing (WRT) Courses - Area III

The goal of writing-intensive courses is to improve writing skills through writing regularly in a context where mentors in the various communities of discourse encourage, guide, and communicate to students high standards of writing through instruction and example. Writing intensive classes focus not only on the product, but also on the process of writing. Writing is not an elective option but a central focus of the course. Requirement: Three courses. Must be taken at Emory College of Arts and Sciences. Must earn a grade of C or better.

A thesis written by a student and accepted by the Honors Program may be used to satisfy the continuing writing requirement in the senior year. This includes a master’s thesis completed as part of a BA/MA or BS/MS program.

All courses with the "WRT" tag, as well as all courses with a tag ending in "W" (MQRW, SNTW, HSCW, HAPW, and HALW), are eligible to be taught as continuing writing requirement courses.

This page lists all courses that have received approval to be offered as a continuing writing requirement General Education Requirement (GER). Individual courses on the list may or may not be offered as a continuing writing requirement during a particular semester. Individual instructors have the discretion about whether to offer a course as a continuing writing requirement during a certain semester. Students should check course listings in OPUS carefully to determine whether a course section carries the continuing writing requirement tag in a particular semester.

Emory Scholars Program

Emory College of Arts and Sciences offers scholarships based on academic merit to incoming first-year students as part of the Emory Scholars Program. Outstanding rising sophomores and rising juniors may also become Emory Scholars through The Dean's Achievement Scholarships.

To become an Emory College Scholar is to take your involvement and connections with a major research university to the next level. The Scholars Program is designed to enrich your overall experience -- to broaden your intellectual horizons, to strengthen your ethical sensibilities, and to deepen your personal growth. With the help of this program, students can take advantage of special opportunities for research, study-abroad programs, and internships, as well as enjoy closer interactions with faculty.

Awards & Honors
Honors Program | Academic Policies & Regulations

Honors Programs are available to outstanding students in most, but not all, areas of concentration. Administered by a faculty Honors Committee, these programs enable students to do intensive work in a chosen area and therefore involve work that extends beyond ordinary course requirements and ordinary standards of performance.

Requirements | Levels of Honors | Thesis Guidelines

Requirements

Although all students with a cumulative average of 3.50 at the end of their first three years are eligible for these programs, final selection of participants rests with the department concerned.

Exceptions to the 3.50 average requirement may be made by the Honors Committee in individual cases upon recommendation by the department concerned. See department or Elizabeth Fricker (efricke@emory.edu) for more information on the GPA waiver petition process and requirements. All Emory grades are considered in the calculation of the cumulative GPA. For example, all Emory College of Arts and Sciences and Business School grades are considered in the calculation of the cumulative GPA for Business School students who pursue honors in a major in the College.

Students may pursue honors in only one major or joint major.

Requirements vary slightly from department to department. They generally include enrollment in a graduate seminar or graduate course, completion of a research project or paper that is the equivalent of a BA or BS thesis, and additional supervised reading or enrollment in a special honors course. Since credit for the graduate work and the reading program count toward the hours required for the major, the Honors Program usually entails an increase of about four hours of credit in the major requirement.

An examination, written and/or oral, covering the honors work, including the thesis and allied fields, is given upon completion of the program. One examiner must be chosen from outside the department. Examiners recommend the degree of honors (honors, high honors, highest honors) to the Honors Committee, which certifies the list to the registrar for printing in the commencement program and on the students' diplomas. Fourrageres indicating the degree of honors are presented to successful candidates by the college and are worn at commencement.

Levels of Honors

Honors (cum laude) represents satisfactory completion of the program, with an overall average of 3.50. High Honors (magna cum laude) represents completion of the program with outstanding performance, including an overall average of 3.50 and a thesis of quality sufficient for oral presentation to scholars in the candidate's field. Highest Honors (summa cum laude) represents completion of the program with exceptional performance, including an overall average of 3.50 and a thesis of a quality suitable for publication.

Thesis Guidelines
Guidelines and deadlines for submission of theses will be available to students who are currently enrolled in the Honors Program.

Internships

Emory University Summer Internship Program (EUSIP)

Summer internships frequently require that students enroll for internship credit at their university. In order to assist students facing this requirement, Emory College offers a one-credit hour summer course. This one-hour S/U credit will not count towards the hours needed to graduate from Emory College, but it will appear on your transcript and fulfill federal labor requirements.

For more information on the Summer Internship Program, students should consult the summer internship page on the Main College Site by clicking here or by visiting the Office for Undergraduate Education, 300 White Hall.

Semester Internships

Internships during the regular (fall or spring) semester is managed by individual departments. Students should contact the Director of Undergraduate Studies or Internship coordinator in their major department.

Art History Internship

During the summer terms, art history majors and qualified non-majors are eligible to apply for an internship with the Michael C. Carlos Museum, the High Museum of Art, commercial art galleries, architectural firms, and other art- and architecture-related organizations. Students must consult with an internship adviser. Internships may carry academic credit. The students' work is supervised by personnel of the cooperating institutions and agencies. The department will attempt to facilitate any reasonable internship in Atlanta and, if plausible, in other places as well. For questions about the Art History Internship Program, contact Professor Judith Rohrer at jcrohre@emory.edu.

Political Science Internship

The political science internship program provides students with an opportunity to combine academic training with field experience. The program stresses the interdependence of the University and the community. Students engage in service/learning experiences designed to supplement and enrich their educational programs through active participation in the governmental process. Currently, the Department of Political Science awards credit to student interns in a wide variety of agencies and offices in state and local government. The students usually serve in a research capacity for the assigned agency. Every attempt is made to match students' interests with agency needs. Students attend seminars to discuss the work they are doing and to relate it to academic studies and findings. Depending upon the nature of the internship, students may earn four to twelve credits in Political Science 496 for a departmentally approved internship. For more details, contact Professor J. Judd Owen, Department of Political Science, Emory University, Atlanta, GA 30322, at jjowen@emory.edu.
Semester Online

Emory College of Arts and Sciences students are eligible to participate in Semester Online courses within the guidelines set forth by the Educational Policy Committee.

1. Eligibility

   1. Students must be matriculated in Emory College of Arts and Sciences
   2. Students enrolling in Semester Online courses must be in good standing.
   3. Students may enroll in no more than six Semester Online courses over their career at Emory.

2. Enrollment Requirements

   1. During a regular semester (fall, spring) a student in residence will be permitted to enroll in one Semester Online course. Students wishing to enroll in more than one Semester Online course in any given semester will be required to petition for approval. Typically, this will only be approved under special circumstances. Petitions for exceptions will come to the Office for Undergraduate Education, which will consult with the Committee on Academic Standards as necessary.
   2. The standard Emory enrollment limits apply also to Semester Online courses; Semester Online courses count towards the minimum or maximum hours permitted. Students may only enroll in 19 semester hours or 22 semester hours when the student has a GPA greater than 3.0 (including on-campus and Semester Online courses).
   3. Students on an Emory-approved study abroad course may petition to add one Semester Online course to the required courses for study abroad. CIPA will consider the nature of the study abroad program and the student’s ability to manage the extra course load in reviewing petitions.
   4. In general, students should not enroll in Semester Online courses offered by Emory faculty as they can enroll in those courses and attend in person. However, there may be cases in which it is appropriate for a student to do so either because of the timing of the course, the availability of places in the residential course, or the need of a student to be absent from campus at the time the course is offered. Students can explain those reasons in a petition to the Office for Undergraduate Education for an exception.
   5. Courses taught by other universities comparable to Emory courses will be reviewed by the relevant department(s). Those department(s) will determine whether the course may be taken for elective credit, or may count towards the GER and major requirements.
   6. During the summer semester, a student may enroll in as few as one Semester Online course or as many as a full load (as defined by summer policies). Only students enrolling in six or more hours would be eligible for need-based aid. Students enrolled in Emory summer study abroad courses may not enroll in a summer Semester Online course. The demands of summer study abroad courses do not permit participation in Semester Online courses.

3. Semester Online and the Emory Curriculum

   1. Emory College will provide students with information about how courses offered by Semester Online will correspond with their Emory curriculum. Some courses may be used to fulfill general education or major requirements; other courses may be available only as elective credit. Any courses not appropriate for an Emory curriculum and for which a student cannot receive credit, will be identified accordingly.
   2. Online courses may count towards a major or minor when, in the view of the relevant department, they contribute to the award of a major or minor. Students should consult with the relevant department before enrolling if they would like the course to count towards a concentration.

3. Grades for Semester Online courses will be posted on the Emory transcript with a notation indicating that this is a Semester Online course.

Enrollment Information - Application Process

1. Complete the online application at www.semesteronline.org
2. Complete the Emory Internal Application Form (online application for Spring Semester courses will appear here in October 2013)
3. When you receive the Home Institution Confirmation and Approval Letter from Semester Online please send it to semesteronline@emory.edu
4. The College will then review all of your application materials. We will then approve or deny the application and communicate that to you and to Semester Online.

Study Abroad

Center for International Programs Abroad (CIPA)

The Center for International Programs Abroad (CIPA) is dedicated to fulfilling Emory College's commitment to internationalization through study abroad. In collaboration with Emory faculty, CIPA develops, promotes, and administers programming for undergraduate students that encourages both intellectual and personal growth through challenging scholarship and cultural immersion. Its services support students and faculty before, during, and after the study abroad experience in order to ensure that study abroad is an essential part of an Emory College education. Approximately 50% of College students have some sort of international educational experience by the time they graduate. CIPA offers over 130 approved study abroad programs in over 40 countries around the world; students can spend a summer, a semester, or a full academic year abroad in another country. Students earn Emory credits and grades while abroad, retain semester financial aid packages (some summer aid is available as well), and fulfill academic requirements towards majors, minors, and GERs. CIPA also coordinates various international service learning and research options. Please visit www.cipa.emory.edu for more information.

Tibet Partnership

In recent years the study of Tibetan civilization has gained strength at Emory. During a visit to Emory in 1998, His Holiness the Dalai Lama signed an agreement with then-Emory President William M. Chace to work toward furthering educational links between the University and institutions of higher learning operated by the Tibetan government in exile in India. The program includes study abroad in Dharamsala, a student exchange, ongoing courses and research in Tibetan culture and philosophy, and an exchange between students and faculty.

Academic Advising and Support

Academic Advising and Support Programs in the Office for Undergraduate Education (OUE) provides a range of academic advising and support services. The services and programs are designed as a supplement to faculty and departmental advising.

OUE academic advisers work closely with students, faculty and staff to provide group and individual academic advising, explain and interpret academic policies, and connect students to resources and support services on campus. In addition, students who experience medical, personal or other concerns that affect their academic progress may seek the assistance of an academic adviser to determine appropriate options.

Many students have questions about graduation requirements, course selection and programs of study. OUE academic advisers will work with students to answer academic policy questions and assist students with making academic decisions. While faculty advisers and departments provide general advising for all students upon their entrance to the College and are responsible for major/minor advising, the OUE academic advisers supplement departmental advising and provide individual consultations for students experiencing special circumstances.

Advisers have offices in various locations around campus: White Hall, Few Hall, the SAAC and the Woodruff Residential Center. Students can call (404) 727-6069 or e-mail oue.advising@emory.edu to schedule an appointment.

Academic support is available through a variety of programs ranging from individual consultations, peer tutoring and mentoring, workshops and other programming for specific populations. Students or faculty who would like more information about specific services and programs should visit Academic Support Programs.

Pre-Major Advising Connections at Emory (PACE)

The Pre-Major Advising Connections at Emory Program (PACE) is a multifaceted academic advising support system that serves students until they declare a major (before the end of their second year.) Prior to their arrival, incoming students are matched with a faculty adviser and peer leaders who help them adjust to college life, explore their passions and plan for academic and career success.

The Office for Undergraduate Education (OUE) and Campus life supplement this advising team and provide educational panels, programs and sessions throughout the first year. These informational meetings serve to further connect students to campus resources and help them identify avenues for academic and personal growth. First-year students enroll in PACE 101 and receive one semester hour of academic credit toward their Emory College degree for successfully completing the program. The grading basis for the course is satisfactory/unsatisfactory.

PreHealth Mentoring Office
The PreHealth Mentoring Office (PHMO) provides students with information to plan their course sequences carefully and thoughtfully, and to assist students toward achieving their health science professional goals.

PreHealth includes interest in the health care field such as attending medical school, dental school, nursing school, veterinary school, physician assistant school, and many others. In addition to choosing a major and completing Emory’s General Education Requirements, PreHealth students will need to complete prerequisite courses that make them eligible to apply to post-graduate programs in a health care field (the most popular being medical school).

The PHMO can answer many PreHealth questions in our office, located in Suite 200 of the B. Jones Center. For a full list of our open office hours, please visit our website, http://www.prehealth.emory.edu/. To make an appointment with the PHMO please call 404-727-6040. Students should also register with the PreHealth Mentoring Office online at http://www.prehealth.emory.edu/.

New Student Orientation is a collaboration between Emory College of Arts and Sciences and the Division of Campus Life that strives to acclimate successfully and holistically all new students – first year students, transfer students, and Oxford Continuees – into the academic and social fabric of Emory College. The New Student Orientation program provides opportunities for students to begin building relationships with faculty, staff, current students and their new classmates as they prepare for their future in the Emory University learning community. In addition, the program provides opportunities for current students to develop their own leadership skills by serving as an Orientation Leader or Captain. For more information, please visit www.college.emory.edu/orientation.
Academic Regulations

Advanced Placement & Exemption | Academic Policies & Regulations

Information for Incoming First Year College Students

Emory College recognizes that entering students differ in preparation and proficiency in various subjects. In recognition and support of superior attainment, the college provides a variety of ways in which students may qualify for advanced courses or accelerate their progress toward both bachelor’s and master’s degrees.

Advanced Placement Policy

Emory College grants three semester hours of credit for each score of 4 or 5 on examinations of the Advanced Placement Program of the College Entrance Examination Board. In the case of Advanced Placement examinations in which two exams are offered (i.e., English, foreign languages, computer science), credit may be awarded for either exam but not for two. The Mathematics Department awards six hours credit for a score of 4 or 5 on the Calculus BC exam. Students receiving credit for the BC exam cannot receive credit for the Calculus AB exam as well. Students who do not receive credit for Calculus BC but score 4 or 5 on the Calculus AB subgrade will receive three hours credit for the subgrade. No credit is granted in Emory College for scores below 4. Emory awards no academic credit for AP work that has not been placed on the student’s official transcript by the end of that student’s first semester of study on campus. No credit is granted for the Human Geography or International English Language exams. Students earning credit in Emory College on the basis of advanced placement examinations should consult with the appropriate college department regarding the course level at which to continue their study of those subjects at Emory. Students can receive no more than twenty-four (24) credit hours for AP and IB exams. General Education requirements can be waived in areas covered by the exams for which credit cannot be conferred. Students who want to waive AP credit must do so officially by the end of their first semester at Emory College. A student who has received AP credit and wants to take the equivalent course at Emory cannot count those additional credits toward graduation.

International Baccalaureate

Emory College recognizes the academic challenge of the International Baccalaureate and will grant credit for scores of 5, 6, or 7 on the higher-level examinations. No credit is awarded for standard-level examinations. When IB credit is awarded, a student may not receive Advanced Placement credit that duplicates the IB work. All IB credit obtained prior to enrollment in Emory College must appear on the student’s official Emory transcript by the end of the student’s first semester at Emory.

Exemption

First-year students in Emory College may exempt certain courses on the basis of advanced work done in high school or placement tests given by individual departments. Although students are not given credit for courses exempted, they are permitted to enroll in more advanced courses.

Language Placement

Language placement is handled variously by the different language departments. No credit is awarded for courses a student exempts as a result of placement.

College-Level Examination Program (CLEP)

No credit is awarded for the College-Level Examination Program.

Information for Transfer Students

The Office of Admission evaluates all credit hours earned from previous institutions, including AP/IB scores, upon acceptance to Emory College of Arts and Sciences. Students may transfer a maximum of 64 credit hours.

- Freshman seminar may be waived for incoming transfer students based on credit hours at matriculation.
- Freshman writing requirement will be waived for incoming transfer students with 30+ hours at matriculation.
- One continuing writing requirement will be waived for incoming transfer students with 60+ hours at matriculation.
- The Personal Health Requirement (Health 100) is waived for all transfer students.
- Transfer students must complete their 64 academic hours at Emory.

Changing & Repeating Courses | Academic Policies & Regulations

Repetition of Courses

When a course that was previously passed is repeated, the new course credits do not count toward a degree. A student who wishes to re-do a course previously passed and not receive additional degree credit will be permitted to do so if deemed advisable by the faculty adviser and a dean in the Office for Undergraduate Education.

All courses repeated, whether passed or not, including the original course, will be calculated in the student’s grade point average.

Changing Courses

A student may change courses until the end of the Add/Drop/Swap period which occurs on the eighth calendar day after the first day of classes each semester. A change may be made in the grading basis of a course (letter grade or S/U) through the fifteenth or sixteenth calendar day after the first day of classes each semester. (See Academic Calendar for specific dates.) Emory students may withdraw from one or more courses until 4:00 p.m. on the Friday of the sixth full week of class of the semester after the Add/Drop/Swap period, providing that the student continues to carry a load of twelve credit hours or is in his/her final semester of residence as a graduating senior. (See “Partial Withdrawal” for additional information.) Thereafter, when students withdraw from a course they will receive the grade of WF or WU unless, in the opinion of the instructor and a dean in the Office for Undergraduate Education, circumstances do not justify this penalty. In such cases, the grade of W will be recorded. In computing the student’s overall average, the grade of WF will be counted as F. The grades of W and WU will not be used in computing a student’s overall average.

Honor System & the Conduct Code | Academic Policies & Regulations

For more than half a century, academic integrity has been maintained at Emory through the student-initiated and student-regulated Honor Code. The responsibility for maintaining a standard of unimpeachable honor in all academic work falls upon every individual who is a part of Emory University. Every student who chooses to attend Emory College agrees, as a condition of attendance, to abide by all provisions of the Honor Code as long as he or she remains a student in the college. By continued attendance in Emory College, students reaffirm their pledge to adhere to and uphold the provisions of the Honor Code.

The Undergraduate Code of Conduct outlines the expectations of the University for student behavior outside the classroom and details the process for resolution of alleged violations of non-academic misconduct. Through the Code, administered by the Office of Student Conduct in the Division of Campus Life, the University promotes the values of personal responsibility, active citizenship, and consideration for others. All students are expected to know and abide by the Code, available online at http://conduct.emory.edu.

The Honor Council, a body of at least ten annually appointed students, has responsibility for investigating and adjudicating all alleged violations of the Honor Code. Students found to have violated the Honor Code are subject to verbal reprimand, written reprimand, F in the course in question, suspension, dismissal, or a combination of these and other sanctions. Copies of the Honor Code are distributed and explained to new students and are available in the Emory College office, 218 White Hall, and online at http://catalog.college.emory.edu/academic/policy/honor_code.html

Continuation, Probation & Exclusion | Academic Policies & Regulations

Continuation Requirements

To graduate from the college, a student must accumulate a minimum of 128 academic semester hours plus the required 2 hours of physical education and 1 hour in personal health. Additional hours of physical education do not count toward the degree. Students who do all of their work in Emory College must achieve a grade point average of at least 1.9 on all regularly graded work attempted. Students who come to Emory directly from another college with more than 16 hours of credit and those who take more than 16 hours at another institution after enrolling at Emory must achieve a 2.0 grade point average on all regularly graded work taken at Emory in order to graduate.

Minimum requirements for continuation from year to year are as follows:

- First Year: a minimum of 30 semester hours passed after two semesters on first-year standing and a 1.5 grade point average on all work attempted;
- Second Year: a minimum of 60 semester hours passed after two semesters on sophomore standing and a 1.67 grade point average on all work attempted;
- Third Year: a minimum of 90 semester hours passed after two semesters on junior standing and a 1.75 grade point average on all work attempted.
- During the fourth year, a student must make satisfactory progress toward fulfilling requirements for a degree. A student must also attain an overall C average (2.0 grade point average) for work taken during the senior year to qualify for graduation.

A year is normally interpreted as two full semesters or the equivalent. A full semester is one in which a student enrolls for 12 or more semester hours; two or more partial semesters in which a student enrolls for less than 12 semester hours but which taken together total more than 12 semester hours count as one full semester. Usually students will be promoted at the end of a year of work in a given class. Students needing an additional semester to attain minimum standards for continuation or graduation must be granted permission to enroll by the dean of the college and the Committee on Academic Standards and must take all required work at Emory. In such cases, the additional semester will normally be the next consecutive one except for first-year students (see “Exclusion”).

Probationary Status and Reports

A dean in the Office for Undergraduate Education or the Committee on Academic Standards may, at their discretion and irrespective of grades, declare probationary status for any student who, in their opinion, is not properly using his/her time and talents. At the end of any grading period, a student whose cumulative or senior grade point average is less than 2.0 will incur academic probation. A student who fails in any semester to pass two-thirds of the hours taken or to attain at least a 1.5 grade point average will be placed on probation regardless of any previous average. Students on probation will be expected to concentrate their energies on their studies in order to bring their work to the required standard, and to that end they should be especially diligent in attending to their academic responsibilities and refraining from participating in any activities that might interfere with their scholastic performance.

Exclusion

Any student who after the first year fails for two successive semesters of full-time work to pass two-thirds of the hours taken, or to attain at least a 1.5 grade point average, shall be automatically excluded regardless of any previous average. A student who is excluded under this rule will not be eligible to apply for readmission for the next regular (not summer) semester. For students excluded at the end of the spring term, the period of exclusion begins at the conclusion of the spring term and ends at the end of the next fall term. A petition for readmission for any subsequent term will be acted on by the Committee on Academic Standards. A student who is readmitted and fails to meet the requirements set by the committee will be excluded permanently.

A student who fails to meet minimum requirements for continuation from one class to the next after two semesters may continue for one additional semester of residence only with the approval of the dean of the college and the Committee on Academic Standards (see “Continuation Requirements”). Should a student, at the end of the third semester, fail to meet minimum requirements for continuation, the student will be excluded permanently.

The Committee on Academic Standards reserves the right to exclude students prior to or at the end of the first year if, in the opinion of the committee, their progress is not satisfactory. The committee has stipulated that first-year students who, after two semesters, do not meet the 1.5 grade point average required for continuation to sophomore standing (see “Continuation Requirements”) may be asked by the dean to sit out one regular semester before being permitted to enroll for a third semester of academic work.

Course Load Requirements | Academic Policies & Regulations

To complete a degree within 8 full time semesters, a normal course load is 15-16 credit hours per semester.

Students may not take fewer than twelve hours nor more than twenty-two hours, plus physical education and applied music, in any one semester.

Students may enroll for twelve to nineteen hours in any one semester. To take more or fewer hours, they must have permission from their faculty adviser and a dean in the Office for Undergraduate Education.

Students with a cumulative grade point average of 3.0 or higher and seniors in their final semester of work are permitted to take up to twenty-two credits (not counting physical education). Students with outstanding incomplete course grades may not overload in credits in subsequent semesters.

Students must normally enroll for the minimum full-time load of twelve credits, except that a senior in the final semester of work is not required to enroll for more credits than are needed to complete the degree. All credit for academic work must be awarded in the semester in which the work is undertaken, including summer sessions and internships.

Cross-Registration | Academic Policies & Regulations

With permission of a dean in the Office for Undergraduate Education and the faculty adviser, fulltime students in good standing may enroll in courses offered by any of the member institutions of the Atlanta Regional Consortium for Higher Education (ARCHE), if the courses are not offered at Emory.

Students receive credit only, not grades, for these courses as part of their academic record at Emory. For courses taken under the quarter system, the credit is converted to semester hours at Emory.

Information and applications are available at the Registrar's website: www.emory.edu/Registrar.

Further information about cross-registration policies, procedures, and regulations may be obtained from the Office for Undergraduate Education, White Hall 300, 404.727.6069. Students from other colleges seeking to cross-register in an Emory course should contact the registrar at 404.727.6042.
ARCHE Institutions Include:

Degree Audit | Academic Policies & Regulations

Emory College’s online degree audit is open 24/7. Students have access to the General Education Requirements Overview and should review requirements carefully. Students may access the online Academic Advisement Report via OPUS.

Please use the following path to access a snapshot view of the Academic Advisement Report.

OPUS > My Academics > View my advisement report

For a detailed report, please use the following path to access the Academic Advisement Report

OPUS > Degree Planning > Select the “Advisement Report Request” tab > Academic Institution: Emory University > Report Type: Degree Audit – Emory College > GO

Some major and minor requirements are also reported in the audit and ultimately all the departments will have the opportunity to have their requirements reported online for their majors and minors.

Reporting Questions
To report an error in your audit, or ask clarifying question, please send the requested information to Ms. Charlene Whitlow, Emory College Business Analyst/Degree Coordinator, at the following email.

Send Emails as follows: oue.advising.report@emory.edu

Include the following information:

NAME STUDENT ID CLASS LEVEL (for example, Senior) PROBLEM EXPLANATION

---

Grades

A, A-, B+, B, B-, C+, C, C-, D+, D, and S are passing grades for which credit is awarded; F and U indicate failure or unsatisfactory and carry no credit; I indicates that the student has not completed all the work for a course; IF and IU indicate failure to finish an Incomplete; IP indicates work in progress; W indicates withdrawal without penalty; WF indicates withdrawal failing; and WU indicates unsatisfactory withdrawal.

Quality Points

For each semester hour of credit, quality points are computed as follows:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Grade</th>
<th>Quality Points</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>A</td>
<td>4.0</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>A-</td>
<td>3.7</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>B+</td>
<td>3.3</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>B</td>
<td>3.0</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>B-</td>
<td>2.7</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>C+</td>
<td>2.3</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>C</td>
<td>2.0</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>C-</td>
<td>1.7</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>D+</td>
<td>1.3</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>D</td>
<td>1.0</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>F</td>
<td>0.0</td>
</tr>
</tbody>

The grades of S, U, IU, and WU are given only for courses taken on a satisfactory/unsatisfactory basis (see Satisfactory/Unsatisfactory Option). S carries academic credit but no quality points; U or IU carries neither academic credit nor quality points. Neither W, WU, S, nor U grades count in computing a student’s grade-point average. The grades of IF and WF are counted as F in computing a student’s grade-point average. The course instructor determines the basis for grading in individual courses. Students should not assume that all professors use identical grading scales or standards. Instructors should communicate their standards and systems as clearly as possible in their course syllabi. Students should request clarification when necessary. The ultimate arbitrator of a grade rests within the relevant academic department.

Graduation & Continuation Requirements | Academic Policies &
Regulations

Subject to the limitations and qualifications stated elsewhere in this catalog, requirements for bachelor of arts and bachelor of science degrees are as follows:

1. The four semesters of residence immediately prior to graduation taken in Emory College.
   1. For Transfer Students this means their last 64 hours.
   2. For Oxford Continuees this means 54 hours with a minimum of three semesters of residence
2. A minimum of 127 semester hours of credit, of which 124 hours must be in academic courses, not physical education (no more than 16 hours of applied music or 17 one hour dance courses may be counted toward the 124 academic hours).
   1. For Transfers this could be 125 or 126 depending on PE Waivers based on credits,
   2. For Oxford Continuees, the total is still 127, including a minimum of 2 PE credits and a third academic or PE credit
3. Completion of no less than 32 academic courses
4. A grade point average of at least 1.9 for all work attempted for a letter grade (2.0 for transfer students) and a 2.0 average in the senior year.
5. Fulfillment of the course requirements for a major, as determined by the major department or program, with a minimum 2.0 average.
7. Satisfaction of all financial obligations to the College and Emory University.
8. No degree may be conferred to a student while he or she is suspended from Emory College under the provisions of the College Honor code or University’s Conduct Code.

Application for Degree

In order to be a degree candidate for any given term, students must file an application for the bachelor’s degree with the College’s Office for Undergraduate Education at the beginning of the semester they expect the degree to be conferred. The application deadlines are indicated in the academic calendar. Forms for this purpose are available from the Office for Undergraduate Education or online. Students who file an application after the deadline specified in the academic calendar must pay a special processing charge of twenty-five dollars and cannot be assured that their names will appear in the commencement program or that their diplomas will be available at commencement. Commencement exercises are held annually in May for all students who completed all graduation requirements in the previous summer term, the previous fall term, or the current spring term.

Financial Requirements for Graduation

It is a requirement for graduation that all financial obligations to the University shall have been satisfied. In the case of outstanding loans not then due and payable, loan documents satisfactory to the University must have been executed and delivered to it, and all payments must be current.

Honor Code | Academic Policies & Regulations

Overview
Amended February 2012.

For over half a century, academic integrity has been maintained on the Emory Campus through the student initiated and regulated Honor Code.

Every student who applies to and is accepted by Emory College, as a condition of acceptance, agrees to abide by the provisions of the Honor Code so long as he or she remains a student at Emory College. By his or her continued attendance at Emory College, a student reaffirms his or her pledge to adhere to the provisions of the Honor Code.

See also, the Campus Life Handbook for additional policies, including the Undergraduate Code of Conduct.

For questions about the Honor Code, or to report a possible violation, please contact Dr. Jason Ciejka, Associate Director of the Honor Council, at jciejka@emory.edu.

PREAMBLE

Upon every individual who is a part of Emory University falls the responsibility for maintaining in the life of Emory a standard of unimpeachable honor in all academic work. The following articles, to be known collectively as the Honor Code of Emory College, are based on the fundamental assumption that every loyal person of the University not only will conduct his or her own life according to the dictates of the highest honor, but will also refuse to tolerate in others action which would sully the good name of the institution.

ARTICLE 1: HONOR COUNCIL

There shall be a body to be known as the Honor Council, charged with the duties of presenting the honor system to all freshmen and new students and acting as a fact-finding body for the determination of Honor Code violations. The Council shall recommend punishment in cases of dishonesty in academic work.

ARTICLE 2: MEMBERSHIP OF THE HONOR COUNCIL

Section 1. The Honor Council shall consist of no fewer than ten (10) and no more than twenty (20) student members and six (6) students eligible to serve on the appeals panels. Students eligible for membership shall be sophomores or juniors enrolled in the College. Membership shall be announced by May 1. The term of office of each member of the Honor Council and students eligible to serve on the appeals panels shall be two (2) years or until graduation, whichever first occurs. In the case of a member or eligible student who does not register for any semester (exclusive of any summer enrollment period), the Dean of the College shall name a replacement until the next regular selection of members under Section 3 of this Article.

Section 2. The executive head of the Honor Council shall be a chairperson who shall be elected by members of the Council and shall serve not more than twelve (12) months. He or she shall be privileged to vote on all questions.

Section 3. A selection committee shall consist of one (1) College Council member, one (1) Honor Council member, two (2) faculty members and four (4) students at-large. Except for the one Honor Council member, all the members of this committee shall be chosen by the College Council. The Honor Council will reduce the list to three (3) times the number of available positions and return the list to the committee. After the slate has been cut to two (2) times the number of vacant seats by the committee, the Honor Council shall make the final selection of members and of the pool of students eligible to serve on the appeals panels.

Section 4. A quorum of the Honor Council shall be four (4) of the twenty (20) student members. No members of the Honor Council may hear a case when he or she is accuser or witness. If a quorum cannot be assembled for a hearing, the Dean of the College shall appoint sufficient temporary members to reach a quorum in order that a hearing may be held.

Section 5. The Dean shall annually appoint no fewer than six (6) and no more than twenty (20) faculty advisors to the Honor Council. These advisors may participate in all proceedings and deliberations of the Honor Council.

ARTICLE 3: JURISDICTION

The Honor Council shall have jurisdiction over cases of academic misconduct.

ARTICLE 4: ACADEMIC MISCONDUCT

Academic misconduct is an offense generally defined as any action or inaction which is offensive to the integrity and honesty of the members of the academic community. This offense includes, but is not limited to, the following:

(a) Seeking, acquiring, receiving, or giving information about the conduct of an examination, knowing that the release of such information has not been authorized;

(b) Plagiarizing;

(c) Seeking, using, giving, or obtaining unauthorized assistance or information in any academic assignment or examination;

(d) Intentionally giving false information to professors or instructors for the purpose of gaining academic advantage;

(e) Breach of any duties prescribed by this Code;

(f) Intentionally giving false evidence in any Honor Council hearing or refusing to give evidence when requested by the Honor Council.

ARTICLE 5: REPORTING CASES

It is the responsibility of every member of the faculty and student body to cooperate in supporting the honor system. In pursuance of this duty, any individual, when he or she suspects that an offense of academic misconduct has occurred, shall report this suspected breach to a member of the Honor Council, a faculty advisor to the Honor Council, or the Dean of the College.

ARTICLE 6: PROCEDURE

Section 1. (a) On receipt of a report of a suspected violation, the recipient shall notify the Chairperson of the Honor Council who shall designate one (1) member of the Council and one (1) faculty advisor to investigate the charge. The investigators shall inform the accused in writing of what course and work is involved in the charge and shall refer the student to the Emory College Honor Code website, http://college.emory.edu/home/academic/policy/honor_code.html.

The investigators shall meet with the accuser, separately with the accused, shall interview other potential witnesses and review any documentary and physical evidence. The accused may suggest the names of witnesses to testify and may submit additional documentary or physical evidence not previously brought to the attention of the investigators. The investigators shall determine whether to refer the accusation for a hearing and notify both the Chairperson and the accused of their decision.

(b) If a decision is made to refer the case for hearing, the Honor Council student investigator shall schedule the hearing as promptly as possible and shall notify the accused of the date and time.

(c) Hearings shall be fair and impartial. All evidence, regardless of whether it meets the test of admissibility of rules of evidence, shall be elicited by the Honor Council. Witnesses will testify without oath and signed statements may be submitted from unavailable witnesses. Only the members of the Honor Council, the accused, his/her advisor, and the faculty advisors to the Honor Council may be present during the hearing other than a witness while testifying. The accused shall have the right to testify and to make a closing statement. The accused may be accompanied by a student or faculty member of the College as an advisor for purposes of consultation, but neither the accused nor the advisor shall have the right to examine witnesses. The Honor Council shall be allowed all possible latitude in determining whether a violation has occurred and shall itself determine the weight and pertinence of the evidence.

(d) At the conclusion of the evidence, the Honor Council and faculty advisors to the Honor Council shall retire to deliberate in secret. Only evidence presented at the hearing will be considered in reaching a decision. A unanimous vote of four (4) Honor Council members and one (1) faculty advisor shall be required for a finding of an Honor Council violation. If the accused is found guilty, the Honor Council shall recommend the sanction(s) by majority vote.

(e) The following sanctions may be imposed:

(1) Verbal reprimand without an entry on the student's Personal Performance Record;

(2) Written reprimand with an entry on the student's Personal Performance Record;

(3) F in the course on the student's Personal Performance Record and F on his/her Permanent Transcript;

(4) Honor Council suspension (specifying the period of suspension);
(5) Honor Council dismissal (specifying when the student may apply for readmission);

(6) Such combination of sanctions or other sanction as may appear appropriate.

(f) After the hearing, the Honor Council shall promptly prepare a concise, but thorough, written summary of pertinent evidence and facts which shall be transmitted to the Dean of the College with the accompanying recommendation together with all documentary and physical evidence before the Council. The Dean may impose the sanction(s) recommended or sanction(s) of greater or lesser severity. After receipt of the summary, the student shall be promptly notified by the Dean in writing of his or her decision and the sanction(s) imposed.

(g) In no case of alleged or suspected dishonesty will the Dean take action before receiving from the Honor Council its recommendation, provided such recommendation is received within a reasonable time after notification to the Council of the particular case.

Section 2. (a) An accused student may, in an appropriate case, request an Expedited Hearing in writing to Dean of the Honor Council.

Use of the Expedited Hearing Procedure is appropriate in cases where there is evidence that the accused, who has not previously been found to have violated the Honor Code, has committed some violation of the Honor Code, and the accused student acknowledges that violation of the Honor Code and formally requests an Expedited Hearing before a special three-person panel rather than a full hearing before the Honor Council.

The accused must also waive the right to appeal before an Expedited Hearing is scheduled and acknowledge that use of the Expedited Hearing Procedure does not in any way imply a recommendation for a lesser penalty.

In each Expedited Hearing the special three-person hearing panel shall consist of:

(1) The Dean of the Honor Council

(2) The Chair (or another voting student member of the Council), and

(3) A faculty representative of the Council.

The panel will hear an admission of violating the Honor Code directly from the accused, receive all evidence previously gathered by the investigating team, and may receive any additional statements from the accused and question the accused as the panel deems useful. After the accused student and the student's advisor leave the hearing room, the members of the panel shall review the evidence and the accused student's admission of violating the Honor Code to decide if a finding of the alleged Honor Code violation is warranted. If the panel unanimously determines that the admission of violating the Honor Code is acceptable in light of all the evidence, then the panel members upon reviewing all relevant factors shall recommend by majority vote an appropriate punishment to the Dean. The Dean may accept or modify the severity of the recommended sanctions, before promptly notifying the student of the outcome of the hearing.

ARTICLE 7: APPEAL
(a) A decision by the Honor Council and/or the sanction(s) imposed may be appealed to the Dean of the College. Such appeal must be submitted to the Dean within seven (7) days after the student has been given written notification of the Honor Council decision and sanction from the Dean. As part of the appeal, the student must present to the Dean a written statement of the basis for his/her appeal. If the Dean has not received such a written statement within the specified time, the decision of the Honor Council will stand affirmed.

(b) Upon receipt of an appeal, the Dean shall appoint an Appeal Panel of four (4) persons to advise him/her concerning the case. The Appeal Panel shall consist of two (2) Emory College faculty members, one of whom should be a faculty advisor to the Honor Council if possible, and two (2) students from the Appeals Panel Pool, who have had no prior involvement in the case.

(c) The panel shall review the records in the case and make a recommendation to the Dean. The Appeal Panel may consult with a member of the Honor Council. The Dean may then deny the appeal, modify the sanction(s), or request that the case be remanded to the Honor Council for a rehearing that will adhere to the process and rules outlined in Article 7 section e.

(d) Should the decision be to deny the appeal, the decision of the Honor Council will stand affirmed.

(e) Should the decision be to rehear the case, the case shall be remanded to the Honor Council for a rehearing. The Chair of the Honor Council shall schedule a hearing that shall include only Honor Council members who have had no prior involvement in the case. A total of four (4) members and one (1) faculty advisor shall be appointed for the rehearing. If four Honor Council members may not be available, then students on the Appeals Council who have had no prior involvement in the case may complete the quorum of four student members. Any and all evidence available at the first hearing shall be available to the Council at the rehearing, including accusing parties and witnesses. Should accusing parties or witnesses be deemed unavailable by the Dean, a written statement should be provided if possible. The rehearing shall conform to the procedures outlined in Article 6 sections c-g from this point forward.

(f) When the proceedings of a panel are concluded and a written summary is prepared, the panel shall confer with the Dean who shall render a final decision on the appeal and inform the student of his/her decision in writing.

ARTICLE 8: HONOR PLEDGE

Each student in the College assumes the Honor Pledge and shall receive adequate instruction in the Honor Code. Each professor shall explain to his or her class at the beginning of every semester any special or particular requirements of this Code as it pertains to the course.

ARTICLE 9: MISCELLANEOUS

(a) A duty of confidentiality is implicit in the Honor system. It is academic misconduct under this Code for a member of the Honor Council, a student witness or any student (other than the accused) who has obtained knowledge of a Council proceeding, past or present, to breach this duty of confidentiality. Nothing in this paragraph shall restrict communication to officials of the University where knowledge is necessary to the performance of the officials' duties, nor shall it restrict disclosure required by law.
(b) Wherever "Dean" or "Dean of the College" appears in this Code, each shall include any person designated by the Dean of Emory College to act in his/her stead.

(c) Wherever "Chairperson, or Chairperson of the Honor Council" appears in this Code, each shall include any member of the Honor Council designated by the Chairperson of the Honor Council to act in his/her stead.

(d) This Honor Code shall be effective on the first day of the Spring semester, 1984. On that date, the existing Honor Code of Emory College shall stand repealed. Amendment of this Code shall be by two thirds (2/3) vote of the Honor Council, with the consent of the Dean, subject to ratification by a majority of those Emory College students voting in an election for that purpose.

(e) There shall be an Emory College Committee for Academic Integrity formed for the purpose of striving to prevent academic dishonesty and misconduct through educational programs and endorsing the positive promotion of academic integrity on campus. It will seek to cultivate students with an enhanced understanding of, and appreciation for, academic and individual honesty. Note: The Honor Code was amended by student vote on February 2, 2012. Minor revisions were made in the language of the document to reflect the changes approved in the amendments.

APPENDIX

THE USE OF SOURCES IN WRITING RESEARCH PAPERS IN Emory COLLEGE

A writer's facts, ideas, and phraseology should be regarded as his property. Any person who uses a writer's ideas or phraseology without giving due credit is guilty of plagiarism.

Information may be put into a paper without a footnote or some kind of documentation only if it meets all of the following conditions:

It may be found in several books on the subject. It is written entirely in the words of the student. It is not paraphrased from any particular source. It therefore belongs to common knowledge.

Generally, if a student writes while looking at a source or while looking at notes taken from a source, a footnote should be given.

Whenever any idea is taken from a specific work, even when the student writes the idea entirely in his own words, there must be a footnote giving credit to the author responsible for the idea. Of course methods of documentation vary, and it is possible to cite in the text itself rather than a footnote. The point is that the student should give credit when credit is due and that he should give the credit in a manner specified by the instructor or the department.

The student is entirely responsible for knowing and following the principles of paraphrasing. "In paraphrasing you are expressing the ideas of another writer in your own words. A good paraphrase preserves the sense of the original, but not the form. It does not retain the sentence patterns and merely substitute synonyms for the original words, nor does it retain the original words and merely alter the sentence patterns. It is a genuine restatement. Invariably it should be briefer than the source."*

* Floyd C. Watkins, William B. Dillingham, and Edwin T. Martin, Practical English
Any direct quotation should be footnoted (or documented in any acceptable fashion). Even when a student uses only one unusual or key word from a passage, that word should be quoted. If a brief phrase that is common is used as it occurs in a source, the words should be in quotation marks. The source of every quotation should be given in a footnote or in the prescribed manner.

It is of course the prerogative of the instructor to prescribe that no secondary sources may be used for particular papers.

A student who uses a secondary source must remember that the very act of looking up a book or an article should be considered as a pledge that the student will use the material according to the principles stated above.

Incompletes & Absences | Academic Policies & Regulations

Incomplete Work

A student may be granted formal permission by a dean in the College’s Office for Undergraduate Education to defer the final examination or other parts of a course. Deferments will not be permitted except for illness or other emergency and must normally be secured prior to the examination. When permission is granted, the notation I is recorded. Such incomplete work must be completed during the student’s next semester of residence no later than the last date for deferred examinations as printed in the academic calendar, or within twelve months if the student does not re-enroll in the college during that year. Failure to complete the course by the appropriate deadline will result in a grade of IF or IU.

Absences

Although students incur no administrative penalties for a reasonable number of absences from class or laboratory, they should understand that they are responsible for the academic consequences of absence and that instructors may set specific policies about absence for individual courses.

Absences from Examinations

A student who fails to take any required midterm or final examination at the scheduled time may not make up the examination without written permission from a dean in the Office for Undergraduate Education. Permission will be granted only for illness or other compelling reasons, such as participation in scheduled events off-campus as an official representative of the University. A student who takes any part of a final examination ordinarily will not be allowed to defer or retake that final. Deferred examinations must be taken during the student’s next semester of residence by the last date for deferred examinations in the academic calendar or within twelve months if the student does not re-enroll in the college. Failure to take a deferred examination by the appropriate deadline will result automatically in the grade IF or IU.

Independent Study | Academic Policies & Regulations
In most degree programs, students are given an opportunity to do independent research in close cooperation with members of the college faculty. These opportunities range across all division of the College, from independent laboratory research in the natural sciences to individual directed research in the social sciences and humanities. All credit must be awarded in the semester in which the work is undertaken. For further information, see listings under the various departments and programs.

Residence Requirements | Academic Policies & Regulations

All students, including transfer students, must spend a minimum of four semesters, including their last four semesters, in residence at Emory College, except for special nonresident departmental programs, and those programs approved by the faculty and administered by CIPA.

The last sixty-four semester hours credited toward the degree normally must be earned in Emory College. (See sections on "Transfer Applications: Academic Credit" and "Study at Other Colleges: First or Second Year".)

The minimum number of hours required for a semester of residence is twelve.

Satisfactory/Unsatisfactory Option

A student may elect to take up to twenty of the total semester hours required for graduation from any department or division of the College with the stipulation that grades for courses so elected will be recorded as Satisfactory or Unsatisfactory only and shall not be counted in computing the grade-point average. The grade of Satisfactory carries full academic credit; the grade of Unsatisfactory carries no academic credit. No course used to satisfy general education requirements may be taken on an S/U basis, except for physical education courses other than PE 101 (Health Education). PACE and Washington Semester, which are graded only Satisfactory or Unsatisfactory, do not count toward the twenty hours. A grade of D or better shall be considered as meeting the satisfactory requirement.

A course indicated as S/U may not be changed to a letter grade after the sixteenth calendar day from the first day of classes in the College. One course required for concentration in a given field may be taken on an S/U basis with the approval of the student’s faculty adviser, if the department of concentration so determines.

The Satisfactory/Unsatisfactory option is not applicable to any courses offered by the Goizueta Business School.

Audit Courses

Emory College does not officially recognize audits. Students may therefore not register to audit any college course. With the permission of the instructor, students may unofficially visit any course for which they are eligible to register, but no record is kept of courses so visited.
Student Complaints Procedure | Academic Policies & Regulations

Student complaints can be categorized into four major areas: Academic, Non-academic, Discrimination/Harassment, or Appeals of any of the previously mentioned areas.

Emory practices a methodology that encourages each student to handle complaints as close to the source as possible. Each school has their own procedures usually explained at Orientation or in their respective catalogs. Academic or other concerns usually begin with student service personnel in each school that are then typically able to route their concerns to the appropriate school authority. Student concerns can have many facets and even when escalated, requires a review of issues with school personnel that are closest to the situation. This practice generally results in greater student satisfaction as issues can typically be resolved more quickly. Judgments on the appropriateness of decision regarding complaints made within a college are most appropriately made by individuals with expertise in the particular.

What documentation is required to constitute a formal complaint?

Student complaints must be submitted in writing and accompanied by relevant documentation describing

1. the specific action, practice or decision that is being challenged
2. the impact of the decision
3. what resolution is desired
4. why it should be granted.

To expedite a prompt resolution, complaints should include current contact information of the individual filing the complaint. Responses to the complaint including the final decision will be provided in writing within 10 business days of receipt of the complaint. Complaints can be submitted either in hard copy or via e-mail to the relevant University Officer or Committee.

Where should I submit my formal complaint?

Request for an Exception to an Academic Policy

Requests for exceptions to standing Academic Policy are handled by the Committee on Academic Standards. Students wishing to file for an academic exception should, in the first instance, follow the procedures outlined on the Committee on Academic Standards website. The website can be found at http://college.emory.edu/home/administration/committee/academic_standards/petition.html

Grade Disputes

Students who wish to dispute a grade in a course or assignment should submit their complaint in writing to the Director of Undergraduate Studies in the relevant department. A full list of Directors of Undergraduate Studies can be found by clicking here.

General Complaints

Students who wish to make a general complaint not covered by the processes for academic exceptions or grade disputes should submit those to the Office for Undergraduate Education, White Hall 300, 301 Dowman Drive, Atlanta, 30322 or by e-mailing oue.advising@emory.edu

Official Transcripts | Academic Policies & Regulations

Upon written request to the University registrar, students may receive a copy of their academic transcript or have official transcripts mailed for a minimal charge, provided the student’s record shows no financial indebtedness to the University.

All transcripts include a student’s entire academic record; no partial or incomplete statements of a student’s record will be issued as transcripts.

To ensure prompt receipt of transcripts, students should make requests at a reasonable time prior to need. Delays in issuance may occur immediately before or after a term break.

Transient Study (study at other colleges) | Academic Policies & Regulations

First or Second Year

Newly admitted students who wish to receive credit for work taken at another college after acceptance and before enrollment in Emory College of Arts and Science should secure permission from the dean of admission. After enrollment, permission to take work at another institution in the USA is normally granted only for summer. Students who wish to take summer work elsewhere in the USA after their first year at Emory must secure written permission from the dean before the end of the preceding spring semester and must not be on academic probation after the completion of spring semester.

General Guidelines

For entering first-year students a combined total of twenty-four credit hours of the following types of credit may be granted:

1. AP credits
2. IB, French Baccalaureate, A Level exams, and all other international exams credits
3. Other college credit
4. Transient study credits earned after the freshman year at Emory

Emory College will grant acceleration credit for courses beyond the 24 hours, but no additional credits or GER waivers will be given.

International students (on J-1 or F-1 visa status) who wish to take summer coursework in their home countries after their first year at Emory must meet the requirements for International Transient Studies and complete the Center for International Programs Abroad (CIPA) International Transient Studies application. For more information, please go to CIPA’s website: http://www.cipa.emory.edu.
Credit earned at other institutions may not comprise part of the last 64 semester hours or four semester of work toward a degree in Emory College of Arts and Sciences, except as described under approved off-campus programs such as the Washington Semester and Study Abroad programs or as described immediately below. All credits for non-Emory courses must officially appear on the student’s transcript by the end of their first semester upon return to Emory.

Junior or Senior Year

Students who have completed sixty-four semester hours of course work in Emory college of Arts and Sciences and are in good standing may receive up to sixteen semester hours and one semester of residence credit toward their Emory degree for advanced-level courses taken at another college or university in the USA. All such courses must be approved in advance by the chairs of the appropriate departments at Emory, who must

1. certify the advanced level of the proposed courses, and
2. provide a compelling reason why these courses cannot be taken at Emory.

Approval is required in advance by a dean in the Office for Undergraduate Education and the Committee on Academic Standards.

Students who wish to take courses abroad at an international institution must either do so through an approved CIPA study abroad program or petition to receive credit from a “non-Emory” program. For more information on CIPA’s study abroad programs or the non-Emory program petition process, please visit CIPA’s website: http://www.cipa.emory.edu.

Waivers of Academic Regulations | Academic Policies & Regulations

Students may appeal to the Committee on Academic Standards for waivers of existing academic regulations and requirements in individual cases.

Withdrawals | Academic Policies & Regulations

Partial Course Withdrawal Policy

Revised October 5, 2010.

Emory students may withdraw from one or more courses until the Friday at 4 pm of the sixth full week of class of the semester after the drop-add period providing that the student continues to carry a load of 12 credit hours or is in his/her final semester of residence as a graduating senior. In order for a partial withdrawal to be processed, a student must complete a withdrawal form through the Office for Undergraduate Education, consult with his/her course instructor and advisor of record, and receive signatures from both. These signatures indicate only that consultation has occurred, not that the course instructor and advisor necessarily approve of the student’s decision. Completed forms must be returned to the Office for Undergraduate Education.

In addition, students will be allowed one voluntary withdrawal from a course after the sixth week withdrawal deadline and until the Friday of the tenth week of classes during one of their first two semesters of full-time residency at Emory College provided that they maintain a 12 credit hour course load. Only one late withdrawal is allowed in that first year. An eligible student must complete a withdrawal form and follow the appropriate procedures as outlined above. This voluntary withdrawal policy applies to first-year students, transfer students and to Oxford continuees. This policy does not apply to students who are on study abroad programs.

One additional withdrawal provision is available. After the sixth full week of class after the drop-add period of the semester, a student may petition for a withdrawal from a class based on medical need, family emergency, death in the immediate family or other significant circumstance resulting in unforeseen hardship for the student. Petitions will be reviewed by academic advisors in the Office for Undergraduate Education, who, with the student’s permission, will consult with medical personnel where appropriate. Consultation with instructors, the student’s advisor and/or others will be part of the decision process. Petitions will be considered for approval by a dean of the College.

Cancellation and Complete Withdrawals

Registration may be cancelled through the ninth calendar day from the first day of classes. Cancellation of registration means that no entry for that semester will be made on the student’s transcript. Such cancellation of registration may occur prior to the beginning of a semester.

To cancel registration or withdraw from the college at any time other than the close of a semester, a student must secure written permission from a dean in the College’s Office for Undergraduate Education. Otherwise, honorable dismissal cannot be granted.

A student who withdraws voluntarily before the end of the twenty-third calendar day following the beginning of classes will receive grades of W in all the courses for which he or she is registered that term. Thereafter, a student who withdraws will normally receive grades of WF in all courses. A student may withdraw from all classes for reasons of illness with the approval of a dean in the Office for Undergraduate Education. If a dean grants the complete withdrawal, the student will receive grades of W in all courses for that term. Shortly after a complete withdrawal is processed, the Office for Undergraduate Education, often in consultation with the University Health Service and the University Counseling Center, will officially inform the student in writing as to the terms and timing for readmission.

Refunds of tuition are only partial. A student may cancel registration through the ninth calendar day from the first day of classes, in which case the deposit is forfeited. After the last day for cancellation of registration, a student may withdraw from the college with permission of the dean; the forfeit in withdrawal increases progressively, but is not less than that incurred for cancellation. The schedule of forfeits in withdrawal is as follows: during the second week of the term, 20 percent of tuition charges; during the third week, 40 percent; during the fourth week, 60 percent; during the fifth week, 80 percent. There will be no refunds after the fifth week. No refund is given if only a part of the work is dropped after the last day for approved course schedule changes as specified in the academic calendar. Refunds for first-time Emory University students who are federal (Title IV) aid recipients will be prorated in Involuntary Withdrawal

Emory University considers the safety and welfare of its students, faculty and staff a top priority. When a student engages in behavior that violates Emory’s rules of conduct, the behavior will be addressed as a disciplinary matter under the applicable Student Conduct Code. The Student Conduct Code defines prohibited conduct and outlines a process for conducting disciplinary proceedings.

This Involuntary Withdrawal Policy and Procedure is not a disciplinary code, policy or process. It is not intended to apply to situations in which a student engages in behavior that violates the University’s rules of conduct. It is intended to apply when a student’s observed conduct, actions and/or statements indicate a direct threat to the student’s own health and/or safety, or a direct threat to the health and/or safety of others. There may be situations in which both this Involuntary Withdrawal Policy and the Student Conduct Code may apply. In all cases, the Dean of Emory College shall have final authority regarding the decision, enactment, enforcement and management of the involuntary withdrawal of a student.

Criteria

A student may be withdrawn involuntarily from Emory if the University determines that the student represents a direct threat to the health and safety of himself/herself or others by (1) engaging or threatening to engage in behavior which poses a high probability of substantial harm to himself/herself or others; or (2) engaging or threatening to engage in behavior which would cause significant property damage, would directly and substantially impede the lawful activities of others, or would interfere with the educational process and the orderly operation of the University.

Procedure

When the Senior Associate Dean for Undergraduate Education, or his/her designee, based on a student’s conduct, actions or statements, has reasonable cause to believe that the student meets one or more of the criteria for involuntary withdrawal, he or she may initiate an assessment of the student’s ability safely to participate in the University’s program.

The Senior Associate Dean for Undergraduate Education initiates this assessment by first meeting with the student to:

1. review available information concerning the behavior and/or incidents which have caused concern,
2. provide the student with a copy of this Involuntary Withdrawal Policy and Procedure and discuss its contents with the student,
3. provide the student an opportunity to explain his/her behavior, and
4. discuss options available to the student, including counseling, voluntary withdrawal and evaluation for involuntary withdrawal.

If the student agrees to withdraw voluntarily from the University and waives any right to any further procedures available under this policy, the student will be given a grade of W for all courses, will be advised in writing of any conditions that must be satisfied prior to re-enrollment, and may be referred for appropriate mental health or other health services. If the student refuses to withdraw voluntarily from the University, and the Senior Associate Dean continues to have reasonable cause to believe the student meets one or more of the criteria for involuntary withdrawal, the Senior Associate Dean may require the student to be evaluated by an appropriate mental health professional.

Evaluation

The Senior Associate Dean may refer the student for a mandatory evaluation by an appropriate mental health professional or other appropriate professional. The professional may be selected by the University, so long as there is no cost to the student for the evaluation. A written copy of the involuntary referral shall be provided to the student.

The evaluation must be completed within five school days after the date the referral letter is provided to the student. Prior to the evaluation, the student will be required to sign a written authorization authorizing the exchange of relevant information among the mental health professional(s) (or other professional) and the University. Upon completion of the evaluation, copies of the evaluation report will be provided to the Senior Associate Dean and the student.

The professional making the evaluation shall make an individualized and objective assessment of the student’s ability safely to participate in Emory’s program, based on a reasonable professional judgment relying on the most current professional knowledge and/or the best available objective evidence. This assessment shall include a determination of the nature, duration and severity of the risk posed by the student to the health or safety of himself/herself or others, the probability that the potentially threatening injury will actually occur, and whether reasonable modifications of policies, practices or procedures will sufficiently mitigate the risk. The professional will, with appropriate authorization, share his/her recommendation with the Senior Associate Dean, who will take this recommendation into consideration in determining whether the student should be involuntarily withdrawn from Emory. A copy of the professional’s recommendation will be provided to the student, unless, in the opinion of the professional, it would be damaging to the student to do so.

If the evaluation results in a determination that the student’s continued attendance presents no significant risk to the health or safety of the student or others, and no significant threat to property, to the lawful activities of others, or to the educational processes and orderly operations of the University, no further action shall be taken to withdraw the student from the University.

If the evaluation results in a determination that the continued attendance of the student presents a significant risk to the health or safety of the student or others, such that there is a high probability of substantial harm, or a significant threat to property, to the lawful activities of others, or to the educational processes and orderly operations of the University, the student may be involuntarily withdrawn from the University. In such an event, the student shall be informed in writing by the Senior Associate Dean of the involuntary withdrawal, of his/her right to an informal hearing, of his/her right to appeal the decision of the hearing officer, and of any conditions necessary for re-enrollment. In most cases, a student who is involuntarily withdrawn will be given a grade of W in all courses in which the student is currently enrolled.

Informal Hearing

A student who has been involuntarily withdrawn may request an informal hearing before a hearing officer appointed by the Senior Associate Dean by submitting a written request to be heard within two business days from receipt of the notice of involuntary withdrawal. A hearing will be set as soon as possible. The student shall remain involuntarily suspended pending completion of the hearing.

The hearing shall be informal and non-adversarial. During the hearing, the student may present relevant information and may be advised by an Emory faculty or staff member or a health professional of his/her choice. The role of the advisor is limited to providing advice to the student.

At the conclusion of the hearing, the hearing officer shall decide whether to uphold the involuntary withdrawal or whether to re-consider, and the student shall be provided written notice of the hearing officer’s decision as soon as possible.

Appeal to the Dean

The student may appeal the hearing officer’s decision to the Dean, who shall review all information presented and make a final decision as to whether or not to uphold the involuntary withdrawal.

Emergency Suspension

The University may take emergency action to suspend a student pending a final decision on whether the student will be involuntarily withdrawn, in situations in which:

- there is imminent danger of serious physical harm to the student or others,
- there is imminent danger of significant property damage,
- the student is unable or unwilling to meet with the Senior Associate Dean,
- the student refuses to complete the mandatory evaluation, or
- the Senior Associate Dean determines such other exceptional circumstances exist that suspension is warranted.

In the event emergency action is taken to suspend the student on an interim basis, the student shall be given notice of the emergency suspension and an initial opportunity to address the circumstances on which the emergency suspension is based.

Conditions for Reenrollment

Because this Involuntary Withdrawal Policy applies to cases in which there is a concern about the safety of the student or others, the Dean or his/her designee may require a student who has been involuntarily withdrawn under this Policy to be reevaluated before he/she is readmitted in order to assure that he/ she presents no direct threat to himself/ herself or others.
Arts

Arts programs at Emory bring students, faculty, staff, world-renowned guest artists, and audiences together in a spirit of collaboration and discovery. Whether you choose a course of study in the arts at Emory or choose to attend music, theater, or dance performances, an art exhibition, poetry readings, or film screenings, your imagination will be stirred.

Arts at Emory hosts over 300 events in the performing, visual, and literary arts each year, with internationally acclaimed musicians, numerous student ensembles, a professional theater company, prize-winning poets, novelists, playwrights and much more. Explore the arts and find the complete event calendar at arts.emory.edu.

Dance

The Emory Dance Program interfaces with the Atlanta community by providing free programming including the Women’s History Month Performance Series, the Friends of Dance Lecture Series, Dance for Reel, and the Atlanta Contact Improvisation group. This year the Opening the Space series brought more than three hundred community members into the Schwartz dance studio for classes and an artist talk.

Dance at Emory is prolific, reflecting the cultural diversity of this campus. Students perform, create, collaborate, play, and practice together to express, through the body, their culture and identity. Performing affects the cohesiveness of a group and it sparks individual and group creativity. There are more than fifteen student-led dance groups that are one of a kind. They perform hip-hop, breakdancing, Capoeira, Salsa, Tap, Bhangra, classical Indian, Bollywood, and Stepping. Many groups invent fusion dance styles. They compete, and perform on and off campus.

Film and Media Studies

The Film Studies Department hosts the Cinematheque Film Series, a weekly 35mm film series on Wednesday nights, as well as a number of special screenings and guest speakers throughout the academic year.

Campus MovieFest, the world's largest student film festival, was started by four Emory students in 2000. Students have exactly one week to create a short film that will be judged against those created by their peers. Each team is given equipment, including video cameras and editing software, to use during production of its film. Every year, hundreds of Emory students participate in the competition. At an on-campus red-carpet screening, judges present their favorite films and announce the winners of various categories, including Best Drama and Best Comedy, as well as which films will move on to the regional competition.

The Film and Media Studies curriculum at Emory offers a unique opportunity for graduate and undergraduate film study in a major urban center of more than five million people. Visit filmstudies.emory.edu for details.

Michael C. Carlos Museum

The Michael C. Carlos Museum, Georgia’s premier museum devoted to the art and history of world cultures, is located at the heart of Emory’s campus. Founded in 1919, it is home to the Southeast’s most distinguished collection of art and artifacts from ancient Egypt, Greece, Rome, Nubia, the Near East, Asia, Africa, and the Americas, as well as a works-on-paper collection spanning from the Renaissance to the present. Conservators in the Museum’s conservation laboratory conduct scientific analysis and treatment of museum collections, while creating teaching and training opportunities for students interested in pursuing careers in art, conservation, preservation, and science. The Museum also offers an array of educational opportunities for the Atlanta and Emory communities, including special exhibitions, lectures, audio tours, family guides, gallery talks, children’s programs and summer camps, interactive technology, films, internships, and much more. Admission is free for Emory students, staff, and faculty.

Music

(http://music.emory.edu/undergrad/)

Music offerings at Emory include courses in music and culture, theory and composition, music history and literature, as well as a variety of instrumental, choral, and world music ensembles that are open to all students, faculty, and staff of Emory College and the graduate and professional schools of the University. Auditions are held at the beginning of each academic year and students are encouraged to participate on a credit basis. Music ensembles perform in the Cherry Logan Emerson Concert Hall located in the newly opened 90,000-square-foot Schwartz Center for Performing Arts and in the Performing Arts Studio located in the Burlington Road Building.

Private lessons are offered in all media, including piano, organ, voice, strings, winds, percussion, composition, sitar, erhu, guzheng, and other world music instruments. No private lesson fees are assessed to music majors. Non-majors may take lessons for credit or no credit; additional fees apply. Many of the artist affiliates on the Emory faculty are members of:

- Atlanta Symphony Orchestra
- Atlanta Opera Orchestra
- Emory Chamber Music Society of Atlanta and other professional groups in the metropolitan area

Local, national, and international artists visit the campus regularly for concerts, master classes, and symposia, providing a wealth of concert opportunities at which students hear a wide variety of professional performances. Past performers include:

- Yefim Bronfman
- Gil Shaham
Interested individuals are encouraged to contact the Department of Music for audition and enrollment information.

University Chorus

Numbering between one and two hundred singers, the Emory University Chorus is devoted to the performance of important works of the choral repertoire. Recent performances have included:

- the requiems of Mozart, Fauré, Duruflé, and Brahms
- the Chichester Psalms of Leonard Bernstein
- Duke Ellington’s Sacred Service
- Carl Orff’s Carmina Burana

Membership is open to students from all University disciplines as well as Emory faculty and staff. No audition required.

Emory Concert Choir

(https://music.emory.edu/performance/choral.html)

Emory’s select mixed vocal chamber ensemble performs both a cappella and accompanied works from the Middle Ages to the twentieth century. Recent performances have included:

- J. S. Bach’s Magnificat
- St. John Passion
- the Byrd Mass for Five Voices
- the Poulenc Gloria

The Concert Choir performs throughout the United States and often tours overseas. Along with the University Chorus, the Concert Choir performs each year in Emory’s Festival of Nine Lessons and Carols, a seventy year-old tradition that is a highlight of the Atlanta Christmas season.

Emory Symphony Orchestra

(https://emorysymphony.org)

The Emory Symphony Orchestra presents dynamic and varied performances of repertoire embracing music from the Baroque to the twenty-first century, often combining forces with the Emory choirs to feature masterworks of the rich symphonic-choral tradition. Selected by audition, the orchestra draws its membership from all disciplines across campus. In addition to collaborations with faculty and distinguished guest artists, one concert each year features as guest soloist the winner of the music department’s Student Concerto Competition.
Emory Wind Ensemble

(http://music.emory.edu/windensemble)

The Emory Wind Ensemble is a select group of instrumentalists performing high quality literature for winds and percussion. Programming represents a wide variety of wind band media, styles, and genres over several centuries of composition. The Wind Ensemble performs two concerts each semester on the Emory campus, regularly participates in premieres and the commissioning of new works, and recently released a compact disc recording, Diversions.

Emory Jazz Ensemble and Jazz Combos

(http://music.emory.edu/performance/jazz.html)

The Jazz Ensemble is a standard seventeen-piece jazz band that offers a variety of performance opportunities on and off campus. Its repertoire includes early jazz, big band, swing, and contemporary jazz styles. The jazz combos are open to any instrumentation and are intended to teach varying styles of improvisation using standard tunes.

Chamber Ensembles

(http://music.emory.edu/performance/chamber.html)

Various groups, including quartets, quintets, and septets of different instrumentation for which an audition is required.

Emory Tango Ensemble

(http://music.emory.edu/faculty/tango.html)

An Argentine tango ensemble (strings, piano, woodwinds, guitar) meets on a weekly basis and presents an annual concert in collaboration with Tango Orchestra Club Atlanta. Audition required.

World Music Ensembles

(http://music.emory.edu/performance/world.html)

Ensembles include North Indian classical music (sitar, harmonium, tabla), South Indian classical music (singer, violin, mridangam), Central Javanese gamelan, West Javanese gamelan, Korean percussion ensemble (pungmul and samul nori), Kayagum ensemble, and Tibetan Music ensemble. No audition necessary.

Professional Artists in Residence

Emory Chamber Music Society of Atlanta

(http://music.emory.edu/ensembles)
The Emory Chamber Music Society of Atlanta brings together some of the finest musicians in Atlanta, who are dedicated to performing the most exciting music from the chamber repertoire. With a core membership of seven performers, the group represents a diverse repertoire, ranging from duos to large ensemble works with a variety of instrumentation. Additional performers, as demanded by the season’s repertoire, are drawn from Atlanta’s outstanding musicians. Visiting artists have included:

- cellist Yo-Yo Ma
- Eroica Trio
- Lark String Quartet
- violinist William Preucil

The Vega Quartet

(http://www.vegaquartet.com/)

As Emory’s Artists-in-Residence, the members of the Vega String Quartet offer performances on the Music at Emory concert series, programs in the ECMSA Family and Noontime series at the Michael C. Carlos Museum, “Performers Up Close” discussions for the Department of Music, and outreach to select Atlanta school children.

Theater

Students interested in theater have a wide range of opportunities at Emory. Courses in acting, directing, playwriting, theater administration, design, history, dramatic literature and criticism, and stagecraft are offered by the Department of Theater and Dance. Students may major or minor in Theater Studies. A BA in Playwriting is jointly offered by Theater Studies and Emory’s highly-ranked Creative Writing Program. Many students meet general education requirements through Theater Studies courses.

Theater Emory, the professional company in residence at Emory, provides undergraduates a unique opportunity to perform with professional actors and to work and train in design, research, direction and every aspect of production with experienced professionals. Our faculty consists of working artists who collaborate with students and professionals from Atlanta’s theater community.

Theater Emory is open to all Emory students, regardless of their major. Work study positions are available at Theater Emory and the Department of Theater and Dance. Other opportunities for experience are available through student-run organizations, including:

- Ad Hoc Productions, which produces musical theater
- Starving Artist Productions, which presents a range of plays and also produces films, events, and festivals.
- Rathskellar, an improvisational comedy troupe
- AHANA, which tackles issues of social import with a commitment to multicultural perspectives.
- Alpha Psi Omega, the National Theater Honor Society.

The city of Atlanta has a long-established theater community and many cutting-edge producers and arts collectives.
Questions about activities at Theater Emory can be addressed to 404.727.0524 or by visiting theater.emory.edu; the Department of Theater and Dance can be contacted at 404.727.6463, or visit the web at www.theateranddance.emory.edu.

Visual Arts

The Visual Arts Department and Gallery is Emory’s center for the study and practice of contemporary art. Approaching contemporary art as a cultural prism through which all manner of inquiries pass—literary and historical, scientific and social scientific, ethical and spiritual—the department supports creative work as a vital element of liberal arts education. The department’s courses, exhibitions, lectures and related programming encourage purposeful engagement within a global society through rigorous artistic education and individual voice.

The Emory Visual Arts Gallery exhibits five to seven contemporary art shows each year, including an annual student exhibition in April. Our public programming also includes numerous lectures, panels, and screenings by leading national and international artists, curators, and scholars. Recent exhibitions and lectures include artists such as Sanford Biggers, John Grade, Joel Leivick, Dawoud Bey, Ruth Dusseault, Martha Rosler, Eve Andrée Laramée, Radcliffe Bailey, Alice Aycock, Pat Ward Williams, Lindsey Pollock, and Janine Antoni, among many others, in addition to our own nationally distinguished faculty. The Department also offers membership to Emory Friend of Visual Arts for those in the community who wish to participate in our programming regularly. Additionally, the Emory Art Club (TEAC) provides students with the opportunity to interact with artists and people interested in art through guest lecturers, conferences with professors, and student exhibitions on campus and in the local community.

The Visual Arts Department offers art courses to over four hundred students annually in five disciplines: Drawing and Painting, Photography, Sculpture, Ceramics, and Film/Video. Students can either minor in Studio Art, or for a more intensive experience, can enroll in the Visual Arts/Art History joint major. Advanced courses are also available at collaborating institutions in the Atlanta area through cross-registration. For more information, please contact Visual Arts at 404.727.6315 or visit us online.

Athletics & Recreation

The Athletics and Recreation Department offers opportunities for students of all interests and abilities to become involved in recreational programs, receive academic credit for physical and leisure education courses and participate in varsity athletics as an athlete or spectator. Recreational Services offers a wide variety of Intramural Sports and Club Sports for the competitive or recreational participant as well as various drop-in and instructional fitness programs. For-credit physical education courses are offered through the current Play Emory curriculum, focusing on helping students develop habits to live a healthy and active life.

The George W. Woodruff PE Center (WPEC) houses most of the Athletics and Recreation Department’s programs. Indoor court spaces offer opportunities for playing basketball, volleyball, racquetball, badminton and tennis, while swimmers of all abilities can enjoy the Madeleine Jude Brown Aquatics Center, featuring a heated, Olympic-sized indoor pool for recreational and varsity use. WPEC members who prefer a view from above can take advantage of the climbing walls. Walkers and joggers can get their hearts racing on the state-of-the-art 400-meter outdoor track or take refuge from the elements on the one-eighth mile indoor track. Other WPEC amenities include a dance studio, aerobics room, outdoor tennis courts and a fully equipped fitness corridor, neighbored by a multi-use sport court.

Outdoor green spaces on campus provide acres of space for recreational and varsity activities. Open-use spaces include Kaminsky Intramural Park at Candler fields, which is used primarily for walk-up play, intramural and club sports, while varsity complexes host soccer, baseball and softball. Located in the heart of campus, McDonough Field is open almost year-round for students to play pick-up games.

Careers Center

The Career Center advises the college undergraduate students as to career decision-making, employment opportunities, academic programs, and internships that will enhance their professional development skill set. The Career Center also develops relationships with employers and graduate/professional schools promoting the recruitment of students and alumni. The singular focus of the Career Center is to ensure students develop the self-awareness and skills to not only explore career choices, but take assessment of their skills and interests in making exceptional career choices. The Career Center also houses the PreLaw Advising Office and is a partner with the PreHealth Mentoring Office.

Dining

Eating on Campus

Your college journey can take you just about anywhere, but one thing’s certain, you’re bound to get hungry along the way. Emory Dining gives you countless ways to satisfy your appetite – no matter what it’s asking for.

We have two anchor locations: Dobbs Market, a global cuisine market that provides you with endless opportunities to eat fresh, healthy options from around the world and Cox Hall Market, an a la carte quick–service dining experience.

You’ll also find seventeen additional dining options across the Emory campus. Wherever you decide to eat, you’ll discover that we do more than simply serve food around here. At Emory Dining, we honor the majesty of freshness. We bask in the glory of flavor. We make sure you savor every single bite.

Dining Plan

Emory offers students an assortment of dining plans at varying costs per semester. Entering First Year classes have one meal plan designed to meet their needs and ensure that getting a good meal is not a concern as they begin their college experience. The plan offers open access to the Dobbs Market and an amount of Dooley Dollars that the student can spend at any of the many dining locations across campus. Second-year students have a choice of additional dining plans from which to choose. They may take advantage of dining at Dobbs Market or other residential dining locations along with Dooley Dollars. Students who keep Kosher or follow Halal diet may choose dining Plan K. In addition to limited access to Dobbs Market, this dining plan entitles you to 11 meals per week catered by an approved Glatt
Kosher cater, assuring the highest level of kashrut.

Continuing students may choose from a range of plans at different costs per semester. Those who live in University-operated residence halls must sign up for the minimum dining plan offered. The minimum plan typically will not cover most students’ food needs for an entire semester. Graduate students may sign up for any of the meal plans including a specific discount meal plan for graduate students only. For details and terms of the various meal plans, see the Community brochure or check the website.

Access, Disability Services and Resources

The Office of Access, Disability Services and Resources (ADSR) assists qualified students, faculty, and staff in obtaining equal access and reasonable accommodation. ODS ensures opportunities for reasonable access and participation in all programs, as it promotes the value of a full and rich living, learning, and working experience in our community.

Programs, Services, and Resources:

- Campus Access and Barrier Removal
- Educational Accommodations
- Assistive Technology
- Resources and Advocacy
- ADA Compliance
- Campus/Community Partnerships
- Mobility and Transportation
- Residential Life Accommodations
- Workplace Accommodations
- Outreach Educational Programs

For more information regarding ADSR and the services we provide, please call us at: 404.727.9877 (voice) or 404.712.2049 (TDD). We are located in the Administration Building, Suite 110 on the first floor.

Fraternities & Sororities

The Office of Sorority and Fraternity Life (OSFL) advises the 28 officially recognized Greek letter organizations on the Emory campus to provide members with a fulfilling and rewarding Greek experience. The governing bodies of the fraternities and sororities are the Interfraternity Council (IFC), National Pan Hellenic Council (NPHC), Multicultural Greek Council (MGC), and the Intersorority Council (ISC). Each council is dedicated to academic excellence, promoting brotherhood and sisterhood, leadership development, and service and philanthropy as well as social and service oriented programming for the entire community.

Housing
Residence Life and Housing

The Office of Residence Life and Housing supports student development through residentially-based experiential learning. Through their on-campus residential experience, students are encouraged to develop close relationships with diverse individuals, enhance leadership skills, assume personal responsibility, enrich spiritual skills, build character and discipline, and form a better understanding and genuine acceptance of the many races, cultures, religions, and nationalities that comprise the Emory community and beyond.

In addition to providing programs and resources for student development, the Office of Residence Life and Housing is responsible for the administration of all on-campus residential facilities.

Housing Selection

Students apply for housing online through MyHousing (http://myhousing.emory.edu). Through MyHousing, students may also select rooms (returning students) and meal plans, search for and select roommates, request room changes, submit work orders, and more. MyHousing interfaces with multiple university systems and is the main portal for all housing related requests.

Housing Facilities and Amenities

Residence Life and Housing staff manages all the on-campus residential facilities, including residence halls, theme houses, fraternity and sorority houses, and Clairmont Campus. Housing rates are inclusive of the following utilities: water, electricity, gas, wireless Internet connection, and Emory Cable TV.

Office of LGBT Life

The Office of Lesbian, Gay, Bisexual, and Transgender Life seeks to engage the university community in the creation of an affirming and just campus environment while supporting the development of students of all gender and sexual identities. To achieve its mission, the Office of LGBT Life offers a number of resources and opportunities to undergraduate and graduate students including: dedicated full-time staff members available for meetings, study and social space with a lending library, funding for leadership development, confidential queer discussion groups, student organization advising, Safe Space and other educational training, opportunities to connect with queer faculty, staff, and alumni, and more. For more information about the experiences of queer students at Emory and about the offerings of the Office of LGBT Life, please visit www.lgbt.emory.edu.

Student Media

The Student Media Council governs University-wide student media, serving as a resource board to advocate ethical journalism and media practices. This student-run council deals with other issues related to the general operation of University-wide student media organizations, which now include Alloy, Emory Undergraduate Research Journal, Emory Political Review, EmoryVision, The Emory Wheel, Hybrid Vigor, Lullwater Review, The Emory Spoke, and WMRE.
Religious Life

Office of the Dean of the Chapel and Religious Life

The Office of the Dean of the Chapel and Religious Life is the center of religious services and programs for the Emory campus. The deans work with the other religious leaders appointed by the various denominations and faith traditions. Members of the professional religious life staff are readily available for personal conferences on any matters of concern.

Safety

Emergency Notification

Emory uses e.Notify, a text message notification system, to send out emergency alert messages. In order to receive an e-notification, it is recommended to subscribe by adding cell phone numbers to Emory's Emergency Notify System. All staff, faculty, and students are recommended to sign-up for this free service.

Emergency Phones

There are more than 124 Blue Light phones located throughout the Emory University campus. Blue Light emergency telephones link users directly and exclusively to the Emory Police Department Communications Center. Use these phones to report crime, fire, medical emergencies, or to request a police escort.

Emory Police Department

Emory University Police Department (EPD), provides a variety of public safety services to the Emory community including the student-run Emergency Medical Service (EEMS) and the Fire Safety Division. The police department is a state-certified law enforcement agency and provides all law enforcement services to the community, including criminal investigations, uniformed police services, and crime prevention and community relations programs.

Honor Societies

National

Alpha Epsilon Delta

This national honor society recognizes students who have achieved academic distinction while pursuing a premedical or predental program.

Phi Beta Kappa
The Emory College chapter of Phi Beta Kappa, Gamma of Georgia, was founded in 1929. Election to it is based on scholarship, breadth of culture, and general promise.

Phi Eta Sigma

The Emory College chapter of Phi Eta Sigma, a national honor society for first-year students, acknowledges outstanding scholastic achievement.

Sigma XI

The Emory chapter of Sigma XI encourages original investigation in the pure and applied sciences. The chapter consists of members and associate members, including students, faculty, and staff. Although full membership is based on achievement in original investigation, undergraduate students may be elected to associate membership. Activities include meetings for the discussion of scientific subjects; financial support, through grants-in-aid, of investigations; publication of research; and maintenance of national lectureships.

Who's Who

Who's Who honors college and university students who have made significant contributions to their schools. Selection is based on leadership, service, and scholarship.

Departmental

Outstanding achievement within particular departments and programs is recognized by election to the following societies:

- Anthropology: Lambda Alpha
- Biology: Phi Sigma
- Classics: Eta Sigma Phi
- Economics: Omicron Delta Epsilon
- German: Delta Phi Alpha
- History: Phi Alpha Theta
- Modern Languages: Phi Sigma Iota
- Music: Mu Phi Epsilon
- Neuroscience and Behavioral Biology: Nu Rho Psi
- Physics: Sigma Pi Sigma
- Philosophy: Phi Sigma Tau
- Political Science: Pi Sigma Alpha
- Psychology: Psi Chi
- Religion: Theta Alpha Kappa
- Russian Studies: Dobro Slovo
- Sociology: Alpha Kappa Delta
- Theater: Alpha Psi Omega

Other Emory Societies
Ducemus

A society of five seniors who maintain anonymity while promoting loyalty, wisdom, integrity, tradition, and vision in the life of the Emory community.

DVS, the Senior Society

This honorary society recognizes seven senior students each year for high service rendered to the University without expectation of reward. The society is rich in tradition, having been formed at Emory College in 1902.

Omicron Delta Kappa

ODK recognizes student, faculty, staff, and alumni leadership. Membership is based on character, scholarship, participation in student activities, and service to the University. Members, both men and women, are selected from throughout the University and the Association of Emory Alumni.

Paladin Society

Founded in 1998, the society fosters school spirit and community at Emory.

Student Health and Counseling Services

Emory University Student Health and Counseling Services empowers students to take responsibility for their health and complements the academic mission of the university by providing unified medical, counseling and health promotion services that result in a healthy campus culture. Student Health and Counseling Services is committed to providing caring professional clinical services to a diverse student body and to reducing the stigma associated with seeking mental health services.

Students are involved in promoting a healthy campus culture through volunteer activities with student organizations including the Healthy Campus Coalition, Student Health Advisory Committee (SHAC), Alliance for Sexual Assault Prevention (ASAP), Helpline, Active Minds, Sexual Assault Peer Advocates (SAPA) as well as individual projects, health promotion internships and course assignments. Visit our website to learn more.

Emory students are responsible for notifying professors or instructors of absences caused by illness or injury. EUSHCS providers do not write medical excuses for missed classes or examinations. Of course, EUSHCS healthcare providers can supply the necessary documentation for extended illnesses or injuries, including those necessitating medical withdrawal from classes.

Student Involvement

Office of Student Leadership & Service (OSLS)
The Office of Student Leadership & Service (OSLS) is the hub of student involvement at Emory. From coordinating a number of strong leadership programs to Volunteer Emory, the OSLS offers many opportunities for you to find community at Emory both inside and outside the classroom. Additionally, the OSLS advises and works with the Student Government Association (SGA) and all of the student organizations that SGA recognizes. Visit www.osls.emory.edu to learn more information about the many programs and services that the OSLS offers.

Student Government Association

The Student Government Association is the voice of the entire student body (graduate and undergraduate) to faculty, administrators, and staff. SGA members are elected each spring, in accordance with the Constitution and Bylaws of the organization.

College Council

College Council is a divisional council of SGA that specifically represents Emory College of Arts and Sciences students. The Council advocates on behalf of College students, makes student activity fee decisions, and recognizes student organizations that are directly associated with College students.

Student Programming Council

The mission of the Student Programming Council (SPC) is to enrich the Emory community by providing a variety of quality entertainment for the entire university, making the Emory experience as enjoyable as possible. SPC signature events include: Homecoming Week, Fall and Spring Band Parties, Dooley's Week, and SPC with Love events!

Residence Hall Association

The Residence Hall Association (RHA) provides guidance, education and social programming for residence hall students and the community and serves as a medium for communication among residents, administration and the community.

Barkley Forum

Barkley Forum is Emory's nationally ranked intercollegiate debate team and community outreach program. The forum sponsors the Emory National Debate Institute (ENDI) and the Urban Debate League (UDL), an education reform project that has served more than 40,000 students in 19 U.S. cities. The forum cofounded the National Debate Project, a program designed to implement critical thinking and advanced research skills into the national urban secondary school curriculum.

Outdoor Emory

Outdoor Emory allows students to participate in fun and exciting outdoor recreation and encourages appreciation of and education about the environment. Its pre-orientation trips are an Outdoor Emory tradition.

Special Interest and Activity Clubs
There are more than 375 organizations on campus recognized by the Student Government Association through which students can pursue hobbies or personal interests. These include a diverse array of religious and cultural clubs, service and social concerns organizations, and arts-entertainment and publications-media groups. Additional organizations promote activities related to academics, politics, sports, and diverse avocations. For a complete listing of student organizations, please visit www.studentorgs.emory.edu or the Office of Student Leadership & Service in the Dobbs University Center.

Honor Council

The Honor Council, a body of at least ten annually appointed students, has responsibility for investigating and adjudicating all alleged violations of the Honor Code. Students found to have violated the Honor Code are subject to verbal reprimand, written reprimand, F in the course in question, suspension, dismissal, or a combination of these and other sanctions.

Transportation & Parking

Transportation & Parking

Cliff Shuttles provide transportation throughout campus. For additional information and current hours of operation please visit the transportation website.

Transportation and Parking Services also manage on-campus parking for all faculty, staff and students. More information, including parking locations and costs, can be found on the transportation website.

Vehicle Registration

All students operating automobiles at Emory must register with the Parking Office on the Clairmont Campus, immediately after arrival on campus or as soon as the vehicle is acquired. A fee for all students for registering an automobile is charged and subject to change annually.

Resident Emory College first-year students may not drive or park any vehicle on campus.

Volunteering & Service Learning

Volunteer Emory

Volunteer Emory is your one-stop-shop for community service and social justice work. VE student staff members organize weekly service trips to local schools, nonprofits, and parks, as well as plan regional alternative fall and spring break trips. Volunteer Emory also collaborates with other student groups for large-scale service days both on and off campus. Whether you are looking for a one-time service event or for an ongoing social justice project, Volunteer Emory can connect you. Volunteer Emory is a program of the Office of Student Leadership and Service.

Engaged Scholarship and Learning at Emory
When students first arrive at Emory, they typically feel excited about the intellectual journey ahead but sometimes also feel a little anxious. They may be unsure about what to study, what careers to pursue, or even how to make sense of the world around them. Students may wonder how their classroom learning and scholarly studies relate to the real world or how their college education will prepare them for fulfilling lives once they graduate.

At Emory College, students can choose from a variety of classes, fellowships, internships, and service and research programs that place them in real-world settings, where they learn marketable skills while making valuable contributions to improving local, national, and even international communities. As engaged scholars students can explore career options, connect with diverse populations, and grow intellectually and emotionally.

Center for Community Partnerships (CFCP)

Created by the Office of the Provost in 2000, the Center for Community Partnerships is Emory's centralized resource for integrating teaching, research, and service to benefit the Atlanta community. Through academic courses, research programs, and service projects, CFCP connects community groups, organizations, and agencies to Emory faculty, staff, and students who can assist them in addressing a specific concern or need. CFCP also promotes scholarship in the public interest by mobilizing and focusing Emory's intellectual capital on issues of critical importance to the metro Atlanta region. For more information about these programs, visit the website or call 404.712.9893.

Emory Scholars Program

This program offers Emory Scholars a range of opportunities to connect scholarship with service, including summer internships, study abroad, and volunteer opportunities. Whether individually or in groups, scholars also can become involved in the metro Atlanta arts community by attending ticketed cultural events. Scholars may be reimbursed for a maximum of five events per semester, up to $20 per ticket.

For more information please visit the website or call 404.727.9297.

Center for Ethics

The Center For Ethics strives to ignite moral imagination, to deepen knowledge of ethics, and to encourage lives of moral meaning and ethical practice throughout the Emory community. The center frequently collaborates with campus organizations and University departments to host public events exploring pressing ethical issues.

Center for Science Education

This program connects students in the sciences with enriching opportunities to teach and mentor K-12 students about scientific concepts. By sharing their own love of the sciences through a series of problem-based learning exercises, Emory's emerging science scholars help nurture a new generation of scientists and mathematicians. The Center also offers career information for students and curriculum resources for instructors.
Learn about classes and summer programs at the website or call 404.712.9242.

Carter Center

The Carter Center, in partnership with Emory, advances peace and health worldwide. Under the leadership of former President Jimmy Carter, a University Distinguished Professor, and Rosalynn Carter, the center brings to campus a wide range of international scholars and world leaders. The Jimmy Carter Library and Museum contains more than twenty-seven million documents, photographs, films, and mementos of the Carter Presidency.

Confidentiality

Students are expected to be aware of and abide by specific policies formulated by Emory University concerning confidentiality. What follows is a brief summary; the full statements of this policy, as well as those of other University policies, are published annually in the Campus Life Handbook.

Emory University recognizes a student’s right of privacy and is committed to protecting students from improper disclosure of private information. Regarding the confidentiality of the information that becomes a part of the student’s permanent records and the conditions of its disclosure, the University has adopted a policy that reflects a reasonable balance between its obligations for the protection of the rights and privacy of the students and its responsibility to society.

University-Student Relationships

The Board of Trustees of Emory University has adopted a statement of policy dealing with University-student relationships, a digest of which follows:

1. Emory University was founded on Christian principles by the Methodist Episcopal Church and proudly continues its church relationship as an agency dedicated to seeking and imparting truth.
2. Emory University admits qualified students of any sex, sexual preference, race, color, national origin, religious preference, age, or veteran’s status, and qualified handicapped students to all of the rights, privileges, programs, and activities generally accorded or made available to students at Emory University. It does not discriminate on the basis of race, color, national origin, religion, sex, sexual orientation, age, disability, or veteran’s status in administration of its educational policies, admissions policies, scholarship and loan programs, or athletic and other Emory University-administered programs.
3. Attendance at Emory University is a privilege and not a right; however, no student will be dismissed except in accordance with prescribed procedures. Students applying for admission do so voluntarily and are free to withdraw at their pleasure, subject to compliance with the regulations of their school or college governing withdrawal and to the fulfillment of their financial obligations to the University.
4. Upon matriculation at Emory, each student agrees to be bound by the rules, policies, procedures, and administrative regulations as they exist at the time of admission and as they may be changed by duly constituted authority.
5. By admission as a student at Emory University, a person acquires the right to pursue the course of study to which he or she is admitted and to be treated with the dignity appropriate to an adult person in all matters relating to the University; in the same spirit the student shall comply with the rules and regulations of Emory University.

6. Students will be provided the opportunity to participate in the development of rules and procedures pertaining to University affairs to the extent that such participation and the results thereof, as determined by the Board of Trustees or its designated agent, are consistent with orderly processes and with the policies and administrative responsibilities of the Board of Trustees and the administration.

7. The University expects students to conduct themselves with dignity, courtesy, responsibility, and integrity, and with due respect for the rights of others, realizing that sobriety and morality are not only characteristics of a mature and responsible person but are essential to the maintenance of a free and orderly society.

8. Membership in and rules governing admission to student organizations shall be determined by the organizations themselves, and such rules shall not be required to be uniform so long as the same do not contravene any policy established by the Board of Trustees.

9. Emory University is an educational institution, not a vehicle for political or social action. It endorses the right of dissent and protects and encourages reasonable exercise of this right by individuals within the University. Because the right of dissent is subject to abuse, the Board of Trustees and the president have published a statement to clarify policy concerning such abuse, a digest of which follows:

   1. Individuals associated with Emory represent a variety of viewpoints; the University fosters the free expression and interchange of differing views through oral and written discourse and logical persuasion.
   2. Dissent, to be acceptable, must be orderly and peaceful and represent constructive alternatives reasonably presented.
   3. Coercion, threats, demands, obscenity, vulgarity, obstructionism, and violence are not acceptable.
   4. Demonstrations, marches, sit-ins, or noisy protests that are designed or intended to or which do disrupt normal institutional pursuits will not be permitted.
   5. Classes and routine operations will not be suspended except for reasonable cause as determined by the president.
   6. Administrators, faculty, other employees, and students are expected to abide by these standards of conduct in promoting their views, particularly dissent.
   7. Persons who are not so inclined should not become associated with Emory nor continue to be associated with Emory.
   8. Academic and administrative procedures will protect individuals in their right of free expression and provide for prompt and appropriate action against those who abuse such right.

Speakers

Students are expected to be aware of and abide by specific policies formulated by Emory University concerning speakers invited to campus. What follows is a brief summary; the full statements of these policies, as well as those of other University policies, are published annually in the Campus Life Handbook.
When a student organization invites a speaker from outside the University to speak on campus, the event is the shared responsibility of the inviting student organization and the University. In keeping with the principle of academic freedom, Emory University supports and encourages the exchange of ideas within the University community, including ideas that may be unpopular or controversial. To this end, the University is committed to providing a forum for student-sponsored expression of divergent points of view. At the same time, the University encourages civility and has the obligation to address issues of safety and disruptive conduct. The president or the president’s designee(s) reserve(s) the right to modify the circumstances or withdraw the invitation to speak when a risk of violence or substantial disruption of the operation of the University can reasonably be foreseen.

Discrimination & Harassment

Students are expected to be aware of and abide by specific policies formulated by Emory University concerning discrimination and harassment. What follows is a brief summary; the full statements of these policies, as well as those of other University policies, are published annually in the Campus Life Handbook.

It is the policy of Emory University that all employees and students should be able to enjoy and work in an educational environment free from discriminatory harassment. Harassment of any person or group of persons on the basis of race, color, national origin, religion, sex, sexual orientation, age, handicap, or veteran’s status is a form of discrimination specifically prohibited in the Emory University community. Any employee, student, student organization, or person privileged to work or study in the Emory University community who violates this policy will be subject to disciplinary action up to and including permanent exclusion from the University. The scholarly, educational, or artistic content of any written, oral, or other presentation or inquiry shall not be limited by this policy. The preceding provision is liberally construed with the intent that academic freedom shall be allowed to all members of the academic community; however, this provision shall not be used as a pretextual basis for violation of the policy.

Sexual Assault

Students are expected to be aware of and abide by specific policies formulated by Emory University concerning sexual assault. What follows is a brief summary; the full statements of these policies, as well as those of other University policies, are published annually in the Campus Life Handbook.

The Emory University community expects all of its members to treat other persons with respect and dignity and will not tolerate any form of sexual assault. Sexual activity should be explicitly agreed upon by all parties. The University shall proceed with disciplinary and/or remedial actions as needed when it appears that the University’s prohibition against any form of sexual abuse has been violated. A student charged with sexual assault may be disciplined under the University’s code of student conduct as well as prosecuted under Georgia’s criminal statutes. The University also has in place procedures to provide emotional and medical support to a victim of sexual assault within the Emory community.

Requirements: A minimum of 36 hours. Six courses with wholly African content. The remainder must have 1/3 to 1/2 African content (see http://ias.emory.edu/undergraduate.cfm for approved courses). Courses taken through study abroad that meet these content requirements are acceptable if approved by the director of undergraduate studies. Sixteen credit hours of courses on an approved program may count. Majors take one each from the following options: (1) AFS 263 or 280; (2) AFS 221, 364, 367 or 282; and (3) AFS 490S WR.

Majors demonstrate competence (through the 102 level) in a language other than English that is widely used in Africa. Eligible languages taught at Emory include French, Portuguese, and Arabic. Students who wish to use an African language may petition to demonstrate competence through testing.

Minor in African Studies

- Minor Code: AFSMIN
- Degree Awarded: None
- Hours to complete: 20
- Required courses: 5-7

Requirements: Minimum of 20 hours. Including at least four courses with wholly African content. Students may take one course with 1/3 to 1/2 African content (see http://ias.emory.edu/undergraduate.cfm for approved courses). It is recommended that students take AFS 263 or 280 early in their course work to develop a framework for the minor. Twelve credit hours from study abroad may be counted.

Programs

Honors Program:

See “Honors Program” under the curriculum section of the catalog, and consult the department for further details.

For more information, see Honors Program.

Study Abroad:

Students are strongly encouraged to participate in study or research abroad through one of Emory's approved programs in Africa: the St. Lawrence program in Kenya, Emory's South African summer internship, CIEE Senegal semester/year program in Dakar, SIT Development Studies in Uganda, SIT Post-Conflict Studies in Uganda/Rwanda, African studies in London at the SOAS, Human Rights at the University of Witswatersrand, and African studies at the University of Cape Town, South Africa. To ensure acceptance of credit for study abroad, a student must take at least one course on Africa at Emory prior to leaving, as well as seek approval in advance of courses to be taken and counted towards the major or minor. For approved programs, students may count up to 16 credit hours of courses per semester towards the major, or a total of 12 semester hours towards the minor.

For more information, see Study Abroad.

African American Studies Department

African American Studies (AAS) is a multidisciplinary and interdisciplinary department in which a student may concentrate for the bachelor of arts degree. The department focuses primarily on the experiences of persons of African descent within the United States, yet there is also a strong emphasis on persons of African descent throughout the African diaspora. The AAS major is comprised of courses in the humanities, social sciences, and the arts. Majors are introduced to theories of race, class, gender, sexuality and culture as they influence the formation of identities and communities among people of African descent. The organization of the major is designed to provide students with a structured yet flexible conceptual framework within which to study African American and African diaspora experiences. In addition to course work at Emory, majors, minors and other students are strongly encouraged to participate in our study abroad programs at the University of the West Indies in Jamaica, the University of the Virgin Islands in St. Thomas, and in Cape Town, South Africa. Majors in African American Studies are required to complete an internship in spring semester of their senior year. This enables students to obtain valuable practical experience with one of the department's metro Atlanta partners.

Concentrations

Major in African American Studies
Major Code: AAS
Degree Awarded: BA
Hours to complete: 38 - 44
Required courses: 11

Requirements: Eleven courses (thirty-eight to forty-four semester hours) are required for the major in African American studies, which includes four to eight semester hours in an internship during the spring semester of the major’s senior year. Emphasizing the rich traditions of African Americans in the humanities and the social sciences, the major is divided into the following interrelated sectors:

Prerequisites: AAS 100, Introduction to African American Studies, is a required course for African American studies majors and minors and should be taken prior to enrolling in other AAS courses.

1. Introduction to the field (AAS 100): introduces the major disciplines and topics that make up African American studies and provides orientation to faculty, institutional, and community resources, and a foundation for subsequent course work and a research project in the field. AAS 100 is a required course for African American studies majors and minors and should be taken prior to enrolling in other AAS courses.

2. Areas of study: Africa and the diaspora (two courses required, with one focusing upon continental Africa); expressive arts and culture (three courses required); and identities, ideologies, and institutions (three courses required).

3. Senior seminar (African American Studies 490): multidisciplinary in nature, the readings of the senior seminar reflect the centrality of the historical and cultural contributions of African Americans to American history and culture.

4. Internship (African American Studies 496): the internship program encourages majors to become participants rather than simply recipients of the educational process. Majors are assigned to an internship in the fall, and they are enrolled in an internship the spring of their senior year. Majors may earn a maximum of eight credit hours during the period of the internship. Opportunities for internships exist with a number of public and private institutions whose focus is upon African American life and history. These institutions include The Atlanta Project of The Carter Center and the Martin Luther King Jr. Center for Nonviolent Social Change. Permission of the director is required.

5. Contributing courses (one elective): This organizational scheme is designed to provide students with both structure and flexibility, as well as a coherent conceptual framework within which to study African American– and Africandiaspora history and culture.

Minor in African American Studies

Minor Code: AASMIN
Degree Awarded: None
Hours to complete: 23
Required courses: 6

Requirements: Six Courses are required for the minor in African American studies. The minor is divided into:

1. Introduction to the field (African American Studies 100); and
2. Areas of study:
   - Africa and the diaspora (one course required);
   - expressive arts and culture (one course required); and
   - identities, ideologies, and institutions (two courses required, one focusing on history before 1900).

American Studies Program

American Studies will teach you how to think expansively and critically about American culture. Our courses will allow you to understand the patterns of American culture as they have changed over time, and as they are reflected in the particular experiences of Americans from different regions, social classes, races, ethnicities, genders and national backgrounds. The major will immerse you in the subject of American culture, as well as in the interdisciplinary methods of American Studies, which seek insight through multiple perspectives on phenomena, events, or currents in American culture. You will be exposed to several disciplinary perspectives through the Contributing Courses and also to models for integrating such perspectives in the Core Course, the Introduction, and the Senior Symposium. Our major is designed to help you explore the borders of American nationality as well as the contexts in which the American experience has unfolded. Our faculty have a wide range of scholarly interests and are affiliated with the English, Women's Studies, Sociology, Religion and History Departments at Emory.

The major will emphasize the interdisciplinary study of cultural forms, practices, institutions, technologies, and social movements in American history and culture. Both individual courses and the program as a whole will give special attention to the interactions of gender, place and region, race and ethnicity, and social class as cultural patterns. While we take the United States as our primary field of reference, we do so understanding that the internal borders of region and the external borders of nation have changed over time. We thus encourage work that explores America as a place, a population, and a set of historical events, and we will encourage each major to include courses with a comparative dimension or ones that offer an international context for the development of American culture.

We seek to give students a broad base in the sweep of American history (in our introductory course and in the requirement of one other course in American History) and exposure to the way that different disciplines offer insight into American history (hence the requirement to take one contributing course in social science and one in humanities). In the core courses, students will choose from a range of deeply interdisciplinary courses as they learn to apply the basic models of the introductory course to a variety of events and social phenomena in American history. The senior symposium will function as a capstone seminar, one that will bring students to a certain level of sophistication about American Studies as a scholarly field. In that seminar, students will learn about the history of American Studies and participate in a research seminar around a common theme (such as the legacy of slavery or the Vietnam War).

American Studies began as an intellectual movement in universities and colleges and there are over two hundred American Studies programs in the United States (and even more abroad). It is therefore a degree that is recognizable to professional schools, graduate programs, and employers. It can prepare students for a wide range of careers: in law, business, teaching, journalism, the arts, philanthropy and museums. Our majors will be taught how to think critically about the complex social system in which they live, which is an exemplary way to combine a liberal arts education with vocational interests.

Concentrations

Major in American Studies

| Major Code: | AMERST |
| Degree Awarded: | BA |
| Hours to complete: | 44 |
| Required courses: | 11 |
Requirements: The major requires 44 credits:

- Introduction to American Studies (AMST 201, a Writing Lab course carrying 5 credits)
- At least six Core Concentration Courses in American Studies
- Three Contributing Courses
  - one in Broad Historical Perspectives
  - one in Humanities Perspectives
  - one in Social Science Perspectives
- Senior Symposium (AMST 490)

Meeting with your advisor regularly is the key to creating a concentration that gives real depth and insight into some aspect of American culture. Note when selecting courses:

- Many courses in other departments can count towards the major (with approval of the DUS). Anthropology, Art History, English, History, Political Science, Religion, Sociology, Human and Natural Ecology, Science, Culture and Society all regularly offer interdisciplinary seminars that are focused on American topics. Any course in African American studies can count toward the American Studies Major.
- We strongly encourage students to select at least one course in their concentration that is either comparative or stretches the boundaries of the United States. Courses in Latin and Caribbean Studies, African Studies, Asian Studies, IDS, are often a way to enrich your understanding of the US in global context.
- The required Senior Symposium is offered only in the Fall and carries 4 credits. If you are planning to study abroad in fall of your senior year, consult early with the DUS, as you should take the course in your junior year.
- Freshman seminars cannot count toward the major.
- If you are double-majoring, up to two courses from your other major plan can count toward your American Studies major (also known as “double-dipping”).

- Cross-Listed: AAS 275: Black Images In The Media

Course Description: Students in this course will study representations of African Americans in major forms of mass media, including newspapers, literature, radio, television and film. We will review the historical development of those images and trace their progression to the present. We also will study the impact of negative portrayals of African Americans on the self-images of blacks and assess the effect of those representations on whites and the society at large. Moreover, the class will examine ways that black image-makers have portrayed African Americans through Hip Hop and film, and we will attempt to predict trends and solutions for the future.

Ancient Mediterranean Studies Program

The Program in Ancient Mediterranean Studies (AMS) is an interdisciplinary program that is a collaborative attempt to make the world of the ancient Mediterranean and its Greek, Roman, Egyptian, and Near Eastern cultures and their legacies and traditions an integral part of the humanities at Emory. To this end, AMS provides an interdisciplinary major among the fields of art history, classics, history, Middle Eastern studies, philosophy, and religion, presents colloquia and conferences, and offers opportunities for independent study and study abroad.

Concentrations

Major in Ancient Mediterranean Studies

Major Code: ANCMED
Degree Awarded: BA
Hours to complete: 36
Required courses: 9-12
Requirements: The major in Ancient Mediterranean Studies requires from nine to twelve courses which together come to 36 hours. These include a minimum of two courses at the introductory and intermediate levels; a minimum of two courses in an ancient language; a minimum of four courses taken at the advanced level; and a senior research project. At the introductory level, all students are required to take AMS 101. All students must complete at least one of AMS 201 or 202, or an approved substitute for 202 (Introduction to Mediterranean literature). If both are taken, then one may be used to fulfill a course in Part 4 below. Majors must complete training in an ancient Mediterranean language with at least two language courses, at least one of which must be taken at the 200 level or above. Language courses are to be chosen from among appropriate courses in Classical Greek, Latin, and Biblical Hebrew. The program director will evaluate requests to take intermediate course work in other ancient languages such as Akkadian, Aramaic, Ugaritic, or other, only after the student has taken all regularly offered course work in that language.

For their upper-level course work students must complete a minimum of four courses at this level. At least one course must be taken that emphasizes nonmaterial culture and the other should emphasize material culture. Any upper-level courses taught by the faculty of the program may be used to fulfill this area. Such courses must be considered as upper level by the departments offering them and count in that manner for their own concentrators. Advanced language/literature courses (above 201) in any of the ancient Mediterranean languages may also be used to satisfy this requirement. If both AMS 200-level courses are taken, one of them may also be used to satisfy this requirement, but it cannot count as the only course taken in either nonmaterial or material culture. At least two of the courses must be at the 300 or 400 level. The senior research project, AMS 498R, Independent Writing, is a capstone to the student’s major in which the student, working closely with a faculty member from the program, completes a significant piece of research and writing (not less than 20 pages in length and in which primary sources of information play a major role). The instructor undertaking to supervise this project will work closely with the students in deepening their research and writing skills. This supervision includes correcting, returning, and discussing drafts of the project. All available faculty in the program are eligible to direct a research paper under this course number. The instructor may choose to supervise this project as purely independent research and writing but may ask that the student also sit in an existing class that could provide significant background to the student’s research.

Programs

Honors Program:

If the student qualifies for and chooses to do honors, an honors thesis of substantially greater length (consult the director for full requirements) will substitute for the Senior Research Project. The student who qualifies for and chooses to pursue honors will take AMS 495R, Honors Independent Writing, for the two terms preceding the degree, and the honors thesis will be submitted according to the requirements. (In some circumstances, AMS 498R may substitute for the first of the two terms.) If the student fails to complete the honors project, the student will still be required to submit a paper of not less than 20 pages in length which will count as the student’s senior research project.

See “Honors Program” under the curriculum section of the catalog and consult the department for further details.

Anthropology Department

Anthropology is the scientific and interpretive study of humankind, from its beginnings millions of years ago to the present day. The discipline of anthropology begins with a simple but enormously powerful idea: that any particular aspect of human biology and behavior can be fully understood only when it is placed against a background provided by the full range of variability found in human biology and behavior worldwide. This is the comparative perspective, the attempt to explain both the similarities and differences among people in the context of humanity as a whole. Anthropology is therefore composed of multiple subfields. We offer courses in cultural, biological, linguistic, medical, and psychological anthropology. Anthropology majors receive a sound liberal arts education, which provides a needed edge in today's competitive world of careers. Anthropology's scope and intellectual roominess can prepare students to make objective, far-sighted decisions at the professional level in any career field. Anthropology graduates go on to careers in professional anthropology, medicine, law, social work, public health, environmental studies, teaching, translation, laboratory research, international business, and government. Emory students benefit from a variety of excellent resources for studying anthropology. There are six department laboratories: the Laboratory for Human Osteology; the Laboratory for Comparative Human Biology; the Laboratory of Reproductive Ecology and Environmental Toxicology; the Laboratory of Biogeochemical Anthropology; the Paleolithic Technology Laboratory, and the Laboratory for Darwinian Neuroscience. Students also have opportunities to be involved with ongoing research at the Sloan Foundation's MARIAL Center (Myth and Ritual in American Life), the Yerkes National Primate Research Center, the Center for Behavioral Neuroscience, the Michael C. Carlos Museum and The Carter Center. For those students interested in medical anthropology, Emory is affiliated with the United States Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC), and the Rollins School of Public Health. The department sponsors the Emory chapter of the Lambda Alpha National Anthropology Honor Society.

Concentrations

Major in Anthropology [BA]
Major Code: ANTH
Degree Awarded: BA
Hours to complete: 36
Required courses: 12

Requirements: A bachelor of arts degree in anthropology requires a minimum of twelve anthropology courses of 3 or 4 credit hours, with a minimum of a C average in the major. A maximum combined total of eight hours of ANT 397R (Directed Readings), ANT 495 (Honors), and ANT 497R (Undergraduate Research) may be applied toward the major. Only one 100 level course may be used to satisfy the BA requirements (for a total of four 100 level credits). No courses taken using the S/U option may be applied toward the major. A maximum of twelve credit hours earned off the Emory campus may be applied toward the major. Note: Petitions for course substitutions and exceptions will be considered by the Anthropology Undergraduate Concerns Committee. The courses required for the BA must be distributed as follows:

Required Courses: BA majors must take both:
1. Anthropology 201: Concepts and Methods in Biological Anthropology
2. Anthropology 202: Concepts and Methods in Cultural Anthropology

In addition, all BA majors are required to take one course from the Ant 280R: Anthropological Perspectives on a World area series

Electives: Course offerings for additional courses required for the major can be found in the Course Atlas each semester.

Minor in Anthropology

Minor Code: ANTHMIN
Degree Awarded: None
Hours to complete: 18
Required courses: 6

Requirements: A minor in anthropology may be earned by completion of six 3- or 4-credit hour anthropology courses (a minimum of 18 credit hours). Minors must include ANT 201 (Concepts and Methods in Biological Anthropology) or ANT 202 (Concepts and Methods in Cultural Anthropology). Only one course at the 100 level may be applied toward requirements for the minor. A maximum combined total of four hours of ANT 397R (Directed Readings), ANT 495 (Honors), and ANT 497R (Undergraduate Research) may be applied toward the minor. No courses taken using the S/U option may be applied toward the minor. A maximum of four credit hours earned off the Emory campus, including study abroad, may be applied toward the minor.

ANT 200: Foundations of Behavior:

General Information

Credit Hours: 3
GERs: SNT
Cross-Listed: NBB 201: Foundations Of Behavior
Course Description: This course presents an introduction to evolutionary processes and biological bases of behavior. Lectures and readings will be organized around a developmental and life history perspective and will emphasize the importance of context in biological mechanisms and the interaction of social life, behavior, and cognition. Examples drawn especially from humans and nonhuman primates will be used to place human behavior in the context of other species and to illustrate the dual inheritance of biology and culture in our species. Topics covered will include evolutionary mechanisms, adaptation, phylogenetic constraints, neural and neuroendocrine mechanisms of behavior, life history theory, developmental programs, principles of allometry, sexual selection and alternative reproductive strategies, social bonds and socialization, and the cognitive bases of social interaction in humans and nonhumans.

Programs

Honors Program:

Juniors who have a minimum cumulative GPA and major GPA of 3.5 are invited by the department to apply to join the Honors Program as they preregister for their senior year. The Honors Program entails directed, original research (Anthropology 495A and 495B), a thesis, an oral defense, and successful completion of a graduate course.

For more information, see Honors Program.

Study Abroad:

The Department of Anthropology strongly encourages its students to pursue study abroad. Study abroad is a rich and invaluable educational opportunity, and is particularly desirable for the serious anthropology student. Students who are interested in study abroad should contact the Center for International Programs Abroad. This office has information about programs around the world and the types of classes available in these programs.

In order to ensure that majors receive the necessary breadth and specific vision that Emory’s Department of Anthropology offers, students may apply no more than twelve credit hours (three classes) of off-campus credit toward any anthropology major. (This includes transfer credit from American schools, as well as study abroad.)

In order to obtain Emory credit for courses taken at another institution, students are strongly urged to seek course credit equivalency approval before leaving Emory. Although students may submit courses for Emory credit post facto, there is no guarantee that the courses taken will be approved by the department.

Finally, all approved credit is pending satisfactory completion of the course. To obtain Emory equivalency credit, students should bring the appropriate CIPA form, along with syllabi or official course descriptions to the Department of Anthropology Office (207 Anthropology Building). The more detailed the information you can provide about the course, the better our ability to evaluate the course for credit. These materials will be reviewed by the director of undergraduate studies in Anthropology, and credit will be approved or denied. Petitions for course substitutions and waivers will be considered by the Anthropology Undergraduate Concerns Committee. Applications are available in the Department of Anthropology office.

For more information, see Study Abroad.
Art History Department

The Department of Art History offers courses in the art and architecture of all the principal periods and areas of Western history, including classical antiquity, the Middle Ages, the Renaissance, the seventeenth and eighteenth centuries, modern European, American, African American, and contemporary. Non-Western fields of study include ancient Egyptian, ancient American, African, Caribbean, and Islamic art. Some museum experience can be gained through course work as well as internships at the Michael C. Carlos Museum, the High Museum of Art, and similar institutions in the Atlanta area. The department conducts annual summer programs away from Atlanta that can be taken for full credit. The locations, which vary, have recently been in France and Italy. Interested students should contact the department for further information.

Concentrations

Major in Art History

| Major Code: | ARTHIST |
| Degree Awarded: | BA |
| Hours to complete: | 37 |
| Required courses: | 11 |
| Requirements: | Thirty-seven credit hours including: |
| | 1. Thirty-three credit hours (ten courses) of art history; of these, minimum thirteen hours (four courses) must be at the 300 level or above; of these four courses, at least one course (4 hours) must be at the 400-level. |
| | 2. Both of the introductory survey courses (ARTHIST 101 and 102) are required, but may not be applied to the four divisions (see below). |
| | 3. Four hours (one course) of any visual arts class. |
| | 4. Only one visual arts course (4 hours) may be applied to the major. |
| Majors will normally be required to take at least one course in each of the following four divisions: |
| 1. Ancient Mediterranean |
| 2. Medieval, Renaissance and Baroque Europe |
| 3. Modern and Contemporary art and architecture in Europe, the United States, Africa, and the African Diaspora |
| 4. Ancient Americas, Africa, Islam, and Asia |
| Neither Honors (ARTHIST 495), nor an Internship (ARTHIST 397) apply to the major. Only one course (variable credit, maximum 4 credit hours) in Supervised Reading and Research (ARTHIST 398) may be applied to the major. |
| Honors students are required to take one advanced seminar (normally at the ARTHIST 500 or 700 level) that can be counted toward the major. |
| NOTE: The College permits only one course (3 or 4 credit hours) taken S/U to apply to the major or minor upon approval of the department. |

Minor in Art History

| Minor Code: | ARTHISTMIN |
Degree Awarded: None

Hours to complete: 22

Required courses: 7

Requirements: Twenty-two credit hours including:

- Eighteen credit hours (six courses) of art history; two of those courses (6 credit hours) must be at the 300 level or above.
- Four credit hours (one course) of any visual arts class.

One of the introductory survey courses (ARTHIST 101 or 102) may be applied to the minor, but not to the four divisions (see below).

Minors will normally be expected to take at least one course in each of at least three of the following divisions:

1. Ancient Mediterranean
2. Medieval, Renaissance and Baroque Europe
3. Modern and Contemporary art and architecture in Europe, the United States, Africa, and the African Diaspora
4. Ancient Americas, Africa, Islam, and Asia

Neither Honors (ARTHIST 495), nor an Internship (ARTHIST 397) apply to the minor. NOTE: The College permits only one course (3 or 4 credit hours) taken S/U to apply to the minor upon approval of the department. The minor concentration in art history responds to the needs of those students pursuing a major in another field who would like to expand their knowledge of the art of various cultures and of art-historical research methods. The minor offers flexibility in the selection of courses to suit the interests of students in other fields of the humanities or sciences seeking the broad cultural perspective that art history provides.

Programs

Honors Program:

Requirements for enrollment in the Honors Program in the Art History Department in general conform to the regulations set out by Emory College.

Students who have a GPA of 3.5 or above at the end of their first three years may apply for the Art History Honors Program. In order to remain eligible, the GPA must still be at 3.5 or above throughout the senior year. Students interested in enrolling in the Honors Program should contact the Art History Department's Honors Coordinator during the spring semester of their junior year. Outstanding majors are encouraged to apply; final selection of participants, however, rests with the Art History Department.

Students in the Art History Honors Program must complete an Honors thesis, normally between thirty and fifty pages in length. They are also required to enroll in one advanced seminar, which is usually at the graduate level, and typically, though not necessarily, in a subject related to that of their thesis. In addition to the seminar, students must enroll in ARTHIST 495 in both the fall and spring semesters, during which time they research and write a thesis under the supervision of a faculty member. The preliminary research is presented to faculty and students at a symposium at the end of the fall semester. The thesis is then defended orally in the spring before a committee of three examiners one of whom must be a faculty member from outside the Art History department.

Students who are interested in enrolling in the Honors program need to choose the area in which they wish to write a thesis, identify a topic or question they wish to explore, and contact the appropriate faculty member to see if he or she is able to work with them. Unfortunately, it is not always possible for professors to accept Honors students. Although students cannot officially register in the program until the fall, it is necessary to establish a topic and advisor in the spring semester of the junior year, so that a one-page thesis proposal can be written in consultation with the advisor. This must be accepted by the department before the end of the semester. Students are then invited to participate in the Honors program.

Once the proposal is accepted, it is advisable to begin initial reading and research over the summer. If the student is intending to go on to study art history at the graduate level, writing an Honors thesis will be a particularly valuable experience.

Students who have questions, or who would like to discuss in more detail what is involved in the Honors program, should contact the Art History Department at 404.727.6282, where they will be directed to the Honors Coordinator.

For more information, see Honors Program.

Study Abroad:
The department conducts annual summer programs away from Atlanta that can be taken for full credit. The locations, which vary, have recently been in France and Italy. For semester programs administered by Emory (CIPA) or other institutions, interested students should contact the Department Coordinator for Study Abroad for further information.

For more information, see Study Abroad.

Advising:

Students must declare a Major/Minor through the departmental office. They will be assigned a faculty adviser who will guide them in the fulfillment of the requirements.

Language Study:

Reading competence in a foreign language for the study of art history. Further language study (preferably at least one other) is highly recommended for those students who intend to pursue graduate work in art history.

Internship:

Carlos Museum, the High Museum of Art, commercial art galleries, architecture firms, and other art-related organizations. Students must consult with the Internship Coordinator. Internships carry academic credit (ARTHIST 397) but do not count toward the Major or Minor requirements.

An internship consists of specific art- or architecture-related work experience supervised by the personnel of cooperating institutions, whether on campus or in the Atlanta community, who assign a grade at the end of the term. The experience is overseen by the Internship Coordinator in the Art History Department. In order to get four credit hours, which is the equivalent of an academic course, students must enroll in Art History 397 and work 10-12 hours a week for 14 weeks. Fewer hours of work can also be done for fewer credits (3 hours a week for 1 credit, 6 for 2, 8 for 3), with the supervisor’s approval. However, most internship venues are reluctant to train students for less than 4 credits worth of time.

Awards and Honors:

Art History Paper Prize.

Awarded every spring to the undergraduate student who wrote the most outstanding research paper in the preceding two semesters, a monetary prize is awarded and the winner's name is included in the commencement program, if a graduating senior.

The John Howett Prize for Undergraduate Travel (2009-2012)

$2500 awarded early each spring to an undergraduate Art History major or minor to fund travel, domestic or international, to view or directly experience works of art. The prize can be used to supplement a study abroad experience or simply to travel to exhibitions, museums or other locations where there is art about which the student is passionate or feels compelled to study in great depth. The John Howett Prize is open to sophomore and junior applicants who meet the Emory College requirements for financial aid. Applicants submit an essay detailing how they would make use of money. The essays are judged by a faculty committee.
The discipline of biology allows us to understand ourselves and the world around us. This powerful science is discovering the basic mysteries of life and has given us the practical tools to treat diseases, to increase the amount of food that we produce, and to preserve our natural ecosystems. An education in biology offers an excellent preparation for careers in medicine or health care, biological research, ecology, biotechnology, forensic science, as well as many other possibilities. The Department of Biology occupies state-of-the-art laboratories in the O. Wayne Rollins Research Center. Faculty specializations include cell and developmental biology, genetics and molecular biology, ecology and evolutionary biology, and neurobiology and behavior. As part of its primary commitment to undergraduate education, the biology department actively fosters student participation in research with its faculty as well as through cooperative arrangements with scientists at Emory University School of Medicine, the United States Centers for Disease Control and Prevention, and Yerkes National Primate Research Center. Biology department faculty are also heavily involved in programs leading to a PhD. These programs are housed in the Graduate Division of Biological and Biomedical Sciences, and they include faculty from several departments of Emory College and the School of Medicine.

Concentrations

Major in Biology [BA]

\begin{center}
\begin{tabular}{ |l|l| }
\textit{Major Code:} & BIOLOGY \\
\textit{Degree Awarded:} & BA \\
\textit{Hours to complete:} & 38 \\
\textit{Required courses:} & 11 \\
\hline
\end{tabular}
\end{center}
Requirements: The BA degree requires at least 38 credit hours, including a minimum of nine biology classes totaling 30 hours. These nine biology classes must include:

- Biology 141 and Biology 142 with labs
- One course from each of the following three areas: A) cell and molecular biology, B) organismal biology, and C) ecology/evolution
- Four elective classes (12 credit hours minimum) from the biology course listings (excluding Biology 120, 160, 190, and 497), no more than one of which is cross-listed and originates in another department (see NOTES below).
- One upper level laboratory course is also required within the 30 hours minimum of biology.
- Chemistry 141 and 142 with labs are also required.

Notes

Biology 141 and 142 are prerequisites for all upper level courses in biology.

A "C" average is required in the Biology and Chemistry classes necessary for the major.

All courses required for the Biology major must be taken for a letter grade.

Only one cross-listed course that originates in another department may be counted for the biology major. These courses are subject to change, and currently include: Biol/Psych 320, Biol/Psych 325, Biol/Chem 330, Biol/ENVS 345, Biol/Chem 346L, Biol 356/NBB 358, Biol/NBB 361, Biol 385 (Phys 380/NBB 370), Biol/Psych 440, and certain Biol 285, 385, and 485 courses. This also applies to certain ECS 490 courses with biological topics (check with the Biology Department office).

2 credit hour courses may be taken for elective credit; however, additional biology courses will be needed to fulfill the 12 hours of elective credit required.

4 credit hours of Biology 495 (Honors Research) or Biology 499R (non-Honors Undergraduate Research) may be counted as both elective credit and an upper-level lab only after completion of the second semester of 495 or 499R.

An AP score of 4 or 5 on the Biology AP exam, or an IB score of at least 5, will exempt students from Biology 141 only. Biology 142 will still be required. It is also recommended that transfer students without a Genetics class enroll in Biology 142.

All Biology majors are required to meet with their Biology advisor every semester during pre-registration. An enrollment hold is placed on all Biology major’s OPUS accounts each semester until they have met with Biology advisor.

BIOL 241: Evolutionary Biology:

General Information
- Credit Hours: 4
- GERs: None
- Course Description: A study of the factors that cause genetic change and of the evolutionary consequences of such changes. Topics include population genetics, adaptation and natural selection, evolution of genes, proteins and genomes, sexual selection, kin selection, speciation, and diversification of taxa. Emphasis on molecular, genetic, ecological, and evolutionary factors related to variation and adaptation to environment, and constraints on adaption.
BIOL 247: Ecology

General Information

- Credit Hours: 3
- GERs: None
- Cross-Listed: ENVS 247: Ecology
- Course Description: This course provides an overview of the principles of ecology and the study of relationships between organisms and their environment. Processes and properties of individuals, populations, communities, and ecosystems will be emphasized. Lectures will emphasize active and collaborative learning. Ecology ties in all other branches of Biology (e.g., evolution, behavior, physiology, and genetics) by examining biological processes in the context of the environment in which organisms live and have evolved. There is also a separate 2 credit-hour lab (BIOL 247L/ENVS 247L or BIOL 247LW/ENVS 247LW) associated with this class. The Lab is not required.

BIOL 250: Cell Biology:

General Information

- Credit Hours: 3
- GERs: None
- Course Description: We will explore the structure and function of cells at the molecular level. Major themes to be explored include membrane organization, protein trafficking and targeting, membrane transport, cytoskeleton structure and cell motility, cell adhesion, cell signaling, and the cell cycle. Where relevant, current medical issues associated with cellular dysfunction will be presented.

BIOL 264: Genetics: A Human Perspective:

General Information

- Credit Hours: 4
GERs: None

Course Description: This course provides a fundamental understanding of human genetics and builds on the concepts of genetics developed in Biology 142. Topics include modern analysis of the human genome, stem cell research, immunity and cancer. Note: Transfer students should take Biology 142 at Emory or talk with a Biology 264 instructor prior to enrolling in this class.

BIOL 329: Coastal Biology with Lab:

General Information

- Credit Hours: 4
- GERs: None

Course Description: Spring. Prerequisite: Biology 142 and permission of instructor. Emphasizes basic principles of coastal ecology, human impact on coastal ecosystems, and the diversity of invertebrates living in these ecosystems. Students can also take the associated lab class, which involves a ten-day laboratory/field activity at the end of spring term at St. Simons Island, Georgia.

- Credit Hours: 3
- GERs: SNT
- Cross-Listed: CHEM 330: Chem Bio

Course Description: Prerequisites: Chemistry 171/172 or 221 or 221z. The course is designed to put to use what you already know about chemistry and to extend it in two directions. On the one hand, we will examine the world around us as reflected by the media, the web, and encounters in your own lives. Thus, we'll examine issues around natural and unnatural molecules, the environment, disease and society in the context of topics such as drugs, molecules for Mars, aging, AIDS, bioterrorism, and crime in the courtroom. On the other hand, we will examine these ideas by means of computer graphics, the molecular structure of small molecules and proteins, and energy.

BIOL 345: Conservation Biology:

General Information

Credit Hours: 3
GERs: SNT

Cross-Listed: ENVS 345: Conservation Biology

Course Description:
This course focuses on the conservation of biodiversity and introduces students to ways that ecological and evolutionary principles can be used to conserve and protect species and ecosystems at risk. Specific topics include the causes and consequences of biodiversity, systematics and endangered species, the demography and genetics of small populations, invasive species, habitat loss and fragmentation, design of reserves, and restoration ecology. Fulfills an ENVS Elective requirement.

BIOL 352: Epigenetics:

General Information
- Credit Hours: 3
- GERs: None
Course Description: Epigenetics is the area of research that studies heritable characteristics that are not caused by changed in the DNA sequence of an organism. It is the study of non-genetic factors that cause the organism’s genes to behave (or express themselves) differently in different cells and different tissues. Epigenetics can also explain why identical twins that have exactly the same DNA sequence may display differences in behavior or in susceptibility to disease. New evidence suggests that the first steps in the development of many cancers may be epigenetic rather than genetic (i.e., caused by mutations). During the semester, we will discuss the nature of epigenetic inheritance and its relation to stem cell differentiation, normal development, and disease. The class will be structured around lectures and discussions. (This course will fulfill elective credit for the Biology major.)

General Information
Credit Hours: 3
GERs: None
Course Description: Many traits of biological importance are often complex in that they are controlled by more than one single gene and genetic analyses of these complex traits are often sophisticated. This course will study the fundamental principles and methodology of quantitative genetics and expose students to current primary literature on current genetic analyses of complex traits such as human diseases. Prerequisites: Biology 141 and 142, Biology 341, and Math 111/112 or 115/116.

Cross-Listed: NBB 301L: Neurobiology Simulation Lab
Course Description:
This course will explore topics in cellular and small network neuroscience by performing virtual electrophysiology experiments on the computer. The content of the course matches material covered in Biology 360/NBB 301 and will help students understand neurons and neuronal networks in greater depth. This course should be taken concurrently with, or after Biology 360/NBB 301. (This course, taken together with Biology 360/NBB 301, meets the upper-level laboratory requirement for the biology major and will count as elective credit for the Biology and NBB majors.) Programs

Honors Program:

Students who maintain a grade average of 3.5 or higher may qualify for a degree with honors. Honors students must take Biology 495A and 495B, complete a research project, and write and defend an honors thesis based on this research. They must also take one graduate course. See "Honors Program" under the College Curriculum section.

See "Honors Program" under the curriculum section of the catalog and consult the department for further details.

For more information, see Honors Program.

Study Abroad: For more information, see Study Abroad.

Catholic Studies Program

The Catholic Studies Minor is for students who want to learn about the rich intellectual and cultural traditions of the Roman Catholic Church during the past two millennia and study their impact on western thought.

The CS minor is a academic program, without confessional stance or episcopal oversight, driven throughout by the same spirit of independent scholarly inquiry Emory faculty have brought to the study of other religions and faith traditions.

Requirements:

For information and advising on the interdisciplinary minor in Catholic studies, please contact the director, Judith Raggi Moore, or visit the website.

The CS minor consists of six courses: one required course (REL 313: Modern Catholicism) plus five electives from a list of over thirty approved courses. REL 313 also fulfills an upper division WR.

In addition to REL 313, four elective courses must be taken from the list below, with a maximum of two courses per department:

- ARTHIST 231 Early Medieval Art
- ARTHIST 232 Monastery and Cathedral
- ARTHIST 243 Early Renaissance Art/Architecture
- ARTHIST 244 High Renaissance Art/Architecture
- ARTHIST 259 Historical Perspectives on European art
- ARTHIST 349 Renaissance Art History
- HIST 303 History of the Byzantine Empire
- HIST 304 The New Europe
- HIST 305 The High Middle Ages
- HIST 306 The Italian Renaissance
- HIST 307 Europe from the Reformation to the Enlightenment
- ITAL 312: Italy in the 19th Century
- LAT 320 Medieval Latin
- PHIL 300 Medieval Philosophy
- PHIL 358 Philosophy of Religion
- REL 311 Early and Medieval Christianity
- REL 350 Jesus and the Gospels
- REL 351 Paul and His Letters
- SOC 333 Sociology of Religion

Seminars and Special Topics Courses (When Appropriate)

- ARTHIST 475 Seminar in Medieval European, Renaissance, and Baroque Art
- ENG 190/PHIL 190/REL 190 Freshmen Seminars
- ENG 389 Special Topics
- ENG 489 Authors of Literary Movements
- HIST 385 Special Topics in History
- HIST 487 Junior/Senior Colloquium
- PHIL 480 Seminar: Individual Philosopher
- PHIL 482 Topics in Philosophy
- PHIL 470/REL 470 Joint Seminar
- REL 356 Theological Reflection
- REL 369 Religion and Film
- REL 387/ENG 387 Literature and Religion

PHIL 420W: Social:

General Information
- Credit Hours: 5
- GERs: HAPW

Course Description: This course will investigate social and political philosophies as presented by some of their most famous proponents. Discussion will include such topics as the legitimate basis of the state, the structure of the social contract, and the nature of liberty and equality.

Contact Hour Information
- Course Type: Lecture
- Weekly Contact Minutes: 150
- Additional Course Plus Component: Periodic Speaker Series
- Writing Requirement: Yes

PHIL 422: Philosophy of Social Science:

General Information
- Credit Hours: 4
- GERs: None

Course Description: This course explores the central issues in feminist philosophies.

Contact Hour Information
- Course Type: Lecture

Study Abroad: For more information, see Study Abroad.
Chemistry Department

The Department of Chemistry offers excellent educational programs and physical facilities. There are opportunities for a close working relationship with faculty and more advanced students. Students may become involved in research as first-year students, and it is possible to earn both a BS and an MS in four years. The chemistry building contains well-designed undergraduate laboratories and classrooms plus research facilities that allow more than 150 students, postdoctoral fellows, and faculty to investigate the frontiers of chemistry. The most modern instruments are found in our laboratories, and undergraduates use these facilities on the same basis as other researchers. The chemistry holdings of the Emory University Library are housed in the Chemistry Building so that they are readily accessible to students and faculty working in their laboratories. Master of science and doctor of philosophy degree programs are offered in a variety of fields of chemistry. The department offers concentrations at the undergraduate level in biological chemistry and theoretical/computational chemistry.

Entry at 141 level:

Non-chemistry requirements: Math 111, Phys 141/141L or Phys151/151L, Phys 142/142L or Phys152/152L, Biol 141/141L.

Chemistry (core) courses: Chem 141/141L, 142/142L, 221, 221L (or 226L), 222, 222L (or 227L), 260, 260L, 300 (or 331), 301 (or 350).

Electives: Three hours of electives. (Can be any combination of lab and/or lecture courses at the 230 level or higher. Please note that 399R/499R do not count towards the elective for B.A. majors.)

Note: Chem 110, 120, 130, 399, 475R and 497 may not be used to satisfy departmental major requirements.

Entry at 221z level:

Non-chemistry requirements: Math 111, Phys 141/141L or Phys151/151L, Phys 142/142L or Phys152/152L, Biol 141/141L.

Chemistry (core) courses: AP credit 141/141L, 221Z, 221L (or 226L), 222Z, 222L (or 227L), 260, 260L, 300 (or 331), 301 (or 350).

Electives: Six hours of electives. (Can be any combination of lab and/or lecture courses at the 230 level or higher. Please note that 399R /499R do not count towards the elective for B.A. majors.)

Note: Chem 110, 120, 130, 399, 475R and 497 may not be used to satisfy departmental major requirements.

All courses taken to meet chemistry major requirements must be taken for a letter grade.

Courses
CHEM 105: How Things Work:

General Information
- Credit Hours: 3
- GERs: SNT
- Course Description: No prerequisite courses. Topics such as lasers, CD recording, the pill, photocopying, jet engines, cocaine, genetic engineering, perfume, cooking/baking, and pheromones will be discussed. The goal is to impart an appreciation for various scientific and technical features of everyday life.

Contact Hour Information

CHEM 115: The Chemistry of Crime:

General Information
- Credit Hours: 4
- GERs: None
- Course Description: Maymester Course. This course will first explore how chemicals can be used to deceive and destroy. Next, scientific techniques used by forensic chemists will be employed to evaluate and interpret evidence from a staged crime scene. New evidence will be presented each day as the mystery unfolds.

Contact Hour Information
- Course Type: Lecture
- Weekly Contact Minutes: 200

CHEM 120: Sel Topics In Chemistry W/Lab:

CHEM 330: Chem Bio:

Cross-Listed: BIOL 330: Chem Bio

Course Description:
The course is designed to put to use what you already know about chemistry and to extend it in two directions. On the one hand, we will examine the world around us as reflected by the media, the web, and encounters in your own lives. Thus, we'll examine issues around natural and unnatural molecules, the environment, disease and society in the context of topics such as drugs, molecules for Mars, aging, AIDS, bioterrorism, and crime in the courtroom. On the other hand, we will examine these ideas by means of computer graphics, the molecular structure of small molecules and proteins, and energy.

Programs
Honors Program:

Students who have grade point averages of 3.5 or greater are eligible to enroll in the Honors Program. This requires that the student take one graduate chemistry course in addition to the normal degree requirements, complete a research project supervised or sponsored by a member of the chemistry faculty, and write and defend an honors thesis based on this research. A student must enroll in Chem 495WR for the thesis to satisfy the general education writing requirement.

See “Honors Program” under the curriculum section of the catalog and consult the department for further details.

For more information, see Honors Program.

Study Abroad:

The chemistry department conducts a six-week summer study abroad program in Siena, Italy. Students receive credit for Chem 260 and 468 taught by Emory faculty and cover the topics of analytical chemistry in the context of wine, art restoration and conservation, forensics, olive oil, and food. Laboratory experience is included as well as guest lectures by the faculty at the University of Siena. For more information, see www.cipa.emory.edu.

For more information, see Study Abroad.

Advising:

Students wishing to declare a Chemistry Major should visit the Chemistry Main Office (Atwood 324) and speak with the Undergraduate Coordinator.

Classics Department (Greek, Latin)

The civilization and cultural achievements of ancient Greece and Rome continue to influence our values, the way we think, and the questions we ask. They represent some of our deepest cultural roots and stand at the core of a liberal arts education. The Department of Classics offers students an opportunity to study the languages, literature, culture, and influence of classical antiquity. General courses include such topics as classical mythology, law, religion, women in antiquity, and Greek and Roman literature in translation. Most of these courses have no prerequisites, and several fulfill Emory College General Education Requirements. For students interested in Greek or Latin, language instruction is offered at all levels, from elementary to advanced, both in a classroom setting and in individualized instruction. The department offers several majors and two minors as well as joint majors with other departments. Students interested in integrating the study of Greece and Rome with other Mediterranean Civilizations are encouraged to consult the Program in Ancient Mediterranean Studies in which the Department of Classics is an active participant.

Concentrations

Major in Classics

Major Code: CLASSICS
Degree Awarded: BA

Hours to complete: 46 - 56

Required courses: 14

Requirements: At least four 3 or 4 credit hour courses in one language and at least two 3 or four credit hour courses in the other language beyond the elementary level.

- At least two 3 or 4 credit hour Classics courses (i.e. courses in the Classics Department not designated as Greek or Latin language courses).
- At least two 3 or 4 credit hour courses that focus on ancient Greece and/or Rome offered by other departments including, but not limited to, Art History, History, and Philosophy.

Admission:

- Latin 101 and Latin 102 or the equivalent.
- Greek 101 and Greek 102 or the equivalent.

Equivalencies are determined by department including, but not limited to, AP credit, IB credit, and previous coursework in the ancient languages.

Minor in Classical Civilization

Minor Code: CLCIVMIN

Degree Awarded: None

Hours to complete: 20

Required courses: 5

Requirements: Classical civilization: twenty hours in classics or classical studies, at least twelve of which are at the 200 level or above.

Programs

Honors Program:
Outstanding students in Greek and Latin are eligible for membership in Eta Sigma Phi, the national honorary classical society.

Graduates of Emory may attend the American School of Classical Studies in Athens, Greece, and are eligible to compete for the fellowships offered annually by the school. A similar connection exists with the American Academy in Rome.

Students eligible for the Emory College Honors Program should consult the departmental honors coordinator.

For more information, see Honors Program.

Study Abroad:
The department encourages its students to study abroad through the numerous Emory programs that include a strong Classics component.

For more information, see Study Abroad.

Advising:
Upon declaration of a major or minor all students are assigned an advisor in the department. Students who have not yet declared a major or minor are welcome to consult the Director of Undergraduate Studies or any other member of the department.

Language Study:
Language study required for majors and minors in the department varies and can be found under the descriptions for individual majors and minors.

Awards and Honors:
The department awards prizes annually to its top students in the ancient languages.

Comparative Literature Department

This undergraduate major enables students to explore a wide range of world literatures in translation as well as in their original languages. A group of core courses provides an awareness of traditional and nontraditional literary histories and a grasp of the theoretical principles underlying the definition of literature and the interpretation of literary texts. Higher level courses allow students to focus more closely on interdisciplinary areas and topics of special interest, choosing from a wide array of courses in different departments as well as courses offered in Comparative Literature. The foreign language requirement guarantees that students will pursue the study of a foreign language to a level at which they can read significant literary texts written in that language. The ultimate goal of the program is to foster skills in close reading and methodological self-reflection.

Programs

Honors Program:
To receive honors in comparative literature, eligible students select an adviser from the faculty of one of the participating literature departments, based on the student’s interest and the director’s expertise. Honors candidates are expected to enroll in an appropriate course of directed study (Comparative Literature 495R, offered during both semesters of the senior year) for methodological guidance while writing the thesis. In the fall semester, the student must take Comparative Literature 490R, designed as a graduate-level course for seniors in the Department of Comparative Literature, or (with the thesis director’s and the instructor’s approval) a graduate course relevant to the student’s thesis. Honors students must complete an honors thesis and defend the thesis in an oral examination. In addition to the adviser, the committee members will include one other member from the comparative literature department and one other examiner who is not a member of the program.

See “Honors Program” under the curriculum section of the catalog and consult the department for further details.

For more information, see Honors Program.

Study Abroad:

Majors in comparative literature are encouraged to pursue a course of study in any of the Emory Study Abroad Programs (summer, semester, or yearlong). The department gives credit toward the major for two courses under the foreign language requirement and three courses in literature in the original language.

For more information, see Study Abroad.

Creative Writing Program

In the Creative Writing Program at Emory students study both art and craft: the literary traditions in which they write and the elements of craft in poetry, fiction, playwriting, screenwriting, and creative nonfiction. The program fosters their development as writers, through an emphasis on reading as a writer, generating material, and revision.

For Fall 2010 and later courses, the course prefix for Creative Writing courses changed from "ENG" to "ENGCW."

Requirements: In the Creative Writing Program at Emory students study both art and craft: the literary traditions in which they write and the elements of craft in poetry, fiction, playwriting, screenwriting, and creative nonfiction. The program fosters their development as writers, through an emphasis on reading as a writer, generating material, and revision. Academic requirements of the English/creative writing major are eleven courses (thirty-eight to forty-four credits) beyond the introductory courses in English required by Emory College (English 101, 181, or Literature 110). Five of those eleven courses (fifteen to twenty credits) are to be creative writing workshops and the other six (eighteen to twenty-four credits) are to be advanced-level English classes in literature and criticism (i.e., 300 and 400 level). Students must take at least two 300-level literature courses in prose, two in fiction, and two in nineteenth-century writing or earlier. At least two writing workshops must be in the same writing genre (fiction, poetry, etc.). This framework provides enough flexibility so that English/creative writing majors may work out individual programs of study in consultation with their advisers. In addition to the creative writing courses listed below, English/creative writing majors are also eligible for work in the Internship Program (see ENG 496R), independent study (see ENGCW 397R), and creative writing honors (see ENGCW 495R). Please note that internship hours do not count toward the major. The Creative Writing Program also sponsors a reading series in which nationally prominent authors are invited to campus to read from their latest works and to meet with students.

Admission: Official talk with Creative Writing faculty advisor about the major

Dance Program

The Emory Dance Program provides a range of opportunities for students to experience dance, from performance and production to technique and theory. The mission of the Emory Dance Program is to provide a curriculum that interweaves both the practical and theoretical to foster students' creative, intellectual, and communicative powers in the field of dance. The Emory Dance Program emphasizes performance and choreography, based on the primary tenets of modern dance, which value individualism, innovation, and interdisciplinary approaches to the arts.

The study of dance is perhaps the most unique and all-encompassing pursuit in the fine arts. It involves the total exploration of the self-emotional, intellectual, and kinesthetic. The program develops students' awareness and appreciation of movement in all its diverse forms and their ability to communicate through non-verbal expression. Dance develops insights into a broad range of studies; therefore it plays a viable role in the liberal arts education. Since dance is so multifaceted, it enhances the student's preparation for a variety of careers.

The Dance Program is housed within the Theater and Dance Department.

Programs

Honors Program:

See "Honors Program" under the curriculum section of the catalog and consult the Dance Program for further details. For information pertaining to Scholarly Inquiry and Research at Emory (SIRE) grants, see the Independent Study and Research section.

For more information, see Honors Program.

Study Abroad:

Consult with the Dance Program faculty for information about study abroad opportunities.

For more information, see Study Abroad.

Advising:

Each dance major and minor is assigned a faculty advisor who will assist them in planning their course of study. Advisors also facilitate research projects, internships, and off-campus study opportunities.

Internship:

Students may receive credit for internships with local dance organizations. Dance faculty can help students find an appropriate internship for their skills and interests.

Awards and Honors:

The Sally A. Radell Friends of Dance Summer Scholarship Program was established in 1996 to make summer dance study more accessible to Emory students. It enables dance majors and minors to study either in the United States or abroad with notable practicing artists, dance programs, and dance companies of their choice.

East Asian Studies

The East Asian Studies Program of Emory University is administered under the Department of Russian and East Asian Languages and Cultures to promote and coordinate events and activities related to China, Japan, Korea and broader East Asia. Associated faculty include specialists in anthropology, literature, philosophy, politics, religion, history, and music.

The East Asian Studies Program supports an undergraduate degree (major or minor) in East Asian Studies. Students may also major and minor in Chinese or Japanese through REALC.

EAS 274: Foreigners in Imperial China:

General Information
Credit Hours: 3
GERs: HSC
Course Description: Far from being a closed empire encircled by an impenetrable Great Wall, China was always integrated in global circulations of goods, knowledge, and people. Foreigners were a constant presence in the Middle Kingdom throughout its history, even if they were not welcomed by everyone and at all times. In this seminar we will follow the trails and travails of men and women from Europe, Asia, and America, who fell prey to the lure of Cathay in their searches for riches, influence, employment, adventure, or spiritual gratification. Our aim is to explore not only the changing fortunes of individual travelers but also to examine the historical origins of many of the ideas that continue to shape our understanding of Chinese civilization.

Course Description:
This class helps students develop the skills necessary to read Japanese-language texts independently, without the aid of an instructor. Classroom assignments emphasize vocabulary building and kanji recognition, strategies for decoding complex sentence structures, understanding of the nuances of language and literary style, and the use of dictionaries and other reference materials. Students should come out of this class with a sophisticated understanding of the ways in which word choice and tone of expression affect the meaning and intent of the passages studied.

General Information

Credit Hours: 3
GERs: HAP
Cross-Listed: CHN 373: Confucian Classics, REL 374: Confucian Classics
Court Description: For more than two thousand years, a small set of texts associated with Confucius (551-479 BC) and his disciples formed the core of the Chinese educational curriculum. As a store of knowledge shared by all educated men and women, Confucian Classics shaped Chinese literati culture from late antiquity to the early 20th century. The goal of this course is to illustrate the diversity of the literary and cultural practices that evolved around this unique body of writings. The course is roughly divided into two parts. First, we will attempt to establish a framework for understanding the textual history and changing significance of the Classics throughout the premodern era. Drawing on a broad selection of primary sources (to be read in English translation), we will then examine how the canonized ideas were refracted in literary, philosophical, religious, and political discourse.

EAS 376: Science in China, 1600 - 1900:

General Information
Credit Hours: 3
GERs: HSC
This course reconstructs the encounter between Chinese natural studies and European science from the early seventeenth to the late nineteenth centuries. After a brief survey of the state of natural studies in China, circa 1600, we will trace the interactions between Chinese and European learning in a wide array of disciplines, ranging from astronomy, mathematics, and medicine to physics and zoology. Situating our explorations in their intellectual, social, and cultural contexts, we will try to understand the forces that have shaped the formation of modern science in China and, more generally, the factors influencing the migration of ideas across cultures.

Study Abroad:

The East Asian Study program encourages students to take advantage of the many study abroad opportunities offered by Emory College. We regard study abroad as an integral part of our curriculum and the undergraduate experience that prepares our students for living and participating in a global society.

The Center for International Programs (www.cipa.emory.edu) oversees this broad array of study abroad programs. Offerings in East Asia include programs based in colleges and universities to SIT programs focusing on experiential, field-based study with guidance from local academics, policymakers, and field professionals.

These programs are supported by four competitive scholarship programs administered by CIPA: semester abroad, summer abroad, language intensive, and service-learning. Please visit the following links for more information:

Economics Department

Economics seeks to understand and predict human action and choice. Economic theory rests on the idea that human action is purposeful and best understood from the vantage point of a person choosing among explicitly defined alternatives. Economic theory applies principles developed from the logic of choice to the resolution of interpersonal conflicts of interest and the coordination of productive activity in a world of scarce resources. The study of economics equips students to analyze a broad range of social, political, legal, and economic phenomena and public policy. The study of market regulation, environmental protection, economic growth and development, financial markets, international trade and finance, the distribution of income, inflation, and the level of employment are the stock in trade of economics. But economists also analyze a far broader set of issues, including the nature of the family, the origins of civilizations, discrimination, crime, and the structures of law and politics. Economics provides a versatile background for postgraduate professional or academic training. Economics offers a framework for the analysis of rules of liability and property rights and thus undergirds much of the modern study of law and legal institutions. A growing number of law students find it useful to prepare for this training by majoring in economics during their tenure as undergraduates. Economics also contains the theoretical core for business, finance, accounting, and marketing and thus provides a solid foundation for postgraduate work in business administration. Many private sector job opportunities are available for economics majors in the banking industry, brokerage houses, investment banks, insurance companies, and law firms. Economics majors can work as financial analysts, risk management analysts, forecasters, or analyst staff members in litigation or merger and acquisition departments. Economics majors can also work as policy analysts for one of the Federal Reserve Banks as well as various government agencies at the federal, state, or local level.

Concentrations

Major in Economics

Major Code: ECON

Degree Awarded: BA

Hours to complete: 36

Required courses: 12
Requirements:

A. Mathematics 111 and Mathematics 112 (or equivalents)

B. Economics 101, 112, 201, 212, 220 and 420

C. Completion of four elective economics courses, of which at least eight hours must be at the 400 level and no more than four hours at the 200 level (215 or 231).

Areas of Concentration

Students are encouraged, although not required, to choose their economic electives (Requirement D) to fit one of the nine areas of concentration. Upon request, the Department of Economics will issue a certificate to any student completing an area of concentration. The nine areas are:

Law and Economics. Four courses to include:

- Law and Economics (Econ 442)
- TWO of the following: Industrial Organization (Econ 405), Public Finance (Econ 434), Economics of Regulation (Econ 440), or Public Choice (Econ 443)

  - International Finance (Econ 432)
  - Four-hour economics course at or above the 300-level
- Business Policy. Four courses to include:
  - ONE of the following: Econometrics (Econ 420) or Economic Forecasting (Econ 422)
  - ONE of the following: Stocks, Bonds, and Financial Markets (Econ 215), Business and Government (Econ 341), or Development of the Modern U.S. Economy (Econ 356)
  - ONE of the following: Managerial Economics (Econ 400), Industrial Organization (Econ 405), Economics of Labor Markets (Econ 430), or Housing and Mortgage Markets (Econ 446)
  - Four-hour economics course at or above the 200-level
- Public Policy. Four courses to include:
  - EITHER two of the following: Contemporary Economic Issues (Econ 309), Business and Government (Econ 341), Environmental Economics & Policy (Econ 365) or Health Policy & Economics (Econ 372) OR eight hours of Washington Policy Semester (Econ 394)
  - TWO of the following: Industrial Organization (Econ 405), Public Finance (Econ 434), Economics of Regulation (Econ 440), Law and Economics (Econ 442) Public Choice (Econ 443) or Housing and Mortgage Markets (Econ 446)
- Financial Economics. Four courses to include:
  - Stocks, Bonds, and Financial Markets (Econ 215)
  - TWO of the following: Topics in Macroeconomics (Econ 410), Money and Banking (Econ 411), Economic Forecasting (Econ 422), International Finance (Econ 423), or Housing and Mortgage Markets (Econ 446)
Minor in Economics

Minor Code: ECONMIN
Degree Awarded: None
Hours to complete: 18
Required courses: 6
Requirements:

To Become an Economics Minor, students must fill out the "Declaring a Minor" portion of the Emory College Declaration of Major and Minor form and turn it in to the Undergraduate Program Assistant. The form can be found in 312 Rich Building.

Course Requirements for Minors

The economics minor requires twenty-four semester hours of credit (6 courses) in economics.

A. Two Introductory Courses: Principles of Microeconomics (101), or Business 201, and Principles of Macroeconomics (112)

B. One Intermediate Course: Intermediate Microeconomics (201) or Intermediate Macroeconomics (212) (Mathematics 111, Math 110 A&B, Math 115 or Business Calculus 119 is a prerequisite for Economics 201 and 212.)

C. Three Economics Electives: Electives must be at or above the 200 level. Note that several economics courses satisfy the GER, so students can make progress toward an economic minor while they also satisfy the GER.

(NEW: Any student taking FOUR, instead of three, economic electives satisfying one of the elective concentrations, will get a “Minor with Concentration.”)

Various Concentrations for Minors

Law and Economics. Sixteen semester hours to include:

- Law and Economics (Econ 442)
- TWO of the following: Industrial Organization (Econ 405), Public Finance (Econ 434), Economics of Regulation (Econ 440), or Public Choice (Econ 443)

Course Description: Prerequisites: Economics 201 or 212. Directed, intensive study using intermediate theory on a topic not covered in a course to be offered before a student would normally graduate. Students must receive departmental permission from the director of undergraduate studies in the semester preceding the one in which the student intends to participate.

Programs

Honors Program:
The Honors Program is available to outstanding students in Economics, Economics/Mathematics, and Economics/History. Students with a cumulative average of 3.50 (for all courses taken at Emory) at the end of their third year may be invited to participate. The number of students admitted to the Honors Program is determined by the Economics Department's capacity for advising honors theses, so a 3.5+ GPA does not automatically lead to admission into the program. (Note that in recent years, typical GPA of invitees has exceeded 3.75.)

Administered by the Emory College Honors Committee, this program enables students to do intensive work in a chosen area and, therefore, involves work that extends beyond ordinary course requirements and standards of performance. Students must complete Economics 201, 212, and 220 previous to entering the Honors program (i.e., previous to the Fall Semester of their senior year). Students enrolled in the Honors program must complete either Economics 420 or Economics 422 by the end of the Fall semester of their senior year. Preference will be given to students who have completed Economics 420 or 422 by the end of their third year. Students enrolled in the Honors program must complete Economics 495A during the Fall Semester of their senior year and may enroll in Economics 495B during the Spring Semester of their senior year.

An examination covering the honors work, including the thesis and allied fields, is given upon completion of the program. One examiner must be chosen from outside the department. Examiners recommend the degree of honors (honors, high honors, highest honors) to the Honors Committee. Honors (cum laude) represents satisfactory completion of the program, together with an overall average of 3.50. High Honors (magna cum laude) represents completion of the program with outstanding performance, including an overall average of 3.50 and a thesis of quality sufficient for oral presentation to scholars in the candidate's field. Highest Honors (summa cum laude) represents completion of the program with exceptional performance, including an overall average of 3.50 and a thesis of a quality suitable for submission for publication.

A student may complete Honors in the joint Mathematics/Economics major by completing the requirements for Honors either in the Mathematics Department or in the Economics Department. Participation in the Honors Program in both departments is by invitation only. The student's Honors committee must include at least one faculty member from the Economics Department, one faculty member from the Mathematics Department, and one faculty department from a department other than either the Economics or the Mathematics Departments.

For more information, see Honors Program.

Study Abroad:
Department of Economics Rules for Studying Abroad

- Since the economics department is responsible for students who are economics majors, it is recommended that you declare your major before you start the studying abroad process.

- No class will be approved to be the equivalent to the Principles of Economics (Econ 101 and 112), Intermediate Micro (Econ 201), Intermediate Macro (Econ 212), Introduction to Statistics (Econ 220), and any of the empirical courses (Econ 221, 420, or 422). Most course equivalences received are for 200 or 300 level courses that complete the elective requirements for the major. Exceptions are made for yearlong programs at the London School of Economics. Given the rules for the department on core classes, it is recommended that you take Economics 101, 112, 20, 212 and 220 before going abroad. If you have not taken those classes and you are going abroad for one semester, plan on taking an extra semester to graduate.

- It is strongly recommended that you have more classes approved than you intend to take, before leaving Emory. Once abroad, you may find the class you wanted is not being offered, is full or you don't have the necessary prerequisites. You may need these extra approved classes as replacements. Email communication may be difficult or delayed.

- Use the time abroad to fulfill your GERS and learn about the country you are visiting.

- A maximum of two classes will be approved toward the major although it is strongly recommended that you do not take more than one economics class while abroad.

- Allow plenty of time for the application process. Approval for courses on TABLE B of the "Study Abroad Academic Course Plan" application may take a few days.

- Procedures for Study Abroad

- Review the information on the Center for International Programs Abroad (CIPA) website.

- If you are applying during Fall and/or Spring semester, choose "Semester Programs" and then "Getting Started." For Summer semester, choose "Summer Programs." Much of the information you will need is included on this site. For further information about particular programs, please see the CIPA advisors located in the Center for International Programs Abroad (CIPA) in Trimble Hall, 637 Asbury Circle.

- Most but not all programs require two applications. After meeting with your CIPA advisor you should know which application process to use.

- The first application is a print application "Study Abroad Academic Course Plan" available here. This form requires your academic advisor’s signature. You must complete TABLE A before having the advisor sign the form. Courses for TABLE A can be found in the "blanket approval list" here.

- If any courses are listed in TABLE B, they must be approved by:

Dr. Elena Pesavento, Study Abroad Advisor for the Economics Department Office: 326 Rich Building Email: epesave@emory.edu Telephone: 404-712-9297

- In TABLE B, list the courses you anticipate taking overseas that do NOT appear in the Blanket-Approved Database. You then take a copy of the course description or syllabus to Dr. Elena.
Internship:

Internship Information

The Economics Department offers an internship course, Economics 449, which is open only to economics majors and minors. Students are enrolled by permission only and they must have already completed Economics 201, 212, and 220. The course carries two credit hours taken on an S/U basis and it will not count toward the 10 courses you need to satisfy the majors requirements. The Economics department internship can be taken during the fall, spring or summer semester.

To register for the course, which is by permission only, the students are required to download the registration form (click here to download the form) and talk to their faculty advisors about the internship opportunity when they schedule courses during pre-registration. The advisor checks the prerequisites and approves the internship provided that it is compatible with the student's course of study. In a similar fashion, minors secure permission from the Director of Undergraduate Studies. The completed internship form must be turned into the Undergraduate Program Coordinator to register. Once registered the student reports to the faculty in charge of the internship course.

A report discussing how the internship experience related to your economic training and in what ways it helped your professional development is to be turned in to the course faculty or the Undergraduate Program Coordinator on the last day of classes for the semester enrolled. See the Undergraduate Program Coordinator for further details.

Students who would like to get internship credit over the summer at reduced cost should see Emory College's Summer Internship Program at: http://college.emory.edu/current/achievement/internship/. Here the students earn college credit (rather than economics credit) but at a much lower tuition cost.

This area should be used to describe any internship information that students should be aware of, specific opportunities, requirements, etc.

Awards and Honors:

ODE - Omicron Delta Epsilon - is the economics honor society. ODE is dedicated to promoting excellence in economics by recognizing outstanding achievements and by encouraging professional exchange among students, faculty, and professionals in our discipline. The requirements for membership are a minimum overall grade point average of 3.25 and an average of 3.60 or higher in at least 16 credit hours of economics courses. ODE organizes several events annually including the spring induction banquet, dinners with faculty, and career-related information sessions.

Three prizes are awarded by the Department annually: (1) the Jack and Lewis Greenhut Award for excellence in economics and promise for graduate studies; (2) the Tate Whitman Award in Economics for analytic clarity, personal integrity, and leadership; and (3) the George Benston and Richard F. Muth Award for intellectual curiosity, passion, and skill in economic analysis.

Educational Studies Department
The Division of Educational Studies offers an interdisciplinary approach to the study of education with a special emphasis on urban and comparative issues. In particular, the Division seeks to provide students with a foundation for understanding the social and cultural context in which education occurs and for interpreting the complex relationships among education, the individual, and society.

Requirements

The educational studies major provides a foundation that is appropriate for students who may choose to enter a teacher certification program at the graduate level as well as for students who may later wish to embark upon other careers in education. The major is also appropriate for students who intend to pursue graduate study in other areas such as law or business but who need a comprehensive understanding of the complexity of educational issues in order to contribute to meaningful decision making in their professional and private lives. Graduates of this program do not meet the requirements for teacher certification.

Requirements for Major

The BA degree program consists of a minimum of ten courses (forty hours). Educational Studies 201 (American Education) is required.

Five Breadth Courses: The purpose of the breadth requirement is to insure that all majors acquire systematic knowledge in what we view as five central areas. Consequently all majors must take at least one course from each of the following five areas: Psychological Contest of Education, Social Context of Education, Cultural Context of Education, Historical/Philosophical Context of Education, and Methods of Disciplined Inquiry.

Four Elective Courses: Students must take additional four courses to complete the major. These courses will be selected in consultation with the student’s adviser. The faculty values development of individualized programs that may include study abroad, off-campus internships, and other appropriate experiences in an educational context. Course taken to meet the requirements for the BA may not be taken under the S/U option. A “C” average or better must be maintained in the courses for the major to fulfill graduation requirements.

Requirements: The Educational Studies Minor consists of a minimum of five courses (twenty hours). Educational Studies 201 (American Education) is required.

Three Breadth Courses: The purpose of the breadth requirement is to insure that all majors acquire systematic knowledge in what we view as five central areas. Consequently all minors must take three courses, one selected from three of the following five areas:

- Psychological Contest of Education,
- Social Context of Education,
- Cultural Context of Education,
- Historical/Philosophical Context of Education, and
- Methods of Disciplined Inquiry.

One Elective Course: Students must take an additional course to complete the minor. This course will be selected in consultation with the student’s adviser.

Programs

Honors Program:

Qualified students are encouraged to become involved in the division's Honors Program. Admission to the Honors Program depends on minimum criteria established by the college and invitation by division faculty. See Division website (www.des.emory.edu).

For more information, see Honors Program.

Study Abroad:

Students in Educational Studies are encouraged to spend a semester, usually during the junior year, abroad in program coordinated by Emory's CIPA office. With the approval of the student's Division advisor, some credit toward the major or minor may be earned.

For more information, see Study Abroad.

Advising:

When declaring a major or minor, a student is assigned a faculty advisor, and an academic file is maintained for academic advisement documentation. Students are expected to have appointments with the advisor at least once a semester for program planning and course scheduling. Official correspondence with each student is sent by email from Division staff, instructors, and faculty advisors.
English Department

The study of literature, how writers produce it, and how it affects individuals and society is essential to a liberal arts education. Literary study also may explore the effects of history, religion, science, philosophy, and other disciplines upon readers and writers of different times and places. Emory's program gives undergraduates knowledge of the different genres and periods of British, American, and other Anglophone literatures and of literature as an index to culture in the broadest sense. It also stresses instruction in the techniques of analysis, research, and writing. It provides an educational foundation of critical thinking, sound judgment, and clear writing valuable to students planning careers in business, teaching, law, medicine, or other fields.

Concentrations

Major in English

Major Code: ENGLISH
Degree Awarded: BA
Hours to complete: 36
Required courses: 10
Requirements: All students except those in the “4+1 Bachelor’s/Master’s Program” must take ten courses and a minimum of 36 credit hours in English for a letter grade. These courses must incorporate the following plan:

- English 205
- Four 300- or 400-level English courses in an area of concentration developed by the student with guidance from a faculty advisor
- Five electives
  - Included in these ten courses must be four courses other than ENG 205 that meet the following distribution requirements:
    - One course in British literature before 1660
    - One course in post-1660 British, Irish or other non-American Anglophone literature
    - One course in American literature
    - One course having a theoretical or interdisciplinary component
      - Two of the four courses satisfying these distribution requirements must be at the 300 or 400 level.

  Important: The following courses do not count towards the major: 101, 181, 190 and 496R. No more than two creative writing courses may count toward the major.

  Students in the “4+1 Bachelor’s/Master’s Program” are subject to the above requirements except such students may count up to four graduate seminars toward their ten-course requirement. Two of these graduate seminars may be taken pass/fail and any may be counted toward the area of concentration.

  Ordinarily, a maximum of eight credit hours (two courses) earned off campus may be applied toward the major and at least two of the courses included within an area of concentration must be taken at Emory University. Under extraordinary circumstances, the Director of Undergraduate Studies may approve petitions for exceptions to this rule.

Minor in English

Minor Code: ENGLISH MIN

Degree Awarded: None

Hours to complete: 21

Required courses: 6
Requirements: A minor in English may complement a major in any other department. A concentration in a particular literary field may be worked out in consultation with your advisor or the Director of Undergraduate Studies. There is no minor in Creative Writing.

All minors must take six courses and a minimum of 21 credits in English beyond the 100-level, including:

- English 205
- at least two courses at the 300- or 400-level
  Note:
- English 101, 181, 190, and 496R do not count toward the minor.
- All courses must be taken for a letter grade.
- Two of the courses toward the minor may be Creative Writing courses.

Environmental Studies Department

The Department of Environmental Studies’ interdisciplinary and integrative curriculum is designed to equip students with key skills and knowledge to understand and confront complex environmental issues. The curriculum is rooted in the basic disciplines of ecology and conservation, earth science, and social science and policy. Field and integrative courses compel students to synthesize concepts, methods and practice from these essential disciplines. Undergraduate research opportunities and internships are emphasized. The department offers a BA, BS, and a Minor in Environmental Studies, a concentration in Environment and Sustainability Management with the Goizueta Business School BBA Program, and a joint 4+1 (five-year) BS/MPH with the Environmental Health Department in Rollins School of Public Health.

Concentrations

Major in Environmental Studies [BA]
- Major Code: ENVS
- Degree Awarded: BA
- Hours to complete: 39 - 42
- Required courses: 11
Requirements: Students who seek a Bachelor of Arts degree in Environmental Studies must complete eleven courses in four areas: Foundation Courses, Intermediate Breadth Courses, Upper Level Electives, and Independent Study. One Field Course and one Upper Level Lab course are required as part of, but not in addition to, the coursework. No 100-level courses (with the exception of ENVS 131) may be applied toward the major. Oxford College students should check the ENVS website for Oxford course equivalencies.

Foundation Courses (three required): the foundation consists of three courses (ENVS 131, 260 and 390) designed for students seeking a major.

Intermediate Breadth Courses (three required): at least one 200-level course in each of three discipline areas: Ecology/Conservation, Earth Science, and Social Science and Policy. Upper Level Electives (four required): students will choose four courses (200 level and above) to form a focus in a particular area. Students are given a great deal of flexibility and responsibility in choosing their elective courses. The Upper Level Elective area course options include courses offered in the department and those cross-listed with other departments. Elective courses are intended to provide students with the opportunity to focus their studies in a given area. Focus area choices are guided by a student’s interests and in consultation with the faculty advisor. A limited number of study abroad courses, Emory courses outside the department, or transfer courses may be counted for the major, subject to ENVS department approval. 400-level variable credit Independent study courses must be taken for at least 4-credit hours to fulfill the Independent Study requirement.

Foundation Courses (three courses required)

Student must complete

- ENVS 131: Introduction to Environmental Studies (with lab)
- ENVS 260: Quantitative Methods in Environmental Studies
- ENVS 390: Environmental Studies Seminar.

Intermediate Breadth Courses (three courses required; one course from each category A-C)

A. Earth Science

- ENVS 222: Evolution of the Earth (with lab)
- ENVS 230: Fundamentals of Geology (with lab)
- ENVS 235: Environmental Geology
- ENVS 241: Modern and Ancient Tropical Environments (1 credit) and ENVS 242: Modern and Ancient Tropical Environments Field Course (3 credits) [Note: That both ENVS 241 and ENVS 242 are required to fulfill the Earth Science Category. ENVS 241/ENVS 242 also fulfills the field course component of the major]

B. Social Science and Policy

- ENVS 215: Human Ecology
- ENVS 225: Institutions and the Environment
- ENVS 227: Environmental Policy

C. Ecology and Conservation

- ENVS 232: Integrated Methods in Ecology (with lab)
Minor in Environmental Studies

Minor Code: ENVS
Degree Awarded: None
Hours to complete: 18 - 19
Required courses: 5
Requirements: Five courses are required for a minor in Environmental Studies. Students must complete one Foundation Course (ENVS 131) and four ENVS electives at the 200-level or above.

ENVS 120: Human And Natural Ecology:

General Information
Credit Hours: 3
GERs: SNT
Course Description: This course introduces the study of the relationship between humans and the environment. Topics include general ecology, resources, pollution, biodiversity, global change, and aspects of health, economics, ethics, and law as related to environmental studies. Will not fulfill major requirements.

| ENVS 129    | Meteorology with Lab               | Course Description: Meteorology is the science of the atmosphere and the weather it produces. It seeks to understand the dynamics of the system in terms of available energy and how those dynamics produce the daily weather and long-term climate of the globe. This course will include a weekly lab. | Course Type: Lecture And Related Component
Scheduled Related Component: Lab
Weekly Contact Minutes in Related Component: 150 - 190 |
| ENVS 131    | Intro to Environmental Studies     | Course Description: An introduction to the concepts and methods of environmental studies. Students will be introduced to relevant theories from physical sciences, ecology, economics, political science, and other fields related to environmental studies. | Course Type: Lecture And Related Component
Weekly Contact Minutes: 225
Scheduled Related Component: Lab
Weekly Contact Minutes in Related Component: 100 - 140 |
| ENVS 190    | Fresh Sem: Environmental Studies   | Course Description: Students are introduced to basic concepts of ecology and geology via examples of field scientists' illustrated field journals; students will also maintain their own journals. Emphasis on learning local geology, hydrology, zoology and botany, but skills applicable for understanding nature anywhere. | Course Type: Lecture
Weekly Contact Minutes: 150 |
ENVS 215: Human Ecology:

General Information

Credit Hours: 3
GERs: FSEM

Course Description: The topics for freshman seminars are variable and change every semester. Past offerings include Climate Change, Global Earth Systems, Interpreting Behavior That You Can't See, Ecological Economics, Plants, People and Places and Ecological Restoration.

ENVS 235: Environmental Geology:

General Information

- Credit Hours: 3
- GERs: SNT
- Course Description: Interdisciplinary approach to the interaction of humans with natural geological systems. A background in the earth or environmental science is recommended. Topics include earth materials, water resource management, air and water pollution, contaminant remediation, climate change, medical geology, geological disasters, and energy resources. Fulfills Intermediate Earth Science requirement for ENVS majors. May also be used for an ENVS Elective requirement.

Contact Hour Information

- Course Type: Lecture
- Weekly Contact Minutes: 150

ENVS 240: Ecosystem Ecology w/Lab:

General Information

- Credit Hours: 4
- GERs: SNTL
- Course Description: Overview of ecosystem ecology, including dynamics of large scale systems, landscape ecology, ecosystem structure, and function. Topics in the course will include: methods of ecosystem analysis, energy flow, nutrient cycling, community dynamics, issues of scale, models, and ecosystem properties. Fulfills ENVS Intermediate Ecology and Conservation requirement and upper-level lab requirement.

Contact Hour Information

- Course Type: Lecture And Related Component

ENVS 242: Mod:

General Information
- Credit Hours: 3
- GERs: None
- Course Description: Credit, three hours. Prerequisite: Environmental Studies 241. Field-based study of modern and ancient tropical environments, using San Salvador Island of the Bahamas as an example. Specific topics include: description and interpretation of terrestrial, intertidal, and subtidal environments of San Salvador (rocky and sandy shorelines, hypersaline lakes, caves, forests and shrublands, reefs, open ocean, lagoons); biological, paleontological, and geological classification and identification methods in the field.

Contact Hour Information

- Weekly Contact Minutes: 175

ENVS 247: Ecology:

General Information
- Credit Hours: 3
- GERs: None
- Cross-Listed: BIOL 247: Ecology
Course Description:
This course provides an overview of the principles of ecology and the study of relationships between organisms and their environment. Processes and properties of individuals, populations, communities, and ecosystems will be emphasized. Lectures will emphasize active and collaborative learning. Ecology ties in all other branches of Biology (e.g., evolution, behavior, physiology, and genetics) by examining biological processes in the context of the environment in which organisms live and have evolved. There is also a separate 2 credit-hour lab (BIOL 247L/ENVS 247L or BIOL 247LW/ENVS 247LW) associated with this class. The Lab is not required.

ENVS 247L: Ecology Laboratory:

General Information
- Credit Hours: 2
- GERs: None
- Cross-Listed: BIOL 247L: Ecology Laboratory

Course Description:
This is the laboratory portion of the Ecology class. Field studies will be conducted in various natural areas in Georgia, including a weekend trip to the mountains. Pre- or corequisite: Biology/ENVS 247. (This course, taken together with Biology 247, meets the upper-level laboratory requirement for the biology major and fulfills the Writing Requirement for the GERs.)

Contact Hour Information
- Course Type: Lab
- Weekly Contact Minutes: 300

ENVS 250: Fundam. of Cartography:

General Information
- Credit Hours: 4
- GERs: None
- Course Description: An introduction to the study and design of maps and the use of geographic information systems (GIS) as a problem-solving tool for geographic analysis with focus on fundamental concepts and applications of GIS, data collection and processing, cartographic design, and trends in geospatial technology. May be used to fulfill and ENVS Elective requirement.

Contact Hour Information
- Course Type: Lecture And Related Component
- Weekly Contact Minutes: 150
- Scheduled Related Component: Lab
- Weekly Contact Minutes in Related Component: 150 - 190

ENVS 260: Quant Tech In Environ Stdy:

General Information
- Credit Hours: 4
- GERs: MQR
- Course Description: Prerequisite: Environmental Studies 131. Overview of quantitative methods in environmental studies. Field methods will include: stream rates and other stream parameters, spatial orientations, including compass, map skills, and GPS. Mathematical and statistical methods for data gathering and analysis appropriate for laboratory and field methods will be applied. Required course for ENVS majors.

Contact Hour Information
- Course Type: Lecture And Related Component
- Weekly Contact Minutes: 150
- Scheduled Related Component: Recitation Or Discussion Section
- Weekly Contact Minutes in Related Component: 50 - 90

ENVS 275: Nature and Culture in Japan:
JPN 275: Nature and Culture in Japan

Credit Hours: 3
GERs: HAP
Cross-Listed: EAS 275: Nature and Culture in Japan

Course Description: We examine the interaction between the human and natural world in Japanese cultural and scientific history by looking at maps, literature, scriptures, visual media, and current journalism.

Contact Hour Information
Course Type: Lecture

ENVS 299R: Fundamentals of ENVS Rsrch:

General Information
Credit Hours: 1 - 8
GERs: None

Course Description: Variable credit; may be repeated for a maximum of 8 hours. Permission of faculty supervisor required prior to enrollment. Designed primarily for sophomores, this individual research course provides a means for ENVS students to learn foundational skills for research in a field of environmental studies under the supervision of a faculty member (and affiliated graduate students or post doctoral researchers). A stepping stone to more advanced research work, highly recommended for ENVS students planning to apply to graduate school or enter careers in research.

Contact Hour Information
Course Type: Undergraduate Research
Weekly Contact Minutes: variable

ENVS 320: Environ Assessment/Managemen:

General Information
Credit Hours: 3
GERs: None

Course Description: This course will introduce concepts of adaptive environmental management and review experiences of using this interdisciplinary approach for dealing with a wide range of resource issues. The course will review existing theories, concepts and methods of adaptive management, and case histories of systems where adaptive management approaches have been applied. Fulfills an ENVS Elective requirement.

Contact Hour Information
Course Type: Lecture
Weekly Contact Minutes: 150

ENVS 321: Geology and Human Health:

General Information
Credit Hours: 3
GERs: None
Course Description: Interdisciplinary course discussing the connections between Earth and human body processes. Examines intrinsic and extrinsic metabolic pathways controlling health, pathogens, disease, pollution, natural resources, and earth and human cycles. Fulfills an ENVS Elective requirement.

Contact Hour Information
Course Type: Lecture
Weekly Contact Minutes: 150

ENVS 324: Ecological Economics:

General Information
Credit Hours: 3
GERs: None
Course Description: Develops an understanding and critique of environmental and natural resource economics and considers extensions and alternatives for understanding complex systems of people and nature. Discussion of economic indicators of success, scale, sustainability, and of the value of natural resources is balanced by attention to policy design and to issues of political and economic power, inequality, and historical change. The role of ecosystem services, natural and social capital in economic development are considered. Fulfills an ENVS Elective requirement.

Contact Hour Information
Course Type: Lecture
Weekly Contact Minutes: 150
ENVS 325: Energy and Climate Change:

General Information

- Credit Hours: 3
- GERs: None

Course Description: Energy generation and consumption at the individual, regional, national and international level are used as a lens for understanding the problem of climate change. Particular attention is paid to the interaction between scientific uncertainty and global decision making. Fulfills an ENVS Elective requirement.

Contact Hour Information

- Course Type: Lecture
- Weekly Contact Minutes: 150

ENVS 329: Religion And Ecology:

General Information

- Credit Hours: 3
- GERs: HAP
- Cross-Listed: REL 329: Religion

Course Description: Historical, philosophical, and ethical relationships between religion and ecology; other dimensions include Eastern thought, ecofeminism, animal rights, and literary nature writers.

The science of climatology studies the physical properties of the earth's atmosphere and how they conspire to produce the observed climates of the present and the deduced climates of the past. This course pays particular attention to the energy cascade of the climate system, the processes by which energy becomes distributed across the globe, and the potential role of the ocean in long- and short-term climate change. - Course Type: Lecture
- Weekly Contact Minutes: 150

ENVS 340: Wetland Ecology:

General Information
- Credit Hours: 3
- GERs: None

Course Description: This course will introduce students to the ecology of wetlands. The course will cover factors that influence the hydrology of wetlands, present the ecology of a diverse set of wetland systems and introduce a range of management issues that confront wetland managers. Fulfills an ENVS Elective requirement.

Film

Film studies at Emory stands firmly within the tradition of a liberal arts education, committed to the traditional goals of critical reading (of filmic texts) and writing in order to teach value discrimination. Film is the public literature and graphic art of our time. In the same way that we should be able to distinguish poetry from advertising copy and post-impressionist painting from soup labels, we should be able to distinguish good cinema from bad, and the truly serious from the merely exciting, sensuous, or novel. Film is a contemporary language form whose presence is pervasive, though we have traditionally treated this language as a medium so ephemeral as to deserve contempt or so mysterious as to defy comprehension. The film studies department seeks to correct these cultural oversights by leading the student through progressive stages of encounter toward a level of critical understanding associated with concentrations in more traditional humanities disciplines.

Concentrations

Major in Film Studies

| Major Code: | FILMST |
| Degree Awarded: | BA |
| Hours to complete: | 40 |
| Required courses: | 10 |

Requirements: Forty semester hours in film studies, twenty-four hours of which must be taken from the core of Film 270: Introduction to Film; Film 371-372 (the film history sequence); Film 381-382 (the film theory sequence); and either Film 393: Nonfiction Film or Film Studies 395: National Cinemas, Western, or 396: Non-Western Cinema. Four credit hours must be taken at the 400 level. Students also may take Art History 107/207 (Film, Video, and Photography) as an elective that counts toward the major.

Minor in Film Studies

| Minor Code: | FILMSTMIN |
| Degree Awarded: | None |
| Hours to complete: | 18 - 24 |
| Required courses: | 6 |
Requirements: Students minoring in film studies must complete Film 270, 371, 372, and 381, all of which are required as the core of the minor, for a subtotal of sixteen semester hours. Students must then choose the remaining eight hours from other 300- or 400-level film courses and/or Art History 107/207 (Film, Video, and Photography), for a total concentration of twenty-four credit hours.

Please note that all film studies courses require a weekly out-of-class screening session, usually in the evening. Unless otherwise stated, Film 270 is a prerequisite to all higher numbered courses except Film 371 and 372.

French and Italian Studies Department

The Department of French and Italian Studies offers a wide range of courses in both languages as well as some courses in English, many of which are cross-listed with other departments. A student can major or minor in both French Studies and Italian Studies.

The Italian Studies webpage provides more detail about that particular program.

Concentrations

Major in French

Major Code: FRENSTUD
Degree Awarded: BA
Hours to complete: 44 - 47
Required courses: 9-12
Requirements: The department offers a major in French studies. The requirements for the French studies major are French 310 and 314, plus any three out of the following 300-level courses (312, 313, 331, 341, 351, 385, or 391) and three 400-level French courses (460, 488, and 490).

Upon approval of the undergraduate major adviser, one of the 300-level courses may be replaced by the following choice of courses: (1) an extradepartmental course in a suitable supporting subject (such as art history, history, or political science); or (2) by French 361. French 361 is an optional course in English that may be taken by non-majors, or in addition to the major, or as the extradepartmental course to be counted towards the major. All courses must be taken for a letter grade.

Admission: Pre-Requisites: French 101, 102, 201, and 203

Minor in French

Minor Code: FRENSTMIN
Degree Awarded: None
Hours to complete: 29 - 31
Required courses: 8
Requirements: The French studies minor consists of French 203, 310, and 314, plus two additional courses in French at the 300 level, excluding 361. French 313 may count as one of the 300-level courses, and is strongly recommended for a French studies minor. In certain cases, qualified students may obtain permission from the director of undergraduate studies to take one course at the 400 level. All courses must be taken for a letter grade.

Admission: Pre-Requisites: French 101, 102, 201

Programs

Honors Program:  For more information, see Honors Program.

Study Abroad:

Majors in French are strongly encouraged to spend at least one semester, usually during their junior year, abroad in one of the department’s approved programs. The department conducts its own summer program in Paris and sponsors a semester/year program in Paris with Duke and Cornell, EDUCO. Students enrolled in the latter program may choose from a wide variety of classes offered both at the EDUCO center and at several French institutions, including three branches of the University of Paris, I, IV, and VII. Selected students also may study at the prestigious Institut des Sciences Politiques (year program only). The department gives credit toward the French studies major or minor only for classes taken through an Emory program. However, in specific cases, and upon preapproval by the French director of undergraduate studies and the CIPA office, some credit may be earned overseas in programs sponsored by other institutions that offer courses or career opportunities not available through Emory.

For more information, see Study Abroad.

Awards and Honors:

The Mrs. B.R. Bray Prize is offered annually for the year's best work in French. Sigma chapter of Phi Sigma Iota, the national Foreign language honor society, was installed at Emory in 1930.

German Studies Department

The German Studies Department offers a major and minor degree in German Studies. Courses range from introductory level instruction to advanced studies seminars. Students may choose from courses in literature, culture, German film, history, music, business, and Yiddish studies.

Concentrations

Programs

Honors Program:

Qualified German Studies majors are encouraged to consider writing an honors thesis their senior year. Consult the department for more information. Each year outstanding German Studies majors and minors are inducted into the Delta Phi Alpha, the national German Honor Society. In addition, qualified students of German can be inducted into the Phi Sigma Iota, the national Foreign Language Honor Society.

For more information, see Honors Program.

Study Abroad:

All undergraduate students at Emory are invited and all students in German are encouraged to participate in the department’s summer program in Vienna, Austria (see German 370A/B), which provides cultural immersion as well intensive language instruction. Students majoring in German studies are strongly urged to spend a regular semester or the junior year with an approved program of study in a German-speaking country. Programs are currently available in Freiburg, Berlin, and Vienna; for details contact the Study Abroad Office (CIPA) or the Department of German Studies.

For more information, see Study Abroad.
Advising:

For further assistance regarding studying German at Emory, contact the Director of Undergraduate Studies in the department. The Director of Undergraduate Studies also serves as the advisor to all majors and minors.

Internship:

In conjunction with the American Chamber of Commerce in Germany, the department is pleased to offer its own summer internship program that arranges summer positions in Germany for up to five students each year. Contact the Director of Undergraduate Studies in the department for more information.

Awards and Honors:

Each year the department recognizes outstanding achievement in German by awarding Sprachpreise to students in first-year German, second-year German, and the German major. In addition, the Emory College Language Center awards a prize each year for excellence in the study of German.

Global Health, Culture and Society Program

The most pressing challenges to global health are not biological and technical, but rather social, economic and political. Future leaders need to know about the range of serious health problems facing people at home and around the globe and the intersecting economic, political and cultural factors that determine them. The undergraduate minor in Global Health, Culture and Society offers an integrated set of interdisciplinary courses aimed at understanding the complex interplay of the economic, social, ethical, behavioral and biomedical dimensions of population health.

The Global Health, Culture and Society Minor is administered by the Center for the Study of Human Health.

Requirements:

Two Core Courses

GHCS 102: Introduction to Global Health
GHCS 300: Core Issues in Global Health (prerequisite: GHCS 102)

Four Approved Elective Courses

The approved elective courses must be taken in at least two different departments. Only one course which counts toward your major may be counted toward the GHCS minor. See your major department for information about classes that may count toward your major.

Elective courses that have a major focus on social, economic, environmental or other aspects of global health offered by a variety of Emory College departments are identified and approved by the program prior to each semester. For a list of courses, click on the Elective Courses link. Check home department websites for course prerequisites.

Other courses taken here or abroad, or internships with an academic component, may be considered as GHCS electives, by petition, if a substantial portion of the course content centers on global health issues. See Whitney Easton in the Anthropology Department Office to obtain and submit a petition form. After the petition is reviewed, you will be contacted by email about the decision.

A maximum of 2 elective courses (8 credits) may be taken off campus, including study abroad.

GHCS 200R: Global Health Through Film:

General Information

Credit Hours: 2

GERs: None
Course Description: This is a discussion-based course on critical issues in Global Health. It is designed as a supplemental or over-load course for students interested in global health and health-related careers but who may not have sufficient room in their academic schedule to take a full course. Students will view and discuss both documentary and popular films dealing with contemporary Global Health and Development problems. The course explores key social, economic, ethical, cultural, public health and medical issues surrounding these global health issues, and how films can act to shape our understanding, accurately or less accurately, of these issues.

History Department

At Emory, history is a discipline belonging to both the humanities and the social sciences. On the undergraduate level, its study is aimed not so much at training future historians as at training students to think historically. This involves the mastery of a certain amount of factual information, but never as an end in itself. Thinking historically means learning how to deal critically with evidence and to recognize relationships in order to understand that our own times are what they are because of the past. The history department offers a large number of individual courses in American and European history plus coverage of Latin America, Africa, East Asia (China and Japan), and the Near East (including Israel).

Requirements:
The History Department requires all its majors to choose a concentration within the major. Since History as a discipline is diverse and our students come to it with varied expectations, the student’s concentration may aim at a broad exposure to history—General Studies in History—or at deeper immersion in one of (at present) three geographically based or two thematically focused approaches. The geographic concentrations are: United States, Europe, and Latin America & Non-Western World. The thematic concentrations are: Women, Gender, and Sexuality and Empires, Nations, and Citizenship. (See “Concentrations” descriptions below.

Advanced Placement (AP) and International Baccalaureate (IB) Credits

History majors may use a maximum of six (6) hours of Advanced Placement (AP) and International Baccalaureate (IB) history credit towards a history major. AP and IB credit cannot be used to satisfy a major distribution area requirement; these credits can be used to satisfy major credit hours only.

General Requirements

- A student must complete 11 courses (a minimum of 35 credit hours) of history, of which at least seven courses must be at or above the 300-level. Two of the 11 courses required for the history major must be colloquia (Hist. 487R, 488R, or 489R) which meet the College post-freshmen writing requirement GER. Normally, one colloquium will be taken in the junior year, the other in the senior year. Graduate seminar courses (500-level) may be used to fulfill the major colloquia requirement but do not meet College post-freshmen writing requirements, as colloquia normally do.
- Two research papers are required of all history majors. These papers are written in the junior and senior colloquia courses and are normally sixteen to twenty-four pages in length. History majors who have a compelling reason for writing a research paper in another course should petition the Director of Undergraduate Studies for permission to do so prior to taking the course.
- The completion of the major requires a minimum of a C average in history courses counted towards the major.
- The S/U option may not be exercised in any course counted for the major.

Special programs have been developed for students who would like to take joint majors in history and art history, history and classics, history and English, and history and religion. Joint major information may be obtained from the Department office.

Concentration Requirements

- Each student must choose a concentration within the major by October of the junior year (or upon declaring a major if done at a later date).
- For geographic concentrations, students must take at least five courses within the concentration; all five must be at or above the 300-level, and one must be a colloquium (487R, 488R, or 489R).
- For thematic concentrations, students must take at least five courses within the concentration, one of which may be a 200-level course if listed as pertinent, while the other four must be at or above the 300-level, including one colloquium.
- For the General Studies concentration, students must take five courses, one each in the five primary geographic and chronological fields. At least four of the courses must be at or above the 300-level.
Minor in History

Minor Code: HISTORYMIN
Degree Awarded: None
Hours to complete: 22
Required courses: 7
Requirements: Students choosing history as their minor field must complete seven courses (a minimum of 22 credit hours) of history, of which at least five courses must be advanced level (300-level or above), and must include a junior/senior colloquium (History 487R, 488R or 489R). The completion of a minor in history requires a minimum of a C average in the minor. The S/U option may be exercised for one course applied to the minor.

Programs

Honors Program:
History and joint history majors with a 3.50 cumulative average and a 3.50 major average at the beginning of their junior year are eligible to apply to participate in the History honors program. Exceptions to the 3.50 cumulative-average requirement can be made by the College Honors Committee in individual cases upon recommendation by the Department. Students granted this exception should be aware that grades earned in any semester after beginning the honors program cannot fall below 3.50. Eligible students will be expected to complete an application for admission to the History honors program in the first semester of their junior year. The Honors Program is a senior-year program within the College, therefore students will not be officially admitted to the Honors Program until the fall of their senior year (with the exception of second-semester juniors who expect to graduate the following fall). However, the Department will expect its honors students to begin their honors studies in the spring of their junior year, barring extraordinary circumstances. Requests for late admission (in the second semester of junior year) require a petition to the Departmental Honors Coordinator explaining the special circumstances for the late admission (study abroad, late declaration of major, etc.). A meeting of eligible history students will be held in the fall semester to explain and discuss the nature and content of the honors program. Normally this meeting will be hosted by the professor who is scheduled to teach the honors course, History 495A, in the following spring semester.

Program

40 hours of history are required, including at least 28 hours at or above the 300 level and at least 8 hours outside the student’s major field (European, World or U. S. history). No history courses may be taken S/U to be credited to the honors requirements. The honors program itself consists of 12 hours of required courses (Hist 495A, a 500-level graduate seminar, and Hist 495B-CWR).

- History 495A
  - History 495A, “Introduction to Historical Interpretation,” is a required course to participate in the History Honors program. Although offered in both fall and spring semesters, History 495A is normally taken in the spring semester of the junior year and must be taken by the end of the fall semester of the senior year; students are strongly encouraged to take this course before formal admission in the College Honors Program during their senior year.
  - The course will address historiographical and methodological issues, and offer practical guidance in thesis design and research, with course details and emphases left to the discretion of the instructor. This course does not satisfy any of the five history major area-distribution requirements.
  - Since this course will address important issues of research design pertinent to the study of history in general, non-honors students may be admitted by petitioning the Departmental Honors Coordinator.

- 500-level Graduate Seminar
  - Honors students will take a 500-level graduate seminar course in the spring semester of junior year or the fall semester of the senior year.
  - Students who wish to take their graduate seminar in another semester due to its greater suitability to their thesis topic may petition the Departmental Honors Coordinator for an exception to this regulation.
  - If no appropriate graduate seminar is being offered at any time in the year, candidates may petition to substitute an undergraduate colloquium to be taken as a History 596R “Special Studies.”

- History 495B-CWR
  - Honors students are required to take the paper-writing section of History 495B-CWR following completion of their graduate seminar. Normally, this course is taken in the spring semester of senior year (i.e., in the student’s last undergraduate semester) and is organized around the writing of the honors thesis.

- Thesis Proposal
Study Abroad:

Study abroad course approval and evaluation of credit: The history department does not pre-approve study abroad courses. To receive Emory history credit for study abroad courses, the student must: 1) take a history course in a history department in an approved study abroad university; and, 2) submit written work following dept. guidelines for approval of credit. Written work guidelines: To be considered for upper-level (Hist.385) credit, students must complete a 3,000 word research paper with proper use and citation of sources. To be considered for lower-level (Hist.285) credit, students must complete 2,000 words of written, graded work in the form of one or more short essays, or some other appropriate form (not in-class exams or journals). Upon returning to Emory, students should submit all written work and course syllabus to Becky Herring, Undergraduate Program Coordinator, who will forward these materials to the Director of Undergraduate Studies for approval and evaluation of credit.

The George P. Cuttino Scholarship, established in 1984, is awarded to a junior for travel and research in Europe during the summer before the senior year. The George P. Cuttino Summer Study Fellowships are awarded to juniors for study outside the United States in a summer study program. Scholarship and fellowship applications are requested in early spring semester.

For more information, see Study Abroad.

Advising:

To ensure that history majors make steady progress toward timely graduation, the history department has a mandatory advising policy. Students must meet with a history advisor and obtain her/his signature during the pre-registration advising periods.

Internship:
History 494

The history department’s internship program provides students with the opportunity to apply their academic knowledge to practical experience. The internship must engage historical issues and materials. The student is responsible for identifying and securing acceptance to an internship position. All student internship projects must be approved by the history department’s director of undergraduate studies, who can supply suggestions and information on possible internships.

Eligibility

To be eligible a student must:

1) be a history major
2) be a junior or a senior
3) have a minimum 3.0 cumulative GPA
4) offer an internship project relevant to the study of history

Application

Students interested in enrolling in the history department’s internship program must:

1) contact the sponsoring institution and make all arrangements of the internship
2) complete an application (available from the history department)
3) provide a brief proposal specifying the nature and scope of the internship and research paper with particular attention to the historical relevance of this work
4) obtain the approval of the history department’s director of undergraduate studies

Course Requirements

1) a prescribed number of hours working at the sponsoring institution, validated by a time sheet signed by the supervisor
2) a research paper of a prescribed length on an historical topic
3) a one-page evaluation by the student of the internship experience
4) a letter of evaluation from the student’s supervisor at the sponsoring institution

Course Credits

All internships are expected to last fourteen weeks, earning four credit hours for ten to twelve hours of work per week, and conclude with a fifteen-page research paper. The paper must be submitted to the director of undergraduate studies by the last day of classes.

Grades

The course grade is based on the supervisor’s written evaluation of the intern’s performance (50%).
Awards and Honors:

Established in 2006, the Clio Prizes are awarded annually to the best research paper written in a junior/senior history colloquium and to the best paper written in a freshman history seminar.

Phi Alpha Theta is the international history honorary society. Local membership is determined by grade average and course hour requirements as set forth by the international council. Invitations to join are sent to eligible majors in early spring semester.

The James Z. Rabun Prize, established in 1981, is awarded annually to the Emory College senior who in the department’s judgment has been the most outstanding student in the field of American history. The George P. Cuttino Prize, established in 1984, is awarded annually to that senior who has been the most outstanding student in European history. The Theodore H. Jack Award is given to the graduating senior who pursues graduate study in American history. The Matthew A. Carter Citizen-Scholar Award, established in September 2000 in memory of a former student, is given annually to the graduating senior who distinguishes himself or herself in the manner of Matt Carter.

Institute of the Liberal Arts Department

The ILA is an autonomous graduate institute with long-standing connections to other departments and programs at Emory, to other area universities, and to public and private institutions in Atlanta. Our faculty members’ diverse disciplinary backgrounds and intellectual commitments find expression in a wide range of courses and scholarly initiatives. The faculty of The Graduate Institute of the Liberal Arts includes notable scholarly practitioners of a wide array of kinds of research, including the roles of contemporary science and medicine in society; current theories of embodiment, gender and sexuality, including psychoanalysis and queer theory; anthropology, historical ethnography, and oral history; American Studies, emphasizing African American, Asian American, Native American, and southern regional cultures and popular culture; social memory and memorialization; intellectual history (ancient and modern); visual culture; digital media; and public scholarship. The ILA is committed to sustaining its long history of interdisciplinary collaboration among its own members as well as in conjunction with the affiliated faculty of numerous other departments and schools of the university with which it maintains close working relations.

Concentrations

Major in Interdisciplinary Studies in Society And Culture

| Major Code: | IDSSC |
| Degree Awarded: | BA |
| Hours to complete: | 44 |
| Required courses: | 12 |
Requirements:

The IDS major requires 44 credits; generally this will involve 5 Frame Courses + 7 Concentration Courses:

Frame Courses = at least 20 credits (2 200-level, Writing Lab courses @ 5 credits/each, IDS 491 Senior seminar @ 4 credits, and 2 others @ 3 or more credits)

Concentration Courses = at least 7 courses carrying 3 or more credits each

Concentration Courses

At least seven of the major’s required courses constitute the student’s individualized concentration. This list of at least seven courses is designed in close consultation with the Director of Undergraduate Studies (DUS) or a faculty advisor, who approves of the concentration at the time the student is admitted into the major. Subsequent changes to the concentration courses must be approved by the DUS.

The concentration courses prepare a student to carry out research into a question that is best illuminated by two or more disciplinary methods. Skills and research launched in the concentration courses culminate in the required IDS senior project.

Frame Courses

Writing as a skill for reflective reading and clear articulation of thought is crucial to success within the IDS major. Frame courses provide structure to a student’s experience within the major by emphasizing writing skills and by presenting examples of analysis and illumination of intellectual problems through the methods and resources of multiple disciplines.

- Two 200-level continuing writing requirement courses that participate in the ILA’s innovative Writing Lab initiative are required; the array of options is as follows:
  - IDS 200 Interdisciplinary Foundations
  - IDS 201 Interdisciplinary Problems
  - IDS 205 Interdisciplinary Science
  - IDS 213 Politics of Identity
  - IDS 216 Visual Culture
  - by special petition to the DUS, AMST 212WR, IDS 213WR, IDS 214WR, or IDS 210
  - One 300-level class focusing on cultural theory is required (generally IDS 385 Critical Cultural Theory)
- Two senior year courses are required:
  - IDS 491 Liberal Studies Seminar (senior seminar and capstone)
  - Senior Research or Honors research*
  - IDS Senior Project

As a synthesis of a student’s course of study, and as a credential demonstrating a student’s ability to organize complex ideas, each IDS student completes a significant senior project. Senior projects frequently involve scholarly research, but can be composed of research and other forms of scholarship, such as artistic expression or other forms of broader public engagement. Students begin their projects in the senior capstone seminar and work closely with faculty advisors, who give final Admission: IDS major declaration requires approval of the Director of Undergraduate Studies. Students are encouraged to schedule a meeting to discuss their interests in the IDS major.

Minor in Science, Culture and Society

Degree Awarded: None

Hours to complete: 20

Required courses: 6-7

Requirements: 20 credits to complete

Additional Information

The interdisciplinary Science, Culture, & Society Minor is administered through the Graduate Institute of Liberal Arts (ILA) and its Interdisciplinary Studies in Culture and Society (IDS) program, through which students can also design their own major in Science & Society. The ILA also offers majors in American Studies and Medieval and Renaissance Studies, and a minor in Sustainability.

Admission: The goal of the minor in Science, Culture, & Society is to expand the context of traditional science majors into the humanities and that of traditional humanities and social sciences majors into the natural sciences. The minor engages students in intense discussion and research in complex interdisciplinary issues like race, bioterror, addiction, technology, consciousness, and human well-being. Students approach science from non-traditional directions or through interdisciplinary connections such as science and literature, science writing, or science and the arts.

AMST 275: Black Images In The Media:

General Information

Credit Hours: 3
GERs: HSC
Cross-Listed: AAS 275: Black Images In The Media

Course Description: Students in this course will study representations of African Americans in major forms of mass media, including newspapers, literature, radio, television and film. We will review the historical development of those images and trace their progression to the present. We also will study the impact of negative portrayals of African Americans on the self-images of blacks and assess the effect of those representations on whites and the society at large. Moreover, the class will examine ways that black image-makers have portrayed African Americans through Hip Hop and film, and we will attempt to predict trends and solutions for the future.

Programs

Honors Program:
Honors students, identified in their Junior year in their work in IDS 390 will take a minimum of one, and will be encouraged to take two semesters of IDS 495R Honors Research. During the fall term the students will meet in a seminar-like setting on a weekly basis with the aim of producing a significant first draft of their future Honors project. This project will be further researched and revised during an (optional) spring semester of 495R.

For more information, see Honors Program.

Study Abroad:

The IDS program encourages study abroad and understanding of other cultures. In consultation with the director of undergraduate studies, study-abroad courses can be counted toward the IDS major concentration course requirements.

For more information, see Study Abroad.

Internship:

The IDS program recognizes that there can be real value to integrating the theory of academic studies with the practice of real-world experience, or in learning more about a prospective vocation through an internship. We therefore offer IDS 485R as a permission-only variable credit course every semester (including summer). Please contact for details.

Irish Studies at Emory introduces students to leading scholarship on Ireland through courses, seminars, readings and lectures. The goal of the program is to facilitate the study of the literary, historical, social, political, religious, artistic, and cultural dimensions of Ireland. The Irish Studies Program offers an interdisciplinary minor that draws upon courses offered in various departments that devote significant attention to the study of Ireland.

For more information, see Honors Program.

Study Abroad: For more information, see Study Abroad.

Italian Studies Program

The Italian Studies program is an interdisciplinary program based in the Department of French and Italian, with academic links to several other Emory College of Arts and Sciences departments. The program takes pride in the close faculty/student teaching and mentoring relationships fostered. We offer a wide range of excellent study abroad programs in Italy, both during the summer as well as during the Fall and Spring semesters.

Concentrations

Major in Italian Studies

- Major Code: ITALST
- Degree Awarded: BA
- Hours to complete: 36 - 48
- Required courses: 12

Requirements: Italian Studies is an interdisciplinary major whose focus is the study of Italy from a multifaceted point of view: literary, cultural, historical, artistic, philosophical, and political. It includes courses whose primary objective is to acquaint students with Italy, not only as a vital contributor to world intellectual and cultural history, but also with Italy’s role and reality in today’s world. The Italian Studies major is composed of ten classes. Six of these courses are required in Italian and follow the natural sequence of language to literature. They are 201, 202, 301, 302, and two fourth-year classes, usually 300 and 470. Students are highly encouraged to enroll in one Italian studies survey course, either 170 or 171 (number may vary), or the 270R course, taught on location during the Italy Summer Program. Three courses or more may be chosen from the following departments: Italian, Art History, Classical Studies, History, Music, Philosophy, Political Science, and Religion. Other appropriate courses may be found in the Course Atlas and submitted to Program Director for approval. Participation in the summer or semester programs in Italy is highly recommended especially for majors.

Admission: ITAL 101 and ITAL 102 or approval of the Program Director

Minor in Italian Studies

- Minor Code: ITALMIN

757 of 1426
Degree Awarded: None

Hours to complete: 18 - 24

Required courses: 6

Requirements: Students may minor in Italian language or Italian studies. A minor in Italian requires six classes taught in Italian (usually ITAL 101/102, ITAL 201/202, and ITAL 301/302). A minor in Italian Studies typically involves four courses taught in Italian (ITAL 101/102 and ITAL 201/202) and two courses in on Italian culture to be selected from the following departments: Italian, Art History, Classical Studies, History, Music, Philosophy, Political Science, and Religion. Other appropriate courses may be found in the Course Atlas and submitted to Program Director for approval. A minor in Italian Studies can be achieved through study in Italy on our semester or summer programs.

Study Abroad:

Summer Program

Summer: The yearly summer program, taught by different Italian Studies faculty every year, thus having a different curriculum every year, is a unique and intense immersion into Italian history and culture. Italian history, art and literature are appreciated on site while traveling throughout the whole country. This program now hosts the Emory School of Medicine, whose faculty offers students a medical humanities course aimed at teaching the essence of the meaning of practicing medicine and the meaning of compassion. This is an excellent inter-disciplinary writing intensive course for all students, both interested in the Healthcare profession or not. This summer program and all the courses are open to all Emory students and students from other colleges. There are no pre-requisites and no language requirements.

Semester Programs: Semester Study in Roma (three programs) and Milano

1. The I.E.S. Roma full immersion program offers a challenging work and study opportunity in Italian work places and at Italian university along with the chance to complete the immersion by living with an Italian family. This option is reserved for Italian Studies majors or minors.

2. For culturally motivated students who have little Italian language knowledge, Emory offers the I.E.S. in Roma program. This is an appropriate for students interested in studying the social sciences, humanities, fine arts, and religion but prefer to do so in English. A newly reorganized program, located on the Tiber River in the heart of downtown Rome, Italian home stay opportunities, as well as internship opportunities, make the I.E.S. Roma program a highly recommended authentic study opportunity in Italy.

3. The I.E.S. Milan program is the only semester program not having a one semester language pre-requirement. I.E.S. programs in both Roma and Milano are highly recommended for their pedagogically serious language courses as well as authentic immersion into Italian academic realities. Students may integrate a course or two from the famous Milanese universities of La Cattolica and Bocconi. The Milano program in particular is our second most effective full-immersion program and is highly recommended for students serious about learning the language but still needing to transfer college courses in English. Students make take courses in the social sciences, business, humanities, performance music and music, and fine arts.

Both I.E.S. programs are highly recommended for Italian Studies majors and minors.

4. The semester program at John Cabot University in Rome is a wonderful opportunity for students with little knowledge of Italian language and culture to experience a semester in Rome while pursuing their undergraduate education in a fully recognized, four year American-style university. Pre-requirement: one semester of college level Italian.

All work conducted abroad is monitored by the Italian Studies Program of Emory.

For more information, see Study Abroad.

Advising:
Any student having prior knowledge of Italian must meet with the program director prior to registration in any Italian class.

Language Study:

Language acquisition is successfully achieved through the innovative I.V.C. Chiavi di Lettura method. Study in Italy on an Emory-approved program is highly recommended for all majors. Students are also encouraged to practice their language skills by regularly participating in the activities sponsored by the student Italian Club, including Tavola italiana, film festivals, cultural presentations and excursions, cooking classes, etc.

Internship:

Available in Italy through our IES semester study programs in Italy. Credit is assigned only with prior approval from the Program director.

Jewish Studies Program

The Jewish studies program examines Jews and Judaism from the perspective of different disciplines in the humanities and social sciences, such as history, religious studies, language and linguistics, literature, theology, political science, and anthropology. This interdisciplinary approach has two objectives: first, to train students in understanding various aspects of Jews and Judaism; and second, to expose students to the serious investigation of topics with different disciplines and methodologies. The program offers a unique opportunity to pursue a high-quality liberal arts education while providing an excellent foundation for students who would like to pursue Jewish studies in graduate school, enroll in a rabbinical program, or work in Jewish organizations and communities. Students who major in Jewish studies will take nine courses and also will gain advanced language proficiency in Hebrew or another Judaic language.

Concentrations

Major in Jewish Studies

| Major Code: | JEWISH |
| Degree Awarded: | BA |

Programs

Honors Program:

Students may write an Honors Thesis in accordance with the requirements of the College. In this case they may be required to take one Graduate course which will replace one of the elective courses.

For more information, see Honors Program.

Study Abroad:
As part of its undergraduate program, the Institute for Jewish Studies participates in five study abroad programs. Programs are offered annually when and where local conditions permit. The Emory Summer Study Abroad Program in Israel is sponsored by the Department of Middle Eastern and South Asian Studies (MESAS) and cosponsored by the Institute for Jewish Studies and the Department of Religion. An extensive six-week study tour of the country, it exposes students to the land and its history, religions, culture, and people. Topics covered will include archaeology and antiquities, political and social life, the economy, army life, language and literature, folklore, the arts, nature, and religious issues. Students will live in guest houses, field schools, and small hotels in several different locations, which will be used as bases for travel and study. No knowledge of Hebrew is required. Students can earn eight to twelve credit hours through this program. The Archaeology in Israel Summer Study Program is a six-week course during which students work on an archaeological dig in Israel. Students gain valuable experience and training in excavation techniques, are introduced to field laboratory processing, attend lectures on archaeological methods and history, and have two weekend field trips. No previous archaeological experience is necessary. Students can earn up to eight credit hours through this program. The Emory Summer Experience in Europe, sponsored by the Institute for Jewish Studies, offers a five-week intensive study tour focusing on Sephardi Jewish culture.

Following the footsteps of the Jews who were expelled from Spain in 1492, the course is held on location in Spain, and in France, Italy, Greece, and Turkey, where Jews established thriving communities after the expulsion. In each location, students visit cultural and historic sites, interact with members of local communities, and attend lectures and discussions. Participating students earn eight credit hours for the course.

The Emory Semester in Israel program allows students to spend a semester abroad at either Tel Aviv University or The Hebrew University. This program enables students to have a high-quality educational experience in Israel, plus the opportunity for an immersion experience in Israeli culture and society. During the semester each student will participate in an intensive four-week Hebrew language session, enroll in one course offered by an Emory faculty member, take three Tel Aviv University courses, and join in a series of special events organized for Emory students. No previous knowledge of Hebrew nor any previous exposure to Jewish or Israeli/Middle Eastern Studies is required.

In addition to these Emory-sponsored opportunities, the University will in some cases also accept transfer credit from other study abroad programs in Jewish studies, with prior approval of the undergraduate director.

The Jewish Studies in Prague program is an Emory-approved semester program offered at Charles University in the Czech Republic. This program enables students to study Jewish history and culture in a Central European context through courses taught in English, mainly by Charles University faculty. Students live in host institution residence halls and participate in regular excursions to lectures, films, and museums as well as historical sites in Poland, Hungary, and the Czech Republic. Students normally enroll in five courses per term, one of which must be a Czech language course, for a total of 16 Emory credits.

For more information, see Study Abroad.

Language Study:

Hebrew language courses are offered through the Department of Middle Eastern and South Asian Studies (MESAS). Yiddish language courses are offered through the Department of German Studies. Work in Judaeo-Arabic is offered with the permission of the instructor. All these languages are an integral part of the Jewish Studies program.
Awards and Honors:

David R. Blumenthal Award

This award is given annually for the best student papers and/or projects, completed for academic coursework or independently, that link Jewish studies with larger human concerns.

Journalism Program

Journalism at Emory emphasizes writing, reporting and critical thinking. The skills of newspaper and electronic journalism go hand-in-hand with study in the liberal arts and sciences. The result is journalists who make a difference!

Journalism co-majors or minors learn the craft of researching, interviewing, reporting and writing news. They develop an understanding of press issues and build a technical foundation. Students advance and refine that know-how in professional internships.

Journalism at Emory is a special selection program. Every semester students can apply for admission to the Program.

The Journalism Program also offers the opportunity to study specialty writing and reporting. Interdisciplinary classes in science writing, economics and business reporting, arts criticism, international media, and race and ethnic relations are open to students from all disciplines. Most Journalism courses fulfill the post-freshman writing requirement. These courses focus on writing for the general public.

Requirements: The co-major in journalism consists of the five required courses (twenty semester hours), an internship (four semester hours), and an additional eight semester hours of elective journalism courses. All courses must be taken for a letter grade. Enrollment requires permission of the Journalism Program. For all courses above 201WR, students must apply and be accepted to participate in the program.

Students who select the co-major in journalism must also complete another major in Emory College of Arts and Sciences.
Admission:

Journalism at Emory is a highly selective, specialized program designed to make the most of providing its students with individualized instruction, internship and career opportunities and use of a state-of-the-art computer classroom. For these reasons, the Program limits enrollment to 10-15 new students each semester.

Twice yearly, the Program accepts applications from students by an announced deadline. There is no application form. But applications must include all of the following:

1. A writing sample of no more than three pages (or no more than three pages from a longer paper). The sample should reflect what you consider to be your best writing in college.
2. A statement of 250 words on your main source of news and why.
3. The name and contact information (telephone number and e-mail) of an Emory faculty member who has agreed to serve as a reference. Journalism Program faculty members cannot serve in this role. All faculty references will be contacted.
4. A copy of the Emory transcript from the Online Pathway to University Students (OPUS).
5. The student's campus post office box, telephone number and e-mail address.

Applicants without student or professional journalism experience will not be at a disadvantage.

Programs

Honors Program:

Journalism co-majors with a 3.5 cumulative grade point average may apply during their junior year to graduate with honors in journalism. To receive honors, the student must successfully complete the co-major requirements listed above and a journalistic project or journalism research paper.

For more information, see Honors Program.

Study Abroad: For more information, see Honors Program.

Internship:

An internship that provides professional experience, contacts and work samples—clippings, resume tapes or weblinks—is key to studying journalism and building a career. Editors expect aspiring journalists to have at least one internship and usually more during college.

As the news business evolves, many new journalists will likely work in different media during the course of a career. The best preparations for a news career are strong writing and familiarity with the challenges and needs of various media. Internships are valuable opportunities to grow. A successful internship and a strong recommendation creates a standout among the many job seekers in journalism.

Latin American and Caribbean Studies Program

The Program in Latin American and Caribbean Studies promotes a multidisciplinary understanding of culture, history, and contemporary issues in the region. Students take courses that examine the region from a wide array of disciplinary perspectives, while simultaneously deepening their knowledge of Latin America and the Caribbean within a disciplinary concentration. A student who completes this program receives a degree in Latin American and Caribbean Studies with a concentration in a single discipline. Students are encouraged to pursue part of their education studying abroad in Latin America or the Caribbean. A maximum of sixteen credit hours of foreign study can be applied towards the major, with the approval of the program's Director of Undergraduate Studies. In addition to its course offerings, the Program in Latin American and Caribbean Studies regularly sponsors lectures, seminars, exhibitions, and films. It also hosts visiting scholars and encourages student internships.

Concentrations

Major in Latin American and Caribbean Studies

Major Code: LACS
Degree Awarded: BA

Hours to complete: 48

Required courses: 12

Requirements: Twelve semester-long courses are required:

a. Seven courses (core and elective) must focus primarily on Latin America and/or the Caribbean. Of the seven courses, four must be “core courses” and three must be electives. Students can choose their four "core courses" from the following list:

- HIST 211: Latin American History
- One 300 Level History Class (HIST 360: History of Mexico; HIST 361: History of Brazil; HIST 362: History of the Caribbean; or any other 300 level HIST Latin American course)
- LACS 101 - Introduction to Latin American and Caribbean Studies
- SPAN 300: Reading in Spanish- Texts and Contexts
- PORT 200: Intermediate Portuguese
- Stipulation: Students who complete SPAN 300 may choose to fulfill a core requirement with an additional 3, 4 or 5 credit language course provided that it is a Spanish course numbered above SPAN 300. If another language course relevant to Latin American and the Caribbean other than Spanish or Portuguese is chosen, it must be 200-level or above. Of the electives, a minimum of one course must be taken in an LACS course; and a minimum of one course must be taken in a social science discipline.

b. Five courses will fulfill the “disciplinary concentration” requirement and must be chosen from the offerings in a single departmental discipline (e.g. art history, anthropology, political science, history, Spanish, economics, religion, etc.). These five courses must be chosen from among those that count towards the major in that discipline, and need not be Latin American or Caribbean in content.

Minor in Latin American and Caribbean Studies

Minor Code: LACSMIN

Degree Awarded: None

Hours to complete: 20

Required courses: 5

Requirements: A total of five semester-long courses are required. Three of these must be “core courses,” which include LACS 101; History 211; another LACS or LACS cross-list course; and Spanish 300. Two courses (each worth 3, 4 or 5 credit hours) of electives must be taken in courses that focus primarily on Latin America and/or the Caribbean.

Linguistics Program

Linguistics, the systematic scientific study of human language and communication, is a broad field that investigates a range of questions regarding the remarkable fact that humans produce and use language. At Emory University we take an interdisciplinary approach, looking at language in relation to cognition, culture, social identity, history, philosophy, and aesthetics. Our questions include: What enables humans to produce and understand sentences that they have never heard before? What are the basic building blocks of human languages? How do children learn language?
How do people use language in multilingual contexts? How are patterns of thinking shaped by language? Why do languages change over time? How do meanings get attached to words? The Program in Linguistics faculty are based in numerous departments across the college, representing the contemporary field of linguistics, as it is situated at the intersection of the social sciences and the humanities. The program directs a minor in linguistics, a major in linguistics, and a joint major in psychology and linguistics and coordinates a Linguistics Study Abroad Program in Amsterdam. The program facilitates academic discussion on language and linguistics on campus and sponsors events connected to linguistics. The program also sponsors an annual Linguistics Student Research Symposium. Students are encouraged to check the program webpage at www.linguistics.emory.edu for updates on programs of study (majors and minor), courses, and events.

Concentrations

Major in Linguistics

- Major Code: LING
- Degree Awarded: BA
- Hours to complete: 37 - 40
- Required courses: 11
Requirements:

This major is designed to introduce students to fundamental aspects of the study of human language, emphasizing how an interdisciplinary approach to language better informs a global understanding of language use, structure, acquisition, variation, and change. Specifically the program aims to show how structural, cognitive, and sociocultural approaches to the study of language compare, contrast, and complement.

The major is designed so that students first acquire a solid introductory base in the study of linguistics. They then must take a series of courses to ensure more intense study in (a) language and cognition, (b) language structure and meaning, and (c) language, society, and culture. Following this exposure to different fields and approaches, students will take elective courses to deepen their understanding of one or more of the approaches to the study of language. Majors are also normally required to demonstrate competence at the intermediate level or above in a language other than English, but may petition to satisfy the Linguistics language requirement through other combinations. Completion of the major requires a minimum of a C average in the major. The S/U option may be exercised only in the elective component of the major, for a maximum of four credit hours. A maximum combined total of four hours of courses at the 490–499 level (Directed Study, Directed Research, Honors) may be applied toward the major. Courses completed in approved Linguistics study abroad programs may also be used to fulfill major requirements (with approval of the program director or designated faculty adviser).

Course Requirements

I. Students are required to take three basic courses in the study of linguistics:

101: History of the American Languages
201: Foundations of Linguistics
301: Language, Mind and Society

II. Students will also take three breadth courses on key approaches to the study of linguistics: (1) One course in Structural Approaches to Human Language, including but not limited to:

Linguistics 210, Sounds of Human Language (Phonetics and Phonology)
Linguistics 212, Structure of Human Language (Morphology and Syntax)
Linguistics 214, Meaning in Human Language (Semantics and Pragmatics)
Linguistics 230, Description and Analysis of Chinese Languages
Linguistics 242, Languages of the World (linguistic typology)
Linguistics 360, The English Language
Linguistics 363, Old English Language and Literature
Linguistics 385R Special Topics Courses (e.g., The Romance Languages, The Sounds of Spanish, The Great Decipherments)

(2) One course in Cognitive Approaches to Human Language, including but not limited to:

Linguistics 309, Brain and Language
Linguistics 316, Language Acquisition
Linguistics 385R Special Topics Courses (e.g., Words and the World—How Words Capture Human Experience, Second Language Acquisition, Language and Human Nature)

(3) One course in Sociocultural Approaches to Human Language,
Minor in Linguistics

Minor Code: LINGMIN
Degree Awarded: None
Hours to complete: 21 - 23
Required courses: 6
Requirements: Six courses are required for the minor in linguistics:

1. LING 201 Foundations of Linguistics
2. LING 101 History of the American Languages OR LING 401 Language, Mind and Society
3. Two elective courses in linguistics
4. Two foreign language courses (two courses in one foreign language at the 200-level or above OR two courses in two different foreign languages at any level, with approval from the Director of Undergraduate Studies.

Course Description: Linguists agree that languages change; they do not agree about how such change occurs. This course views that linguistic systems cannot be completely understood from a purely synchronic perspective. The course surveys types of change, which can affect the linguistic systems, using data from various languages.

Course Description: This course compares and contrasts the primary perspectives that are often taken when researchers try to answer fundamental linguistic questions. One focuses on language and meaning as products of how the mind works. The other stresses language as a product of social interaction. A series of questions are considered in order to better understand these two views: what the sources of linguistic structure might be; whether (or how much of) language is innate in humans; how language reflects categories, and helps us form categories; how our use of language is informed by shared schemas.

Programs

Honors Program:
The Honors Program in Linguistics is intended to provide a select group of students with experience in conducting research focused on the study of human language. Generally, this research will fall primarily within one or more of the three orientations identified in the Major in Linguistics: cognitive, structural or sociocultural (contextual) approaches to the study of language. Students with an overall grade point average of at least 3.5 in the first three years and with at least a 3.5 GPA in their major courses will be notified by the Program in Linguistics in the Spring of their junior year that they are eligible to participate in the Linguistics Honors Program, and will be invited to an orientation meeting which will fully explain the program. Students will be responsible for defining a project and finding a faculty member who is willing to serve as advisor.

For more information, see Honors Program.

Study Abroad:

The Amsterdam exchange program offers students the opportunity to take a range of courses taught in English while exploring Dutch culture and one of the world's great multicultural and multilingual cities. Students who are majors in linguistics are encouraged to take coursework abroad as part of their Emory academic degree program. Emory students can choose to study at Vrije Universiteit Amsterdam (VU) or Universiteit van Amsterdam (UvA). Please contact CIPA or the Program in Linguistics for more information.

For more information, see Study Abroad.

Advising:

Majors are assigned an academic advisor and should meet with that advisor on a regular basis to discuss courses to take to meet the requirements for the major. In addition, students should talk to their advisors about future career plans if they include graduate training, as there may be additional courses they should take for entrance to graduate school. Advisors will be available during Pre-registration. Sign-up sheets are placed outside each advisor’s office in the weeks before Pre-registration. It is strongly advised that students sign up as early as possible for advising. However, advisors often have more time to spend with students at times other than Pre-registration. Please take advantage of these times when scheduling appointments.

Language Study:
Linguistics majors and minors are required to take two foreign language courses.

1. Two courses in one foreign language at the 200-level or above or
2. Two courses in two different foreign languages at any level, with approval from the Director of Undergraduate Studies.

NOTE: Students participating in the Amsterdam Study Abroad Program may use introductory Dutch to satisfy one semester of this requirement.

Awards and Honors:

Phi Sigma Iota, the International Foreign Language Honor Society, is open to outstanding students of linguistics and foreign languages. Minimum qualifications for students applying for membership based on achievement in linguistics are: (1) overall GPA of 3.3 or higher, and (2) completion of at least 20 credit hours in Linguistics with an “A-“ (3.67) average in linguistics courses.
Mathematics and Computer Science Department

Mathematics and computer science are disciplines central to both the liberal arts curriculum and to research endeavors in the natural and social sciences. The combined department at Emory offers educational programs and supports research activities that exploit the interrelations among mathematics, computer science, and the physical and life sciences, and that advance traditional areas of scholarship within each discipline. The department offers a BA and a BS in both mathematics and computer science, a BS in applied mathematics as well as joint programs in mathematics/computer science, mathematics/economics, and mathematics/political science. The department is housed in the new Mathematics and Science Center with facilities including an open Unix computing lab, instructional teaching lab, computing library, research computing labs and data center. All classrooms are equipped with state-of-the-art AV and computing tools.

General Information
Credit Hours: 3
GERs: MQR
Course Description: Spring. Prerequisite: Mathematics 361. Estimation, hypothesis testing, goodness of fit tests, linear regression.
MATH 411: Real Analysis I:

General Information

Credit Hours: 3
GERs: MQR
Course Description: Fall. Prerequisites: Mathematics 211, 221, or 321 and 250. Analysis of sets and functions in n-space. Basic topological properties, continuity, and differentiation.

Course Type: Lecture
Weekly Contact Minutes: 150

MATH 412: Real Analysis II:

General Information

Credit Hours: 3
GERs: MQR
Course Description: Spring. Prerequisite: Mathematics 411. Integration in n-space: theorems of Stokes and Fubini. Uniform convergence: theorems of Taylor and Stone-Weierstrass. Sard's theorem.

Contact Hour Information

Course Type: Lecture
Weekly Contact Minutes: 150

MATH 421: Abstract Algebra I:

General Information

Credit Hours: 3
GERs: MQR
Course Description: Fall. Prerequisites: Math 221 or 321, and Math 250. Groups (definition and examples), cosets, Lagrange's Theorem, symmetric and alternating groups, Cayley's Theorem, isomorphisms, Cauchy's Theorem, quotient groups and homomorphisms, and the action of a group on a set. Additional topics may include the Sylow Theorems.

MATH 422: Abstract Algebra II:
MATH 422: Ring Theory and Field Theory:

General Information

Credit Hours: 3
GERs: MQR

Course Description: Spring. Prerequisite: Math 421. Math 422 is a continuation of Math 421, and is primarily concerned with Ring Theory and Field Theory. Rings and fields were invented to solve problems in the theory of numbers, but now have broad applications in all parts of mathematics. Topics in Math 422 include: polynomial rings, unique factorisation, Euclidean domains, Fields (definition), splitting fields of polynomials, elements of Galois theory, finite fields.

- Course Description: Spring. Prerequisites: Computer Science 171 and 255. Digital circuits, efficient algorithms for computer arithmetic, floating point accelerators, microprogramming, memory technology and hierarchies, I/O subsystems, interrupt processing and DMA strategies, communications interfaces, and advanced architectures, including RISC and cache organization.

Contact Hour Information
- Course Type: Lecture
- Weekly Contact Minutes: 150

CS 356: Programming Languages:

General Information
- Credit Hours: 3
- GERs: MQR
- Course Description: Alternate years. Prerequisite: Computer Science 171. Introduction to syntax and semantics of computer programming languages. An overview of various language paradigms with case studies in declarative languages, object-oriented languages, and logic programming as contrasted with imperative languages. An overview of translation issues and methods.

Contact Hour Information
- Course Type: Lecture
- Weekly Contact Minutes: 150

CS 370: Computer Science Practicum:

General Information
- Credit Hours: 3
- GERs: None
Course Description: Spring. Prerequisites: any two computer science courses at the 200 level or higher. This course introduces basic concepts and techniques of software engineering, and applies these in the context of a semester-long group programming project.

CS 377: Database Systems:

General Information
Credit Hours: 3
GERs: MQR
Course Description: Prerequisite: Computer Science 171. Introduction to storage hierarchies, database models, consistency, reliability, and security issues. Query languages and their implementations, efficiency considerations, and compression and encoding techniques.

Contact Hour Information
Course Type: Lecture
Weekly Contact Minutes: 150

CS 378: Data Mining:

General Information
Credit Hours: 3
GERs: MQR
Course Description: Alternate years. Prerequisite: CS 171; CS 377, or some database experience is recommended. Introduction to data mining techniques including data preprocessing, data warehousing and management, association analysis, clustering, and text mining.
CS 424: Theory Of Computing:

General Information

Credit Hours: 3
GERs: MQR
Course Description: Spring. Prerequisites: Computer Science 224 and 323. This course gives mathematical methods to classify the complexity of computational problems. Topics include regular languages, grammars, decidability, and NP-completeness. Models of computing such as automata, circuits, and Turing machines are related.

Contact Hour Information

Course Type: Lecture
Weekly Contact Minutes: 150

CS 450: Systems Programming:

General Information

Credit Hours: 3
GERs: MQR
Course Description: Fall. Prerequisites: Computer Science 171 and 255. System programming topics are illustrated by the POSIX API to the Linux operating system. Topics include: file I/O, the TTY driver, window systems, processes, shared memory, message passing, semaphores, signals, and interrupt handlers.

Contact Hour Information

Course Type: Lecture

CS 452: Operating Systems:

General Information

Credit Hours: 4
GERs: MQR
Course Description: Spring. Prerequisite: Computer Science 450. The structure and organization of computer operating systems. Process, memory, and I/O management; device drivers, exception handling, and interprocess communication. Students write an operating system as a course-long project.

Contact Hour Information

Course Type: Lecture
CS 455: Intro to Computer Networking:

General Information
- Credit Hours: 3
- GERs: MQR
- Course Description: Prerequisite: CS 450. An introduction to computer networks based on internal structure using the OSI layer model. Topics include: physical layer (encoding and protection), data link layer (point-to-point and broadcast networks, transparent bridging, and spanning tree), the network layer (routing algorithms, the IP protocol, tunneling), and transport layer (UDP and TCP protocols, NS2 network simulation). Network programming will be done using the Berkeley socket and pthreads APIs.

Programs

Honors Program:

Students interested in being considered for the Honors Program are strongly urged to take the following courses in (or prior to) their junior year: For Mathematics majors, one of the sequences Math 411/412 or Math 421/422. For Applied Mathematics majors, either the sequence Math 411/412 or both Math 315 and Math 321. For Computer Science majors, CS 450 which is offered in the fall semester only.

For more information, see Honors Program.

Study Abroad: For more information, see Study Abroad.

Medieval Studies Program

The Program in Medieval Studies at Emory University promotes interdisciplinary and cross-cultural studies of medieval societies and cultures from Late Antiquity to the seventeenth century by offering an Undergraduate Major in Medieval-Renaissance Studies in Emory College and a Graduate Certificate Program in Medieval Studies for graduate students working in departmental doctoral programs.
The Medieval Studies Program also sponsors lectures, symposia, monthly roundtables, and other gatherings for the presentation and discussion of scholarly work by faculty and students on Medieval Studies and on the different areas of study that constitute it.

Organized as a program of Emory's Graduate Institute of Liberal Arts, the Medieval Studies Program is administered by a Director, a Steering Committee, and a Committee on Medieval Studies. Faculty associated with the Medieval Studies Program hold appointments in Art History, Classics, Comparative Literature, English, French and Italian, German Studies, History, Jewish Studies, Middle Eastern Studies, Music, Philosophy, Religion, and Spanish and Portuguese; in the Candler School of Theology; and at the Beck Center at Woodruff Library.

Courses
AAS 100: Intro To Afric Amer Studies:

General Information

- Credit Hours: 4
- GERs: HSC
- Course Description: Introduces the major disciplines and topics that comprise African American studies; provides orientation to faculty, institutional, and community resources; and serves as a foundation for subsequent course work and a research project in the field. Requires weekly film screenings and discussions and an independent research project.

Contact Hour Information

- Course Type: Lecture And Related Component
- Weekly Contact Minutes: 150
- Scheduled Related Component: Film Screening With Discussion
- Weekly Contact Minutes in Related Component: 100 - 140

AAS 110: Dynamics of Black Communities:

General Information

- Credit Hours: 3
- GERs: HSC
- Cross-Listed: SOC 110: Dynamics of Black Communities
- Course Description: Ideologies and selected aspects of the black community. Focus on twentieth-century urban black experience and institutions of America. Provides basic information and a framework for further study of the black diaspora and interrelations in black/white America.

Contact Hour Information

- Course Type: Lecture
- Weekly Contact Minutes: 150

AAS 115: Jazz: Its Evolution:

General Information

- Credit Hours: 3
- GERs: HAP
- Cross-Listed: MUS 115: Jazz: Its Evolution
Course Description: Critical and analytic study of jazz idioms from the turn of the century to the present, including the blues, ragtime, Dixieland, swing, bop, and modern jazz. Emphasis on such figures as Armstrong, Ellington, Parker, Monk, and Coleman.

AAS 275: Black Images In The Media:

General Information

Credit Hours: 3
GERs: HSC
Cross-Listed: AMST 275: Black Images In The Media

Course Description: Students in this course will study representations of African Americans in major forms of mass media, including newspapers, literature, radio, television and film. We will review the historical development of those images and trace their progression to the present. We also will study the impact of negative portrayals of African Americans on the self-images of blacks and assess the effect of those representations on whites and the society at large. Moreover, the class will examine ways that black image-makers have portrayed African Americans through Hip Hop and film, and we will attempt to predict trends and solutions for the future.

Course Description: The 1960s was a decade of turbulence and dramatic social and cultural change. The war in Vietnam, the civil rights and Black Nationalist movements, the so-called sexual revolution, and the popularization of psychedelic drugs all had considerable impact in shaping the musical culture of the day. This course considers the music of the period, the relationships between musical forms, and the shifting relationships between the communities associated with them.

Middle Eastern and South Asian Studies Department (Arabic, Hebrew, Hindi, Persian)

The Department of Middle Eastern and South Asian Studies offers a wide range of courses on the languages, literatures, cultures, history, and archaeology of the region. A major in Middle Eastern and South Asian studies combines the study of one or more of the languages of the region with the cultural, literary, historical, archaeological, and religious aspects of the area. This major prepares students for careers in government service, international affairs, and graduate studies. Majors in Middle Eastern and South Asian studies may elect to concentrate in specific subareas of the Middle East, such as Judaic studies, Islamic studies, South Asian studies, or archaeology. The Department of Middle Eastern and South Asian Studies also offers minors in Arabic, Hebrew, Hindi, Persian, and Mediterranean archaeology.

Requirements: The Department of Middle Eastern and South Asian Studies has a single Humanities based area studies major that allows for two tracks, a Middle East Track and a South Asian Track, which come together at the junior year to form a single, comparative major. Students who complete the major will have the knowledge, languages and analytic tools to pursue employment or advanced study of the region.

1. Three years study of one of the languages of the Middle East or South Asia (Arabic, Hebrew, Hindi, Persian, Tibetan) (normally 101-102, 201-202, and 301-302) or two years (four semesters, normally 101-102, 201-202) of one language and two sequential semesters (normally 101-102) of a second language taught by the department.

2. Two area-specific core courses: MESAS 100 OR MESAS 102, and MESAS 200 OR MESAS 202.

3. One common comparative course, MESAS 300, which brings the two tracks together.

4. MESAS 490SWR, common senior seminar for MESAS majors only by petition.

5. Two additional courses that focus primarily on the Middle East and South Asia (to be chosen in consultation with the Director of Undergraduate Studies in the Department of Middle Eastern and South Asian Studies).

6. Students must meet with the Director of Undergraduate Studies at least once each semester for advising and course approval before registering for classes.

Minor in Arabic

Minor Code: ARABICMIN
Degree Awarded: None
Hours to complete: 26
Required courses: 6

Requirements: Students may obtain a minor in Arabic by taking Arabic 101, 102, 201, 202, 301, and either 302 or an approved course in Arabic literature.

Students with previous knowledge of Arabic may obtain a minor in Arabic by taking one course at their present level of proficiency, three additional courses above their present level, and one approved course in Arabic literature.

Honors Program:
To receive honors in Middle Eastern and South Asian Studies, eligible students select an adviser from among the faculty of the department. The adviser should be chosen on the basis of his or her expertise in the topic to be examined in the thesis. During the senior year, honors students enroll in Middle Eastern Studies 495RWR in the fall and spring semesters. Honors students must complete an honors thesis and defend it in an oral hearing. In addition to the adviser, the committee of examiners will include one other faculty member of the department and one faculty member from outside the department.

For more information, see Honors Program.

Study Abroad:

The Middle Eastern and South Asian Studies Department sponsors two summer study abroad programs: Emory Experience in Israel and Archaeology. In addition, the department sponsors two Junior Semester Abroad Programs: one at the American University in Cairo and one at Tel Aviv University. These two programs are administered by CIPA (Center for International Programs Abroad at Emory). For further information on these programs contact the Middle Eastern and South Asian Studies Department or CIPA. Majors in Middle Eastern Studies have also studied abroad at other CIPA approved programs, including the University of London’s School of Oriental and African Studies.

For more information, see Study Abroad.

Music Department

The Department of Music at Emory University offers a wide range of musical experiences in the classroom, performance hall, and studio. Students can receive individualized instruction from Atlanta's finest professional artists and performers, including members of the Atlanta Symphony Orchestra, and take courses in music theory, music history and literature, world music and culture, composition, and performance practices. Ensembles for chorus, symphonic winds, orchestra, jazz, and chamber music are a regular part of the music program and are open to music majors and to students pursuing other fields of primary study. Students who major in music work toward a bachelor of arts degree, which provides development as a performer through private instruction and ensemble participation, a solid grounding in theory and musicianship, and a comprehensive background in the history and literature of music. Emory offers private lessons in piano, voice, strings, winds, guitar, percussion, jazz studies, and nonwestern instruments to all students who pass an audition. Students have the opportunity to perform in recitals that are open to the public. The department sponsors a variety of ensembles, including the University Chorus, Symphony Orchestra, Concert Choir, Wind Ensemble, Jazz Ensembles, World Music Ensembles, and Chamber Ensembles. All students are encouraged to participate; auditions for ensembles are held at the beginning of each semester. Emory presents a full calendar of musical events throughout the school year. The Music at Emory Series and the Flora Glenn Candler Artists Series bring musicians of national and international stature to campus. The Emory Chamber Music Society of Atlanta and the VEGA String Quartet, in residence at Emory, present the finest in chamber literature, and their members teach and coach Emory students on a regular basis. In addition, the metropolitan Atlanta area offers a wide array of music opportunities to Emory students.

Major in Music

Major Code: MUSIC
Degree Awarded: BA
Hours to complete: 45
Required courses: 17
Requirements:

General Requirements

BA in Music: Composition Track

BA in Music: Performance Track

BA in Music: Research Track

History and Culture Courses (all Tracks)

The Music Department at Emory offers three tracks for fulfilling a major in music: Composition, Performance, Research. Students must select a track by the end of the sophomore year and fulfill all course requirements in the track in order to earn a major in music. Since significant portions of the music curriculum are based on mastery of sequential study, the department recommends as early a declaration as possible. Early declaration also allows students maximum benefit from private lesson study, since the department provides a half-subsidy for private lessons for declared music majors.

Notes:

- MUS 121 Theory and Analysis I is the foundation course for all music major tracks. Students with a strong background in music theory may request to take the MUS 121 Exemption Test.
- No more than three credit hours of Supervised Reading or Study Abroad courses may count toward fulfillment of the music major.
- An internship may not count toward the music major.
- All courses must be taken for a letter grade.
- AP Music Theory Exam – A score of 4 will transfer to Emory as MUS 114 and count as a 100-level elective toward the music major. A score of 5 will transfer to Emory as MUS 121 and the student may move on to MUS 122 in the spring semester.
- A total of 16 hours of MUS 300, 320, and 310 may be applied toward the 128 academic hours requirements for graduation, although all applied music and ensembles must be taken for credit.
- Students may not apply MUS 300, 310, or 320 as electives in any of the tracks.
- Students will complete 45 credit hours to fulfill requirements in each track.

Hours to complete: 20

Required courses: 6-8

Requirements: 20 hours of coursework

Courses may be chosen from any of the Music Department’s course offerings. Students may focus a minor within a specific area, or they may take a broad selection of courses totaling 20 hours.

Students may count only two 100-level courses toward the minor;

- Notes:
  - All courses for the music minor must be taken for letter grade.
  - Students may count no more than 3 credit hours of Supervised Reading or Study Abroad courses toward fulfillment of the music minor.
  - Students may not count an Internship toward the music minor.

- AP credit cannot be used toward the music minor.

14 credit hours must be at the 200-level or higher.

Four hours of MUS 300 Ensemble or MUS 310 Applied Music for Non-majors will be accepted toward the minor.

MUS 300 and 310 require a performance audition. MUS 320 will not count toward the minor in music.

Programs

Honors Program:

Students may pursue an honors project in performance or composition, culminating in a recital presentation, or by writing a thesis on a focused research topic in music.

For more information, see Honors Program.

Study Abroad: For more information, see Study Abroad.

Advising:

Most performing ensembles and private lessons require an audition. Auditions are held in August during the first week of classes. Students must audition before declaring a music major.
Neuroscience and Behavioral Biology Program

The Neuroscience and Behavioral Biology (NBB) major is an interdisciplinary program that provides a unique science background and an excellent foundation for advanced studies in biological and behavioral research as well as medicine. NBB has become one of the "signature" programs of Emory College and has over 400 majors and approximately 100 students each year graduate with a Bachelor of Science degree. The program draws upon the resources, expertise, enthusiasm, and commitment of a diverse faculty, including representatives from biology, psychology, anthropology, chemistry, philosophy, and the School of Medicine. The NBB faculty includes 25 members who have been designated Emory Distinguished Professors by the Office of the Provost and 14 winners of the Emory Williams Teaching Award, Emory University's highest award for excellence in teaching.

In the NBB program, students can undertake independent laboratory research with Emory faculty, engage in challenging faculty-student interactions, and participate in seminars and special events that often present distinguished guest speakers. Qualified senior NBB majors can participate in the NBB Honors Program and become members of Nu Rho Psi, Emory's neuroscience honor society. NBB majors also have the unique opportunity to study with researchers affiliated with the Yerkes National Primate Research Center, the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention, the American Cancer Society, and the Neuroscience Initiative. NBB majors also have the opportunity to be involved in a study abroad exchange program with St Andrews in Scotland. In cooperation with St Andrews, NBB graduates can obtain a master's of philosophy (MPhil) in neuroscience in one year. Other study abroad options include Melbourne University in Australia and summer study in Paris, France where students are able to complete a core class and an elective.

Concentrations

Major in Neuroscience and Behavioral Biology

| Major Code: | NEUROBB |
| Degree Awarded: | BS |
| Hours to complete: | 60 |
| Required courses: | 18 |

Requirements:
The major requires a minimum of twelve courses in Neuroscience and Behavioral Biology. A sequence of four core courses includes NBB 201, NBB 301, NBB 302, and NBB 401W. In addition to the core courses, a minimum of eight NBB electives are required. Students with particular interests, e.g. premedical, graduate school, may be advised to take additional courses chosen by the student and advisor to fit the student’s plan.
Admission: Pre-Requisites: All majors are required to take the following prerequisite courses: One semester of Calculus (Math 115/116); QTM100; Biology 141/151 and Biology 142/152; Chemistry 141/171 and Chemistry 142/172; Students are encouraged to complete these courses by the end of their sophomore year.

Chair/Director: Paul Lennard

Director of Undergraduate Studies: Keith Easterling

Core Faculty: Michael Crutcher, Keith Easterling, Kristen Frenzel, Howard Kushner, Paul Lennard, Leah Roesch, Deboleena Roy, Robert Wyttenbach

Courses

- NBB 120: From Botox to Behavior:

  General Information

  Credit Hours: 4

  GERs: SNTL

  Course Description: Using active-learning methods and real-world examples, this course is designed to provide a fuller understanding of how the brain works and how neuronal activity underlies complex human behaviors. We will explore topics like: drug overdoses, Botox injections, sensory systems, emotions and memories.

<td>Course Description: This course presents an introduction to evolutionary processes and biological bases of behavior. Lectures and readings will be organized around a developmental and life history perspective and will emphasize the importance of context in biological mechanisms and the interaction of social life, behavior, and cognition. Examples drawn especially from humans and nonhuman primates will be used to place human behavior in the context of other species and to illustrate the dual inheritance of biology and culture in our species. Topics covered will include evolutionary mechanisms, adaptation, phylogenetic constraints, neural and neuroendocrine mechanisms of behavior, life history theory, developmental programs, principles of allometry, sexual selection and alternative reproductive strategies, social bonds and socialization, and the cognitive bases of social interaction in humans and nonhumans.</td>

Honors Program:

Qualified seniors are encouraged to participate in the Neuroscience and Behavioral Biology Honors Program. Admission to the Honors Program depends upon criteria established by the college and sponsorship by a member of the neuroscience and behavioral biology core faculty. Students must complete NBB 221 or NBB 470 Clinical Research Practicum and two semesters of undergraduate research NBB 495A (four hours) and NBB 495B (four hours) and attend a biweekly honors seminar. In addition, students are required to enroll in at least one graduate-level course.

See “Honors Program” under the curriculum section of the catalog and consult the department for further details.

For more information, see Honors Program.

Study Abroad:
University of St. Andrews, Scotland

Brain StEm (Spring and Fall Courses)

The Emory Neuroscience and Behavioral Biology Program (NBB) and the University of St. Andrews Schools of Biology and Psychology have established a unique type of study abroad exchange program. The "Brain StEm" Program, represents the creation of a true "sister school" relationship between the extremely strong neuroscience and behavioral sciences programs at the two institutions. Emory's NBB Program is one of the largest undergraduate programs in North America with over 300 majors and seventy-five faculty members. The neuroscience program at University of St Andrews is a joint undertaking of the Schools of Biology and Psychology which both recently received top ratings from RAE, the national audit of research quality in UK university departments.

What does all this mean for the students? By implementing "The Institute of Behavioral and Neural Sciences", rather than an a la carte approach to selecting courses, a coherent program of pre-approved courses has been put into place. Overall curriculum and appropriate courses have been evaluated and selected by the faculty of each institution and faculty advisors are in place at Emory and St. Andrews to assist the students participating in "Brain StEm". Here at Emory this translates into a study abroad program that provides pre-approved equivalents for: NBB 301 & 401, required core courses; NBB 221, the statistics & experimental design course which is a prerequisite for undergraduate research; and twenty-five University of St. Andrew courses which can serve as electives for the NBB major!

MPhil in NBB (Masters in Philosophy- 1 year)

Building upon the successful Brain StEm program, Emory and St. Andrews are offering a 4+1 BS (Emory) MPhil (St. Andrews) research-based NBB degree combination. To qualify, Emory NBB majors must have a 3.5 GPA and have an invitation from one of the St. Andrews participating professors, or graduate from Emory with honors in NBB. The first year of the normally two-year MPhil program will be waived, allowing qualifying NBB BS graduates to complete their Masters degree in one year. Contact the NBB office for further information.

Emory Melbourne University Science Experience (E.M.U.S.E)

A program that has been designed specifically for Emory Biology, Chemistry, and NBB students in their junior and senior year who are interested in spending a semester abroad in Melbourne, Australia. As a student program, you will undertake a research-focused study abroad experience while also taking biology, neuroscience, or chemistry courses offered Fall and Spring semesters: Semester 1 runs from early February to mid June; Semester 2 runs from early July to Mid November. This program is ran in conjunction with the Department of Anatomy and Cell Biology and the Department of Chemistry at the University of Melbourne. For more information please contact the NBB office.

NBB Study Abroad in France (summer)

Neuroscience and Behavioral Biology program is offering a unique opportunity to study in Paris for a 5-week program that will connect the rich history of French neurology with contemporary neuroscience research. Students will couple in-class discussions with a variety of extracurricular outings to locations that illustrate France's role in early Neurology (e.g. Hôpital de la Salpêtrière) and its current research interests (e.g. Institut Curie or La Cité des Sciences). This program provides completion of one NBB core course and one NBB elective. Please note: NO FRENCH LANGUAGE PROFICIENCY IS REQUIRED.

Students are encouraged to have a GPA minimum of 3.0 for the above study abroad programs.
Advising:

Each NBB major is assigned an academic advisor. It is imperative that students meet with their advisers at least once a semester to discuss courses that meet the requirements of the major. In addition, students should talk to their advisors about future career plans; i.e., graduate school, medical school, etc., as there may be additional courses they should take for entrance to graduate school. Advisors will be available during pre-registration and their office hours. However, advisors will often have more time to spend with students at times other than pre-registration. Students should take advantage of these times in scheduling appointments with their advisors.

The NBB office has an open-door policy to assist students in receiving information needed to further their undergraduate academic education.

Philosophy Department

Philosophy is the study of fundamental questions concerning the nature of what is and what ought to be. The basis of the study of philosophy is the ancient search for self-knowledge and the love of wisdom. In Plato's Dialogues, Socrates says, "Wonder is the feeling of a philosopher, and philosophy begins in wonder." The study of philosophy employs the human capacity to reflect, reason, and make critical judgments in order to consider questions such as: What is the good? What is justice? What is the nature of reality? What if anything can be known for certain? What is the nature of beauty? What is the meaning of human history and human life? Philosophy also examines the principles of logical, scientific, and religious thought, and the great systems of nature and culture employed in the search for truth. Students majoring in philosophy often enter the fields of law, medicine, or business. For these fields a background in logic, ethics, and critical thinking is particularly important. Some students who major in philosophy pursue graduate study in philosophy leading to positions in university teaching. On the graduate level, the department offers programs leading to master of arts and doctor of philosophy degrees.

Programs

Honors Program:
See “Honors Program” under the curriculum section of the catalog and consult the department for further details.

For more information, see Honors Program.

Study Abroad: For more information, see Study Abroad.

Awards and Honors:

(1) Students who achieve the requisite cumulative grade point averages both in five philosophy courses and in the college are eligible for election to Phi Sigma Tau, the national honor society in philosophy. The Emory chapter of Phi Sigma Tau, Beta of Georgia, has been active since 1979, and sponsors various intellectual and scholarly activities throughout the academic year.

(2) The Paul Kuntz Prize, established in 1989, is awarded annually to a philosophy major for excellence in undergraduate philosophy. It carries a monetary award of one hundred dollars.

(3) The Charles Hartshorne Philosophy Essay Prize, open to all students of Emory College, is awarded annually. It carries a monetary award of one hundred dollars.

(4) The William F. Edwards Undergraduate Lecture, established in 1988, is given annually on a topic of broad philosophical interest to all undergraduates.

Athletics and Recreation Department

Students in Emory College of Arts and Sciences are required to complete two (2) one-credit-hour courses with either the prefix PE or DANC as part of the General Education Requirements. One course from the area of Principles of Physical Fitness (PPF) and one additional non-PPF elective course must be taken prior to graduation. Students may receive a letter grade or S/U for all courses. Students should register for classes comparable to their skill level. Beginning and intermediate skill levels are offered in a variety of activities. A course may not be repeated for credit unless the course number is followed with the letter R. All courses in Athletics and Recreation earn one semester hour of credit unless otherwise specified.

- Cross-Listed: AMST 275: Black Images In The Media

Course Description:
Students in this course will study representations of African Americans in major forms of mass media, including newspapers, literature, radio, television and film. We will review the historical development of those images and trace their progression to the present. We also will study the impact of negative portrayals of African Americans on the self-images of blacks and assess the effect of those representations on whites and the society at large. Moreover, the class will examine ways that black image-makers have portrayed African Americans through Hip Hop and film, and we will attempt to predict trends and solutions for the future.

AAS 482: Black Women Writers:

General Information
- Credit Hours: 3
- GERs: HAP
- Course Description: Course focuses on the works of 19th and 20th century black women writers. Writers vary but may include the works of Harriet Jacobs, Pauline Hopkins, Zora Neale Hurston, Toni Morrison, Alice Walker, Gloria Naylor.

Contact Hour Information
- Course Type: Seminar
- Weekly Contact Minutes: 175

AAS 483: Reading Alice Walker:

General Information
- Credit Hours: 3
- GERs: HAP
- Cross-Listed: WGS 483: Reading Alice Walker
- Course Description: In this seminar on the writings of Alice Walker students will write a total of four 5-6 page critical essays that examine the issues addressed in the reading assignments and discussed in class. Each essay will be critiqued and the student will submit it again in a revised form. These essays will become part of a cumulative collection that will be due at the end of the course. Students will make an oral presentation for their peers and incorporate the peer comments and suggestions in the final version of the collected essays due at the end of the term. Due to the intense focus on writing and revision there will be no midterm or final examination.

Study Abroad:

Students may receive credit for physical education courses while they are studying abroad. These courses follow the same criteria as other study abroad courses, i.e., they must be approved in advance by the HPE Department, they must be courses taught for credit at the host institution, they must meet contact hour requirements. All approved courses will earn one semester hour of credit.

For more information, see Study Abroad.

Physics Department

Undergraduate physics majors and physics/astronomy majors may pursue either a bachelor of arts or bachelor of science degree. Although the BA and BS programs have different objectives, both emphasize the basic principles of physics and their applications, an analytical approach to problem solving including the use of mathematical methods, and direct experience with physics laboratory and research techniques. The instructional facilities of the Department of Physics, housed in the new Mathematics and Science Center, include general and advanced physics laboratories; optics, analog and digital electronics, and microprocessor laboratories; and two observational astronomy facilities. One facility is a ten-station rooftop observing deck with small reflecting telescopes used for introductory astronomy. The other primary facility is the Emory observatory, which houses a research-grade, twenty-four-inch Cassegrain telescope for use in advanced astrophysics and astronomy courses. Faculty research laboratories and computer equipment are available to students engaged in research projects in condensed matter physics, biophysics, and nonlinear dynamics. Other specialized teaching facilities for physics and astronomy include a one-hundred-and-eighty seat lecture demonstration theater, a sixty-seat Zeiss Planetarium classroom, and a sixteen-station computational physics classroom/laboratory. The graduate school offers the master of science and doctor of philosophy degrees in physics.

Concentrations

Major in Physics [BA]

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Major Code: PHYSICS</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Degree Awarded: BA</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>
Hours to complete: 44 - 48
Required courses: 11-12

Requirements: The BA program offers a core physics curriculum at a less rigorous level than the BS and BS Applied programs. All the physics major programs would be well suited for students preparing to enter medicine, dentistry, law, business, secondary school teaching, and multidisciplinary fields of science and mathematics. However, the BA programs have fewer course requirements and require less advanced mathematics, which can facilitate for the completion of a physics major when the full BS degrees requirements do not fit a students schedule or interest.

Required: Physics 151, 152, 211, 253, 254 (or 361 and 365), four four-hour physics courses approved by the departmental adviser, and Mathematics 111 and 112.

Minor in Physics

Minor Code: PHYSICSMIN
Degree Awarded: None
Hours to complete: 20
Required courses: 5

Requirements: Courses required for the minor in physics include Physics 151 and 152 or 141 and 142, and Physics 253. In addition to these courses, students must complete at least eight more credit hours of physics electives, with at least four of the hours at the 200 level or higher.

Honors Program:
See “Honors Program” under the curriculum section of the catalog and consult the department for further details.

Chapters of Sigma Pi Sigma, the national physics honor society, and the Society of Physics Students offer recognition and sponsored activities.

For more information, see Honors Program.

Study Abroad:
Several students each year participate in study abroad programs, typically for one semester. The Director of Undergraduate Studies works with students to fit such programs into their four-year-plan.
For more information, see Study Abroad.

Advising:
For advising, set up an appointment with the Director of Undergraduate Studies. You do not need to be majoring or minoring in physics to meet with the DUS.

Political Science Department

The Department offers two distinct majors: Political Science and International Studies. Political Science fields of study include American government and politics, international relations, political philosophy, and comparative politics. The interdisciplinary concentration that is International Studies provides a broad background in foreign language and culture, politics, history, and economics and may appeal to students interested in journalism, teaching, international business, or government service. For information on preparation for law school, consult the Emory Career Center.

Concentrations

Major in Political Science

Major Code: POLISCI
Degree Awarded: BA
Hours to complete: 36
Required courses: 11

Requirements: Political Science majors must complete at least 11 courses (36 semester hours) from departmental offerings or from courses of study approved by the department. These courses must include the following:

- POLS 100: National Politics in the United States (preferably by the end of the fifth semester) [3 hours]
- POLS 208: Political Science Methods (preferably during the freshman or sophomore year) [4 credits]
- One course from each of the four major fields: American; International, Comparative and Theory. The International sub-field will be satisfied only by POLS 110 [4 credits]. The Comparative sub-field will be satisfied only by POLS 120 [4 credits]
- At least five elective courses chosen from among departmental offerings
- A minimum of seven courses which must be taken at Emory University or Oxford College. Political Science majors may get credit for up to four courses taken outside of Emory (AP classes, study abroad programs, Bard Globalization and International Affairs & Washington Semester Programs, transfer and transient credits) that have been approved by the department. Use of AP Comparative credit requires submission of the AP syllabus for review and approval by the Director of Undergraduate Studies

Additional Requirements and Procedures

1. Students may not double major in Political Science and International Studies; nor may a student major in International Studies and minor in Political Science.

2. Students wishing to apply AP credit towards the comparative politics requirement must supply a syllabus of the Advanced Placement class to Tarbutton Hall, Room 327 for review by the appropriate faculty member.

3. No courses taken pass/fail (S/U) may count toward the major. This means that courses taken abroad in non-Emory approved programs, which as such receive only S/U grades, cannot count toward the major. The only exception is the Washington Semester Program or the Bard International Affairs and Globalization Program. Students may use up to eight hours (or two courses) of Washington Semester credit or Bard credit as elective credit towards the Political Science Major.

4. No more than four 100-level courses may be used to satisfy the major.

5. No more than four hours of internship credit may be used to satisfy the major.

6. Major status does not guarantee enrollment in any particular course. Some classes may require course prerequisites or other requirements for enrollment.

7. POLS 100 does not fulfill the American Politics Requirement.

Minor in Political Science

Minor Code: POLISCIMIN
Degree Awarded: None
Hours to complete: 23
Required courses: 7

Requirements: The minor concentration in Political Science comprises twenty-three (23) semester hours (7 courses). Students who minor in political science must complete:

- POLS 100 National Politics in the United States [3 hours]
- One course in International Politics which will be POLS 110 [4 hours]
- One course in Comparative Politics which will be POLS 120 [4 hours]
- One course in Political Theory
- Three elective courses at the Junior/Senior level (300 level or above)

Students who declare a minor concentration in Political Science will not be assigned an advisor. Students who require advising should consult with the Director of Undergraduate Studies.

Additional Requirements and Procedures

- 4 hours of elective credit can be satisfied with an internship course (POLS 496)
- POLS 497 credit (Directed Study) may not be used to fulfill any of the requirements for the minor
- No classes may be taken S/U for the minor
- No more than two courses may be satisfied with courses taken "away" from Emory- this includes but is not limited to: Study Abroad credit, Transient study, Washington Semester or The Bard Globalization International Affairs Program and Transfer Credit
- Students may use AP/IB credit to waive POLS 100. No additional elective is required to be added to the minor as a result of this equivalent credit use.
- Minor status does not guarantee enrollment in any particular course. Some classes may require course prerequisites or other requirements for enrollment.

Programs

Honors Program:

See “Honors Program” under the curriculum section of the catalog and consult the department for further details.

Outstanding students majoring in political science or international studies are invited by the department in the spring semester of their junior year to submit materials for consideration for the political science honors program the following year. Invitations are extended to students selected from this group. The program is a yearlong curriculum in which students successfully complete a political science graduate or senior seminar, conduct original research on a topic of their own choosing, and write an honors thesis under the direction of a political science faculty member. Honors students also must enroll in the honors tutorial seminar in the fall semester. Consult the department or director of undergraduate studies for more details.

For more information, see Honors Program.

Study Abroad:
The Department strongly encourages its majors to consider studying abroad at some point in their studies. For specifics, consult CIPA and the director of undergraduate studies.

For more information, see Study Abroad.

Advising:
Students who declare a major are assigned a faculty advisor in the department who may be consulted on any matter pertaining to a student's progress. It is the student's responsibility to seek out his or her advisor as needed in the course of the academic year.

Language Study:

The International Studies major requires two years of college-level study of a modern foreign language, or the equivalent.

Internship:

Students who have sufficient background in political science courses are eligible to apply for government/political internships approved by the Department of Political Science. Students have served as interns in the White House; the offices of members of Congress, governors, and lieutenant-governors; in state legislatures; and in other state, county, and city offices. Students also may serve as interns in programs at The Carter Center. Students may earn up to twelve semester hours of political science internship credit, but a maximum of four semester hours may be used to satisfy the requirements of the political science major and a maximum of four semester hours may be used to satisfy the requirements of the international studies major.

Awards and Honors:

Outstanding students majoring in political science and international studies are invited by the department to join Pi Sigma Alpha, the national political science honor society. In addition, the Elliott Levitas Award for outstanding accomplishment in political science is presented annually to a senior major who exemplifies excellence in political science or international studies.

Psychology Department

The Department of Psychology emphasizes the scientific study of behavior. The major offers students a balanced curriculum in experimental, social/personality/clinical, neuroscience/animal behavior, and cognitive/developmental areas. Faculty members are actively engaged in teaching, and they conduct research that addresses important questions with state-of-the-art methods. Opportunities for independent study and research projects under faculty guidance are readily available.

Major in Psychology

- Major Code: PSYCH
- Degree Awarded: BA
- Hours to complete: 39
- Required courses: 12
Emory’s Department of Psychology is well known for its preparation of undergraduate students and for its graduate programs in clinical psychology, cognition and development, and neuroscience and animal behavior. Faculty members are actively engaged in teaching, and they conduct research that addresses important questions with state-of-the-art methods. Opportunities for independent study and research projects under faculty guidance available. The BA program in psychology consists of a minimum of eleven psychology courses (thirty-six hours) to include the following: I. Four foundation courses – All foundation courses must be completed no later than the end of the first semester of the senior year.

A. Fundamentals of Psychology as a Behavioral Science

Introduction to Psychology—Psychology 110 and 111 Students must complete a two-semester introductory sequence in psychology—Psychology 110, Introduction to Psychology I: Psychobiology and Cognition, and Psychology 111, Introduction to Psychology II: Development, Social Behavior, and Individual Differences. These courses provide all majors with a general orientation to the methods, content areas, and central findings of psychology. We recommend that they be taken before any other psychology course. Students who have received AP credit from the college by scoring a 4 or 5 on the advanced placement test in psychology will be exempted from Psychology 111. These students must take an additional elective course to replace Psychology 111, and must take Psychology 110 to complete the introductory requirement. Students who completed a one-semester introductory psychology course will receive credit for Psychology 111, and must take Psychology 110 to complete the introductory requirement.

B. Psychological Inquiry Sequence Quantitative Theory and Methods (QTM) 100 and Psychology 200WR may not be taken concurrently. Students must complete the psychological inquiry sequence no later than the end of the first semester of the senior year.

1. Introduction to Statistical Inference – QTM 100 Because adequate understanding of original source material in psychology is impossible without basic statistical literacy, students are required to take a course in statistics. Psychology majors must meet this requirement by taking the QTM 100 statistics course offered by the Institute for Quantitative Theory and Methods.

2. Laboratory Methods—Psychology 200WR This course provides students with a basic understanding of methods in psychology through conducting studies and evaluating published research. Introduction to Statistical Methods (QTM 100) is a prerequisite and therefore must be completed prior to this course.

II. Three Breadth Courses

The purpose of the breadth requirement is to ensure that all majors acquire systematic knowledge in the chief subfields of psychology. All majors must take at least one of the courses listed for each of the following three areas:

Programs

Honors Program:

The Honors Program is an Emory College program intended to give a highly qualified group of students more extensive experience in conducting behavioral research. Students with an overall average of at least 3.5 in the first three years and with at least a 3.5 in the major subject will automatically be notified in the Spring of their junior year that they are eligible to participate, and will be invited to a meeting which will fully explain the program.

During the senior year, each Honors student in Psychology conducts an independent research project. In concert with a faculty advisor from the Psychology Department, the student collects and analyzes data, prepares an Honors thesis based on the data, and defends the thesis in front of a committee of three faculty members. This committee recommends Honors, High Honors, or Highest Honors to be granted to the student’s degree. During Commencement weekend, Honors students will participate in a college-wide Honors ceremony.

Students must arrange to work with a faculty advisor before the beginning of their senior year. Normally, an arrangement should be reached before the end of the student's junior year. Faculty members almost always give preference to students whom they know - either from volunteer work in their laboratory or from a small class. Students who think they may be eligible and interested in the Honors Program are therefore encouraged to get to know a faculty member during their sophomore and junior years. Volunteering in a professor's laboratory also assists students in making more informed decisions about whether or not to participate in Honors.

Honors students must have completed the Statistics and Laboratory Methods classes by the end of their junior year. In the fall of their senior year, Honors students enroll in Psychology 495A, and receive 4 hours of credit for participating in this weekly class. In the spring, they may receive variable credit under Psyc 495BWR for continuing work on their Honors project. Honors students are also required to take a graduate level course in Psychology during their senior year.

For more information, see Honors Program.

Study Abroad:
Emory students may choose to take a semester abroad through programs approved by CIPA (Center for International Programs Abroad). Students considering studying abroad should contact the CIPA office (7-2240) for a list of Emory and non-Emory programs. In some cases, it may be possible for psychology courses taken through one of these programs to be included in the ten courses required for the major. Students should understand that it may not be possible to take courses toward the major while abroad depending on the courses that are offered by the host institution. Acceptance by CIPA into a study abroad program does not guarantee that appropriate courses will be available in the major. Courses taken abroad through Emory and non-Emory programs will not automatically count toward the major. Courses must be approved in writing before the student goes abroad and returning students must bring back a syllabus for the course as well as additional supporting evidence, including textbooks or readings used, papers written or copies of exams.

For more information, see Study Abroad.

Advising:

A/P Credit:

Students who received a score of 4 or 5 on the AP Examination in Psychology will be granted an exemption from PSYC 111. The student will still be required to complete 10 additional courses in the major, including the first half of the Introductory Requirement, PSYC 110.

Transfer Credit:

Students who took a one-semester Intro course at another college will probably receive credit for PSYC 111. The student will be required to take 9 additional courses in the major, including the first half of the Introductory Requirement, PSYC 110. Students may transfer no more than four (4) psychology courses to the Emory undergraduate major.

Course Time Table:

Both PSYC 110 and 111 must be completed by the end of the junior year.

Psyc 230 must be completed by the end of the junior year.

Psyc 200 must be completed by the end of the first semester of the senior year; this course may not be taken in the semester the student plans to graduate.

Internship:

The Psychology Department does not offer internships, nor does it give academic credit for internships completed elsewhere.

Awards and Honors:

Membership in Psi Chi, the National Honor Society in Psychology, is open to students studying psychology who meet the minimum qualifications. Emory’s chapter of Psi Chi is operated by student officers and a faculty advisor. Eligible students are invited to membership during the fall and spring semesters. Throughout the year, Psi Chi offers programs, speakers and workshops on topics of interest to Psychology majors which are open to all interested students.
Institute for Quantitative Theory and Methods

The Institute for Quantitative Theory and Methods is committed to promoting quantitative training in undergraduate education. QuanTM is focused on engaging Emory's undergraduate students with a number of initiatives, as well as engaging high school students interested in future quantitative study. QuanTM currently offers a new college-wide instructional resources in quantitative methodology and an undergraduate research fellows program.

The Institute also offers a number of programs designed to support faculty and graduate students interested in quantitative theory and methodology. Each year the Institute supports several visiting pre- and post-doctoral fellowships. For faculty interested in developing quantitative skills, QuanTM also offers a competitive skill-building leave program. Finally, faculty and graduate students in need of statistical consulting are welcome to use QuanTM's statistics help desk.

Course Description: Introduces students to the style of analytical thinking required for research in the social sciences, the concepts and procedures used in the conduct of empirical research, and the use of computers for analysis of quantitative social science data.

Contact Hour Information
- Course Type: Lecture
- Weekly Contact Minutes: 150

QTM 120: Math for Social Sciences:

General Information
- Credit Hours: 3
- GERs: None

Course Description:
Teaching the necessary mathematical background for students to properly derive and implement common statistical modeling techniques employed in the social sciences. Covers core concepts of linear algebra and multivariable calculus, which are necessary skills for social science research.

Contact Hour Information
- Course Type: Lecture
- Weekly Contact Minutes: 150

QTM 130: Probability and Statistics:

General Information
- Credit Hours: 3
- GERs: None

Course Description:
Covers the structure of probability theory. Discusses the commonly encountered probability distributions, both discrete and continuous. Considers random sampling from the population, and the distribution of some sample statistics. Discusses the problem of estimation, and hypothesis testing.

Religion Department

The study of religion is among the oldest pursuits in human intellectual history. Each of the world’s living religions has a long and rich history of scholarship on its sacred texts and interpretive traditions. The curriculum in the Department of Religion involves a dynamic combination of traditional textual study, ethnographic engagement, historical reflection, and theory-practice learning. Courses are designed to introduce students to the origins and historical developments of ancient religious systems as well as the living religions of the world. Equally important, courses in the department and related programs provide a context for stepping back from the "inside" of a particular religion in order to study aspects of religion comparatively and thematically across traditions (e.g., religion in public life, religion and gender, religion and culture, religion and conflict). Religion majors and minors include students seeking careers in medicine, law, and the sciences, as well as those whose interests lie more in the humanities and liberal arts.

Faculty in the Department of Religion are deeply committed to interdisciplinary work and thinking, and expect the same of their students. Many of our faculty members co-teach their courses with faculty in other disciplines in order to enliven their thinking about a particular topic. Faculty are also engaged in the Emory community, working on educational and scholarly projects with student groups. Faculty have designed student internships with the religious communities of Atlanta, and field trips and site visits are a regular component of many Emory religion classes. We are also an intentionally pluralist community--with no single "majority" of scholars studying one particular religious tradition or using one particular method of study. Faculty numbers are equally strong in Christianity, Judaism, Islam, Hinduism, Buddhism, and American studies. There is growing strength in African American religions, as well as ethnography of religions and the study of comparative sacred texts. Thanks to the high engagement of faculty in interdisciplinary work, the department now is participating in several University initiatives in contemplative studies; religion and conflict; religion and health; religion and sexuality; and religion and the arts. Students are highly encouraged to take part in these initiatives. More than half the faculty members have been recognized for excellence in teaching. The department also hosts fifteen associated faculty from other departments, including History, Classics, Political Science, Art History, Philosophy, Women's Studies, and Middle Eastern and South Asian Studies. The Graduate Division of Religion, the Institute of the Liberal Arts, Candler School of Theology, the Marial Center (Myth and Ritual in American Life), The Carter Center, The Center for Law and Religion, and the American Academy of Religion at Emory University enrich the academic environment and provide additional faculty resources for undergraduate students of religion. The department also has important connections with centers of learning from within the religious traditions, such as the Aquinas Center for Catholic Studies, the Drepung Loseling Institute for Buddhist Studies, and the Jewish Community Center of Atlanta.

Concentrations

Major in Religion

| Major Code: | REL |
| Degree Awarded: | BA |
| Hours to complete: | 35 - 40 |
| Required courses: | 11 |
Requirements: The major in Religion requires a minimum of thirty-five hours (eleven courses), one of which may be taken in a cognate discipline. It is important for the student to work closely with an adviser in choosing a course of study, which may include, for example, an emphasis in a particular religious tradition or a thematic emphasis such as religion and conflict, religion and ethics, religion and gender, ritual and performance studies, classical texts and religious thought, or comparative sacred texts.

The major requires:

(1) One Introductory or Survey Course: Religion 100, 150, 211 or 212
(2) Religion 300: Interpreting Religion
(3) Two tradition-specific courses, each in a different religious tradition, with approval of adviser
(4) Six electives, three of which must be 300 level or above, and one may be from a cognate discipline (in consultation with your adviser)
(5) Religion 490W: Senior Symposium

All courses taken towards the major must be taken for a letter grade.

Minor in Religion

Minor Code: RELMIN
Degree Awarded: None
Hours to complete: 18
Required courses: 6

Requirements: Students must complete at least 18 hours (six courses) in the Department of Religion to fulfill a minor in Religion. Two of the six courses for the minor must be at the 300 level or above. Students who minor in Religion may consult the director of undergraduate studies or a faculty member in the department for advice on selection of courses for their program. All courses counting toward the minor must be taken for a letter grade.

Course Description: For more than two thousand years, a small set of texts associated with Confucius (551-479 BC) and his disciples formed the core of the Chinese educational curriculum. As a store of knowledge shared by all educated men and women, Confucian Classics shaped Chinese literati culture from late antiquity to the early 20th century. The goal of this course is to illustrate the diversity of the literary and cultural practices that evolved around this unique body of writings. The course is roughly divided into two parts. First, we will attempt to establish a framework for understanding the textual history and changing significance of the Classics throughout the premodern era. Drawing on a broad selection of primary sources (to be read in English translation), we will then examine how the canonized ideas were refracted in literary, philosophical, religious, and political discourse.

Programs
Honors Program:
See “Honors Program” under the curriculum section of the catalog and consult the department for further details.

The Honors Program affords students the opportunity for long-term, in-depth research on a topic of their interest. Together with a faculty adviser, students plan a rigorous program of scholarly reading and writing. Topics have ranged from historical analysis and textual exegesis to theological treatises and ethnographic studies. Students with a cumulative average of 3.50 at the end of their first three years of study are eligible and may be invited by the Department of Religion to participate in the Honors Program. In consultation with a departmental faculty director, students will choose two additional faculty members to serve on their honors committee. The honors committee must include one member from outside the Department of Religion and, in the case of joint majors, the committee must include one faculty member from outside both departments. A minimum of two successive semesters of Honors Directed Reading (REL 495R) is required for the honors degree. The department strongly encourages the student to find and take a graduate seminar related to the honors topic. Successful honors candidates are awarded the degree with honors, high honors, or highest honors. The Department of Religion hosts a chapter of Theta Alpha Kappa, the national religious studies honor society. Local membership is determined by grade average and class standing as set forth by the national council.

For more information, see Honors Program.

Study Abroad: For more information, see Study Abroad.

Awards and Honors:

The department’s prizes and awards include the William A. Beardslee Prize in Religious Literature for the best paper on religion submitted in a course offered by Emory College; the Vadadadi R. Rao Prize for overall excellence in the field of religion, limited to department majors; and the John Fenton Prizes in the Comparative Study of Religion for undergraduate and graduate student scholarship in the comparative study of religion.

Russian and East Asian Languages and Cultures (Chinese, Japanese, Korean, Russian, Tibetan)

The Department of Russian and East Asian Languages and Cultures (REALC) is an interdisciplinary department dedicated to the study of languages and cultures in the geographic continuum from Eastern Europe through Eastern Asia. Our four concentrations are on the Russian Federation, the largest country spatially on the globe; China, the most populous country; Japan, the world's second-largest economy; and Korea, one of the world's fastest growing economies. The region covered by REALC plays an increasingly critical role in global dynamics, and the department's goal is to prepare students for the complex realities of the twenty-first century. Departmental offerings bridge East and West, and include the study of the languages, linguistics, and cultures of the region; and the interrelationship of its literatures to the other arts, philosophy, religion, and the social sciences. We offer introductory through advanced classes in Russian, Chinese, Japanese, and Korean language as well as an array of courses taught in English to address the interests of a broader student audience. While REALC courses focus on some of the oldest civilizations in the world, the department houses classroom facilities that are equipped with the latest technology. Instructors make use of a range of media such as real-time television... broadcasts from abroad, the Internet, and videoconferencing. This enables REALC to host interactive exchange with students and scholars in Russia and East Asia. The department sponsors various exciting and challenging study abroad programs, and special internship opportunities both overseas and in the Atlanta area. A wide variety of films, guest speakers, and special cultural events accompany our course work. REALC participates in the interdepartmental Center for Russian and East European Studies (REES) and the East Asian Studies Program (EASP), and also collaborates extensively with other departments and programs, including Linguistics, Comparative Literature, Art History, Film Studies, the Institute of Liberal Arts, Women’s Studies, Theater, Music, History, and Religion. REALC courses are recommended for majors in the humanities as well as for students interested in developing a base upon which to understand international and global issues, Pacific Rim studies, and East-West relations. As dynamics become more internationalized and globalized, employers increasingly consider foreign language and experience of other cultures to be distinctive assets. REALC courses and programs offer structured, supportive opportunities for students to acquire such skills. Students with a background in Russian and East Asian languages and cultures go on to international careers, to graduate studies, or to programs in law, business, public health, or medicine. Because new courses continually are being added, please check the departmental website (www.realc.emory.edu) or call the department at 404.727.6427 for updated offerings. Also, students should contact the department for updated information about major and minor requirements and study abroad opportunities.

EAS 274: Foreigners in Imperial China:

General Information
- Credit Hours: 3
- GERs: HSC
Course Description: Far from being a closed empire encircled by an impenetrable Great Wall, China was always integrated in global circulations of goods, knowledge, and people. Foreigners were a constant presence in the Middle Kingdom throughout its history, even if they were not welcomed by everyone and at all times. In this seminar we will follow the trails and travails of men and women from Europe, Asia, and America, who fell prey to the lure of Cathay in their searches for riches, influence, employment, adventure, or spiritual gratification. Our aim is to explore not only the changing fortunes of individual travelers but also to examine the historical origins of many of the ideas that continue to shape our understanding of Chinese civilization.

Course Description: Though Japanese women produced much of the great literature of the classical period (ca. 1000), literary production by women subsequently dwindled, to gain new life only in the modern era. This course familiarizes students with the multiplicity of the female voices that (re-)emerged in Japanese literature from the Meiji period (beginning 1868) to the late twentieth century. Texts are in English translation.

Course Description: For more than two thousand years, a small set of texts associated with Confucius (551-479 BC) and his disciples formed the core of the Chinese educational curriculum. As a store of knowledge shared by all educated men and women, Confucian Classics shaped Chinese literati culture from late antiquity to the early 20th century. The goal of this course is to illustrate the diversity of the literary and cultural practices that evolved around this unique body of writings. The course is roughly divided into two parts. First, we will attempt to establish a framework for understanding the textual history and changing significance of the Classics throughout the premodern era. Drawing on a broad selection of primary sources (to be read in English translation), we will then examine how the canonized ideas were refracted in literary, philosophical, religious, and political discourse.

Course Description: For more than two thousand years, a small set of texts associated with Confucius (551-479 BC) and his disciples formed the core of the Chinese educational curriculum. As a store of knowledge shared by all educated men and women, Confucian Classics shaped Chinese literati culture from late antiquity to the early 20th century. The goal of this course is to illustrate the diversity of the literary and cultural practices that evolved around this unique body of writings. The course is roughly divided into two parts. First, we will attempt to establish a framework for understanding the textual history and changing significance of the Classics throughout the premodern era. Drawing on a broad selection of primary sources (to be read in English translation), we will then examine how the canonized ideas were refracted in literary, philosophical, religious, and political discourse.

CHN 403: Intro to Classical Chinese:

General Information

Credit Hours: 3
GERs: HAL

Course Description: For more than three thousand years, down to the early twentieth century, the vast majority of Chinese historical, philosophical, and literary texts were written in classical (or literary) Chinese (wenyan). Literature in Classical Chinese is an important part of cultural heritage of all humankind. This course is designed for students who have taken at least two years of Modern Chinese and are curious about the Chinese literary heritage. Students read selections of famous classical texts in their original language, such as Confucius’ Analects, Laozi, early histories, and Tang poetry; and acquire basic knowledge of Classical Chinese grammar and lexicon.

Programs

Honors Program:
See “Honors Program” under the curriculum section of the catalog and consult the department for further details.

In addition to the College requirements for eligibility, students must maintain a 3.5 grade point average in course work in REALC and demonstrate linguistic ability (to be determined by a reading exam) to conduct research in primary sources. Eligible students will select a thesis adviser approved by the department's honor adviser. To complete the Honors program in Chinese the student will enroll in a two-semester Honors course, CHN 495A and CHN 495B/WR, for eight credits. The fall semester will be spent exploring issues and research materials for the Honors thesis. In spring, upon approval of the thesis advisor, students will be expected to write the thesis. With the approval of the Honors advisor students are expected to enroll in a senior seminar course in either REALC or another appropriate department that would complement and support the thesis. Each thesis must be completed in the spring and defended before a committee consisting of the student's advisor, faculty member(s) from REALC and one faculty member from outside the department and approved by the Honors advisor.

Outstanding students majoring in Japanese may apply to participate in the Honors Program. To be eligible, students must maintain a 3.5 grade point average in their REALC course work. Eligible students will select a thesis adviser approved by the program's honors adviser. Honors students are required to enroll in a two-semester honors course, JPN 495A and JPN 495B/WR for eight credits. The fall semester course helps students prepare to write their theses, which they complete in the spring semester. The thesis must be defended before a committee consisting of the student's advisor, faculty member(s) from REALC and one faculty member from outside the department as approved by the Honors Advisor.

Russian and East European Studies
The Center for Russian and East European Studies (REES) seeks to broaden knowledge about the former USSR and Eastern Europe through multi- and inter-disciplinary programming for the Emory academic community, teachers and faculty at other educational institutions, and the general public.

Concentrations

Major in Russian and East European Studies

Major Code: REESBA
Degree Awarded: BA
Hours to complete: 36
Required courses: 10

Requirements: Emory’s Russian, East European, and Eurasian Studies Program (REES) stimulates and enhances education and research about the former Soviet Union, Eastern and Central Europe and Eurasia – a global area that defines the pivotal crossroads between the West and the East. A complex and richly textured array of cultures and peoples, the area of Russia, East Europe, and Eurasia has been the site of numerous political, economic, and geographic changes, particularly since the collapse of the Soviet Union. The REES major is designed for students interested in a multi-and inter-disciplinary understanding of this global region, and includes courses in politics, law, film, language, and other related disciplines.
The credits will be distributed as follows:

- Two full-year courses (16 credits minimum) in Russian or other languages in our global area. Up to 8 language credits from approved study abroad programs can be applied. All course progressions must be approved by the department
- REES 200 or RUSS 270 or equivalent (3 credits minimum)
- 4 approved courses (14 credits minimum) in area studies from at least two departments represented in REES
- A capstone seminar (3 or 4 credits) offered by RUSS/REES program (300 or 400-level course) approved by REES advisor

Minor in Russian and East European Studies

Minor Code: REESMIN
Degree Awarded: None
Hours to complete: 28
Required courses: 8

Requirements: 4 courses (16 credits minimum) in Russian or other languages in our global area. All course progressions must be approved by the program advisor. No more than 8 language credits from approved study abroad programs may be applied.

- REES 200 or RUSS 270 or equivalent (3 credits minimum)
- 3 approved courses (9-12 credits minimum) in area studies from at least two departments, represented by REES

Sociology Department

Students of sociology learn to evaluate and explain the complex interactions among people and societies; thus, sociology is an integral part of a liberal arts education. At Emory, the study of sociology covers a wide range of topics, including the study of small group interaction; the study of institutions (education, media industries, the criminal justice system, health care systems); the study of social inequality; the relationship between culture and society; and the comparative study of different societies. Students also are trained in the social research process (different methods of data gathering and analysis) to further their examination of social problems. Emory sociology majors have the opportunity to learn by doing as well as by studying, and several courses offer the opportunity for hands on research.

Concentrations

Major in Sociology

| Major Code: | SOC |
| Degree Awarded: | BA |
| Hours to complete: | 38 |
| Required courses: | 12 |

Programs

Honors Program:

To be eligible to apply for the honors program the following qualifications need to be met:

1. An overall GPA of at least 3.5 after fall semester of junior year.
2. A sociology major GPA of at least 3.7 after fall semester of junior year.
3. Maintain these GPA minimums spring semester of junior year; any acceptance to the program will be contingent on spring grades.

At the beginning of the spring semester of the junior year, eligible students (i.e., those with sufficiently high GPAs overall and within the major) are contacted and informed about the application process for the honors program.

The application process includes:

- Prior to submitting an application, students must meet with the Director of Undergraduate Studies (Dr. Tracy Scott). Please set up an appointment early spring semester if you are interested in applying.
- The application materials must be submitted by February 15 of the junior year.
- The Application materials include:

  1. Statement of Research Interest (1-2 pages): Students should describe their potential topic area for the honors thesis. Students should discuss potential research questions, ideas about methods, and the empirical data they might use for their research.
  2. Proof of at least one class taken in the thesis topic area of interest (e.g., gender; race/ethnicity; culture; globalization).
  3. The names of 2 or 3 potential faculty honors advisors who know the student’s work, and/or who teach/conduct research in the student’s area of interest. The student SHOULD NOT submit letters of recommendation.

The Sociology Department faculty will review the applications and select the participants for the Honors Program. Only students who submit these application materials will be eligible for consideration.

See “Honors Program” under the curriculum section of the catalog and consult the Director of Undergraduate Studies in Sociology (Dr. Tracy Scott) for further details.

For more information, see Honors Program.

Study Abroad:

SOC 390: Health Care/Society Seminar. The Department of Sociology offers a six-week program in London focusing on issues and problems in health care delivery in Great Britain and the United States. Emphasis is on the comparative social organization of the two systems, contrasting the evolution and current state of the two health care systems. The program includes seminars with British professors; a short internship experience in a healthcare setting; and a survey research project.

For more information, see Study Abroad.

Advising:
To declare a major or minor in sociology, please see Neema Oliver in the Sociology Department Office, 225 Tarbutton Hall, to complete paperwork.

Neema Oliver will review the sociology requirements, sociology opportunities, and assign students to a regular faculty adviser. Faculty advisers will be your main source of information about the program, course planning, and career options.

All minors are advised by Dr. Tracy Scott, the Director of Undergraduate Studies in Sociology.

Internship:

An internship in sociology consists of supervised work in a social service agency or other type of organization. Students are responsible for locating and securing their own internship (please email the Sociology Internship Coordinator for a list of past sites if you are having trouble locating an appropriate internship). Your internship must be unpaid. Interns take part in a special seminar and receive academic credit (four to twelve hours for SOC 494R).

Awards and Honors:

Sociology majors can become members of Alpha Kappa Delta, the international sociology honors society. Eligible students are invited at the beginning of the spring term and are inducted in April. The eligibility requirements are:

- junior (or 3rd year) student majoring in sociology
- completion of at least 5 courses (20 hours) in sociology
- at least a 3.4 GPA overall
- at least a 3.6 GPA in sociology

In addition, the Department of Sociology annually recognizes an outstanding senior for distinguished undergraduate scholarship in sociology. This award is made possible by a gift from the Sara Smith Sutker and Solomon Sutker Fund.

Spanish and Portuguese Department

The Department of Spanish and Portuguese offers instruction in the Spanish and Portuguese languages and in Luso-Hispanic cultures and literatures. The department offers a major and minor in Spanish and a minor in Portuguese. Courses are taught in Spanish or Portuguese, and classes are small so that students at all levels are given maximum opportunity to practice the language. Other opportunities to study Luso-Hispanic language and culture are also available through the department's study abroad programs and the Casa Hispana. Refer to the department website for more information.

Course Description: This course is a historical and cultural survey of the medieval Islamic West (the Maghrib) as a single cultural unit, comprising Muslim Spain (al-Andalus), North Africa, and Sicily. The course covers cultural and religious interactions between indigenous peoples and Arab Muslims, critically examining the notion of Convivencia (co-existence) as theorized by modern Spanish and North African historians. The course also includes discussions of material culture, music, and poetry.

Programs

Honors Program:
Advanced majors with a 3.5 GPA may apply to the Honors Program in Spanish during their junior year. If accepted by the Department, they spend their senior year enrolled in Spanish 495A in the fall and in Spanish 495B WR in the spring. For more information, see Honors Program.

Study Abroad:
The department strongly encourages students to live and study in Spanish- or Portuguese-speaking countries. Students may receive credit toward the major or minor in Spanish for up to twelve credit hours (three courses) taken in an approved program of study abroad, and credit toward the Portuguese minor for up to eight credit hours (two courses) taken in approved study abroad programs. These credit limits do not apply to Emory courses taught abroad or courses taught by Emory faculty. Emory University administers its own fall and spring semester programs in Salamanca, Spain, and participates in a consortium of universities to offer additional semester study programs in Latin America (Chile, Argentina, Bolivia, Ecuador, Costa Rica, and Mexico). Emory also administers summer programs in Salamanca, Buenos Aires, and Rio de Janeiro. The summer program in Salamanca includes course components taught on a rotating basis in a number of cities around the Iberian peninsula, including Valencia, Seville, and Barcelona. For more information, see Study Abroad.

Advising:
Once students declare a major in Spanish, they are assigned an adviser in the department. Minors in Spanish are advised by the DUS. Minors in Portuguese are advised by the Director of the Portuguese program.

Language Study:
The department works to ensure that students enter the program at the appropriate level. Initial placement is based on the department’s assessment of various factors: results of the online Spanish Placement Exam, results of the Spanish AP exams (if applicable), number of years of study in high school, amount of time since last studies were completed, study abroad experience, and previous contact with Spanish speakers. All students who wish to study Spanish at Emory, including native speakers as well as speakers with no previous experience, are required to take the online Spanish Placement Exam (accessible at http://www.spanish.emory.edu/) and to complete the accompanying questionnaire before enrolling in the first Spanish course in the department. After reviewing this and other information, the department emails an official placement to each student at their Learnlink account. Students should not enroll until receiving an official placement. During the first week of classes, instructors confirm that students are accurately placed, or recommend that they be transferred to a more appropriate class.

Internship:
The department offers Span 314, Internship in Spanish, for variable credit. The internship is an opportunity for applied learning in a supervised Spanish-speaking work or volunteer environment.

Awards and Honors:
Sigma chapter of Phi Sigma Iota, the national Romance language honor society, was installed at Emory in 1930. This society recognizes those students who have completed work in foreign language courses with a 3.7 GPA.

The department also offers awards for writing (Carlos Rojas Award for Excellence in Writing), service (Award for Excellence in Community Engagement) and overall excellence (Emilia Navarro Award for Excellence in Spanish).

Additionally, the department nominates students for the Emory College Language Center’s Awards in Spanish and Portuguese.

Theater and Dance Department

Theater and Dance are among the richest and most rewarding of educational disciplines. They combine interests in creative arts, humanities, and social sciences. Through their integration of thinking and doing, of analysis and creative problem solving, they develop the mind, body, sensibility, and imagination. We offer a Theater Studies major and minor, a Dance major and minor, and a joint major in Playwriting with the Creative Writing Program. Each area has its own focus and requirements.

Theater Studies

Our course of study offers an excellent broad-based undergraduate education. A liberal arts education in theater not only challenges and develops the student in our discipline, but also offers practical preparation for a variety of careers, including law, business, medicine, education, and communications. Excellent teaching and mentoring are high priorities for the faculty and interactions occur in a variety of settings: small classes, individual consultations, master classes, rehearsals, and performances.

The major and minor require a study of the various subfields of the theater, with a strong core of dramatic literature. Advanced courses in all areas are available. Emory's unique combination of a liberal arts undergraduate program and a professional theater provide a strong and flexible training ground. All of this makes the study and practice of theater at Emory demanding, memorable, and rewarding.

The Dance Program

The Emory Dance Program provides a range of opportunities for students to experience dance, from performance and production to technique and theory. The mission of the Emory Dance Program is to provide a curriculum that interweaves both the practical and theoretical to foster students' creative, intellectual, and communicative powers in the field of dance. The Emory Dance Program emphasizes performance and choreography based on the primary tenets of modern dance, which value individualism, innovation, and interdisciplinary approaches to the arts.

The study of dance is perhaps the most unique and all-encompassing pursuit in the fine arts. It involves the total exploration of the self-emotional, intellectual, and kinesthetic. The program develops students' awareness and appreciation of movement in all its diverse forms and their ability to communicate through non-verbal expression. Dance develops insights into a broad range of studies; therefore it plays a viable role in the liberal arts education. Since dance is so multifaceted, it enhances the student's preparation for a variety of careers.

The Joint Major in Playwriting

The playwriting joint major brings together the disciplines of Theater Studies and Creative Writing in an innovative synthesis designed to educate playwrights both as writers and as theater professionals. A playwright must understand the workings of narrative and storytelling and have opportunities to develop dramatic, fully realized narratives. The playwright also needs a strong grounding in the literature and mechanics of theater and in the collaborative process, since these are the worlds he or she seeks to inhabit, and the instrument for which the playwright composes.

See "Honors Program" under the curriculum section of the catalog and consult either the Dance Office Manager, the Theater Studies Academic Degree Program Coordinator, or the Creative Writing Program Coordinator.

Interested students with the requisite GPA will identify a potential advisor and submit an Honors proposal in April of their junior year. The Academic Procedures Committee of the department or program makes the selection of the Honors participants.

Theater Studies

All Theater Studies Honors candidates will complete the Aesthetics and Criticism Senior Seminar (THEA 490WR) in the fall of their senior year and the Theater Studies Honors course (THEA 495R) in the spring of their senior year, culminating in the research project or paper that is the equivalent of a BA or BS thesis.

Playwriting

Interested Playwriting majors with the requisite GPA will submit their Honors proposal according to the Creative Writing guidelines, with an application deadline in March of their junior year. Selection of Playwriting Honors candidates is made by the Playwriting advisors in consultation with the Academic Procedures Committees in both Theater Studies and Creative Writing.

Creative Writing Honors Guidelines are available via this link.

Playwriting Honors candidates who have their application accepted are either enrolled in Honors in Playwriting (ENG or THEA 494RWR) both fall and spring semesters of their senior year, or complete the Aesthetics and Criticism Senior Seminar (THEA 490WR) in the fall semester and Honors in Playwriting in the spring.

Dance

For Dance Honors coursework information, please consult the Dance Program.

For information pertaining to Scholarly Inquiry and Research at Emory (SIRE) grants, see the Independent Study and Research section.

For more information, see Honors Program.

Study Abroad:
Study abroad programs and opportunities are developed and provided through Emory's Center for International Programs Abroad (CIPA).

Theater Studies has three approved study abroad opportunities:

The Accademia dell'Arte program in Arezzo, Italy, includes courses in Italian language and theater, design, scene painting, costume design, commedia/mask, commedia skills, voice and performance, and studio/production. This study abroad opportunity will fulfill one semester of the language requirement in Italian. Visit www.dell-arte.org for more information.

The London Academy of Music and Dramatic Art (LAMDA) is designed for performing arts majors and minors, providing students with conservatory theater training in acting. Training is based on three central elements: acting (including improvisation), movement (including movement theater, clown, and historic dance), and voice (including poetry, prose, solo and chorus singing). Visit http://www.lamda.org.uk for more information.

The British Studies Emory College Summer Program includes courses in Shakespeare and often, contemporary British Drama. The program includes visits to Stratford-upon-Avon, London, and the Oxford environs and has frequently included a special five-day trip to Scotland that visits cultural and historical venues in Edinburgh and St. Andrews.

For information on the Dance Program's study abroad opportunities, consult with the Dance Program faculty.

For more information, see Study Abroad.

Advising:

Each Theater Studies major and minor is assigned a mentor advisor--ideally this is a faculty member in the student's main area of interest--whom they have gotten to know through a class or a production.

Playwriting Majors are assigned an advisor from either the Creative Writing or Theater Studies faculty. Available advisors for Playwriting majors are identified by the Chair of Theater Studies and the Director of the Creative Writing Program.

For students involved with Theater Emory, Theater Studies often provides acting and/or vocal coaching to ensure the most meaningful experience possible. It is made clear to the professional artists involved in the productions that part of their role is to serve as models and mentors for the students.

All Dance majors and minors are assigned a faculty advisor to assist them in planning their course of study. Advisors also facilitate research projects, internships, and off-campus study opportunities.

Language Study:

The semester abroad program in Arezzo, Italy, fulfills one semester of the College language requirement in Italian.

Internship:
Theater, Dance, and Playwriting students may receive credit for approved internships with local organizations. Playwriting students may receive credit for approved internships either through the English Department or Theater Studies.

Dance, Theater, and Creative Writing faculty help students find appropriate internships for their skills and interests.

Students may receive credit for summer internships through the Emory University Summer Internship Program (EUSIP), a no-cost, non-residential program for either paid or unpaid internships. One credit that fulfills federal labor requirements may be earned through a non-tuition based course.

Awards and Honors:
Theater Honors and Prizes

The Alice N. Benston Award in Theater Studies is awarded annually by the departmental faculty to one or two graduating seniors or recent graduates who have shown exceptional dedication, promise, and intellectual rigor, to encourage their continuing education in theater.

The Friends of Theater at Emory Award annually recognizes students who have made outstanding contributions to Theater Emory.

The Fine Award honors a junior or senior major or minor in Theater Studies for outstanding acting.

The Brenda Bynum Theater at Emory Award is given to the student who has offered selfless and generous contributions of time, ability, and enthusiasm to the Theater @ Emory community, which includes the Theater Studies Department, Theater Emory, and Student Theater.

Dance Honors and Prizes

The Sally A. Radell Friends of Dance Summer Scholarship Program was established in 1996 to make summer dance study more accessible to Emory students. It enables dance majors and minors to study either in the United States or abroad with notable practicing artists, dance programs, and dance companies of their choice.

The Pioneer Award is given to a senior dance major or minor who is "breaking new ground." This award recognizes creative application and creative potential in the field of dance. It is defined by an in-depth investigation in technique, performance, choreography, or movement studies.

Playwriting Awards

The Creative Writing Program awards prizes in poetry, fiction, and drama, including the Artistine Mann Award in Playwriting. Students interested in submitting entries should watch for the contest announcements early in the spring semester or consult the department.

Other Arts Awards

Emory College of Arts and Sciences awards the Sudler Prize in the arts each year for outstanding student achievement in studio art, creative writing, dance, music, or theater. Students are nominated by the department and selected by the Sudler Committee.

The Woman's Club Arts Scholarship is an academic scholarship given to a student in dance, film, music, or theater studies. The award rotates among departments each year.

Visual Arts Department

The Visual Arts Department is the center for the study and practice of contemporary art. Approaching contemporary art as a cultural prism though which all manner of inquiries pass—literary and historical, scientific and social scientific, ethical and spiritual—the department supports creative work as a vital element of liberal arts education. A courageous willingness to engage significant issues through art and an insistence on the value of diverse intelligences—these are the touchstones of the department’s courses, exhibitions, lectures and related programming.
Visual arts courses are designed to encourage the beginning student to explore the creative experience of visual art in a variety of media and aesthetic concepts.

Located adjacent to the studio classrooms, the Emory Visual Arts Gallery exhibits five to seven contemporary art shows each year, including an annual student exhibition in April. The gallery is a place where innovative work is shown for the benefit of the university and the larger Atlanta community, with a particular interest in artists whose work may not be familiar to a regional audience. Our public programming also includes outstanding lectures, panels, and screenings by leading artists, curators, and scholars. Recent and upcoming solo exhibitions and lectures include presentations by Joel Leivick, Dawoud Bey, Ruth Dusseault, Martha Rosler, Eve Andrell Laramée, Radcliffe Bailey, Alice Aycock, Pat Ward Williams, and Janine Antoni, among many others, in addition to our own nationally distinguished faculty.

For more information, see Honors Program.

Internship:
Numerous internships are available to Visual Arts students, and these provide good employment experience in the student's area of interest. These internships include working for galleries, museums, arts centers, and arts publications throughout the world. In the Atlanta area there is an existing internship program between Emory and the Hambidge Center for Creative Arts & Sciences, as well opportunities to explore work experience through the Michael C. Carlos Museum, the High Museum of Art, the Museum of Contemporary Art of Georgia (MOCA GA) and the Atlanta Contemporary Art Center (The Contemporary). Students must consult with the internship adviser before scheduling an internship. Internships do not carry academic credit.

Women's, Gender and Sexuality Studies Department

Nationally and internationally women's studies has grown into an important and well-established field of academic inquiry. Women and gender are studied in relation to other important aspects of identity, including race, ethnicity, religion, class, disability, nationality, and sexuality. Women's, Gender and Sexuality Studies analyzes the ways in which social and institutional power is structured in part around social identities, and it examines the meanings attached to these identities through interdisciplinary lenses. This broader understanding has implications not only for what is studied but how it is studied. Emory scholars working in the study of women and gender reflect this development in their work, which covers a range of disciplinary and methodological approaches. The Emory Department of Women's, Gender and Sexuality Studies is proud to support a generous and pluralistic understanding of women’s studies in its work, and it has done so for over 20 years. It remains the only WGS Ph.D. program supported by a private institution.

Programs

Honors Program:
The honors program is a senior-year program for outstanding students with a G.P.A. of 3.5 or higher. Students selected for this program will take a graduate seminar in Women’s Studies or a related field, will complete an honors thesis and will defend that thesis in an oral examination. (Consult the Women’s Studies Department for further details at http://wgss.emory.edu/home/undergraduate/honors.html.)

For more information, see Honors Program.

Study Abroad: For more information, see Study Abroad.

Advising:
The advisor for students who declare a major or minor in women’s studies will be the director of undergraduate studies.

Awards and Honors:
Each year, up to 2 Outstanding Women’s Studies Student Awards are given to senior undergraduate majors or minors in Women’s Studies. These awards are presented in recognition for outstanding performances in women’s studies academics and leadership. Nominations are solicited from among the WS faculty and graduate instructors.
